Political Announcements FOR COMMISSIONER. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination to the office of County Commissioner, subject to the will of the Republicans of Morrow County, to be expressed at the Primaries in May, 1922. G. A. BLEAKMAN, Hardman, Ore. Paid Advertisement.

MEET A FRIEND OF YOURS, YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER. Some of the Things You Expect From It—And Some Things You Often Forget. The Real Cure for Retail Sales That Are Becoming Less Is More Ink—Much More. By REX GROVER WHITE, Editor Community News Service.

The local newspaper, like the local fire department, police department and board of health, is accepted as an institution by the American public, which must do its work, serve its interests, abuse danger, know no sleep, accept blame, be always polite. It is looked upon as an institution that must give its wares, i. e., its columns, upon the slightest pretext to the aid of any sort of movement having the slightest tinge of charity, civic advancement, or social welfare. In the same breath it is called upon to protect and destroy, to blow hot and cold, to uphold the courts and to watch them, to support church and

FOR REPRESENTATIVE. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination to the office of joint representative for Morrow and Umatilla counties in the Oregon Legislature, subject to the will of the Republicans of the two counties, to be expressed at the Primaries in May, 1922. J. PERRY CONDER, Heppner, Ore. Paid Advertisement.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Joint Representative of Umatilla and Morrow counties, on the Republican ticket. If elected I promise to faithfully and honestly perform the duties of the office, working at all times for the best interests of the people of this district and the state of Oregon. E. M. HULDEN. Paid Advertisement.

FOR JOINT REPRESENTATIVE. I hereby announce my candidacy on the Republican ticket for Joint Representative of the District of Morrow and Umatilla Counties in the May primaries. I have lived in Umatilla county 24 years and own property in both counties. I was a member of the 1919, or War Session, and the special session of 1920 of the Oregon Legislature and otherwise have devoted much time to public matters. I have no platform, except to offer the best judgment I have and to pursue a conservative and economic course. I believe in applying strict business methods to public matters. When we can pay for public development we should have betterments, but when taxes grow burdensome we must be content with the old ways until we can do better. Just now taxes must be trimmed wherever possible and no new appropriations made; and the pressing need of the farmer and stockman must be the main issue in law making and in the sphere of public influence. E. P. DODD, Hermiston, Ore. Paid Advertisement.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER. After being urged by citizens and taxpayers in all parts of the county to announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for County Commissioner, I have decided to do so and will be a candidate for such nomination on the Democratic ticket at the coming primaries. I have been a taxpayer here since before Morrow county was organized. I have no platform to announce nor promises to make only that, if elected, I will endeavor to serve the people of the county to the best of my ability. R. L. BENGE. Paid Advertisement.

liberalism, to befriend the helpless and uphold property rights, to be almighty right and to be super-human in its swift gathering and presentation of news. Liked the municipal departments mentioned it receives few thanks for doing its duty but bitter attacks for the errors that, being but of human energy, are sure to arise.

A MATTER OF TOIL. No one that has not been active in the making of a newspaper has even a faint idea of the toil and the energy, the sacrifice and the heart interest that goes into every issue of every daily paper in every city of America. Few have any idea of the enormous expense that must be met, of the problems that arise from a clear sky and must be settled without an instant's hesitation, might mean, whose wrong settlement might mean a fortune if not ruin. The daily paper is as near a living thing, pulsing, warm, keenly alive, as any man-made product can ever come, as delicate as a web and as strong as steel cable.

Expecting all things of his newspaper the local business man gives, as a rule, only what he must and the newspaper is yet to be published whose advertising department will fail to hear a grumble over its rates. The fact that there is not an immediate and tangible result from every insertion is the base for ceaseless mutterings and even advertisers of years whose whole business has risen to success through printer's ink are prone to belittle the part played by the local paper.

WHEN NEED ARISES. But should a matter arise wherein the business man feels the need of his paper, should his lodge or his club or his church desire to give an entertainment, should his telephone bill be too high, his street car too lacking in seats, his treatment by the corner policeman unkind, his milk too thin, his children too little taught in school, his political party too dormant—ah. Then he runs to his local paper for support, for aid and comfort. Then he demands—and receives—its most valued asset, its space.

"The public supports the paper, the paper owes the public space," he cries. But might he not remember it is the public that supports him and he would be aghast should the public come in and ask his goods from his shelf without pay, no matter how great the need or how fine the reason. The church does not ask him to give it pews or carpets, the politician pays for his banners, the lodge for its hall, the gas company for its pipes. A business depression settles down. The first to feel it is the newspaper, for the average business man, unless he is a skilled advertiser of long standing, cuts first at his advertising appropriation. In other words, he cuts away the greatest source of supply of life blood for his ailing business. If times are "hard," if money is scarce surely it is obvious that it will take more coaxing to draw it from its hiding places. In every other form of activity and industry the greater the problem the greater the energy expended to solve it. Why, then, does the average business man in times of depression when his sales are his greatest problem lower the energy of attack, withdraw his silent salesmen from the newspaper columns and sit back grumbling at the present, sobbing for the past and crying but a faint optimism for the future.

BUY MORE SPACE. A sick man takes medicine to make him well, a well man takes exercise to keep him well and to make him even stronger and a very sick man seeks the doctor, regardless of cost. A well business advertiser to make himself greater, a sick business continues to advertise until it gets very sick and then instead of calling in Dr. Widespread Publicity it demises even its assistants and wonders why it don't get well on general principles. Sometimes it does. Sometimes people recover from serious illness without medical aid or advice. But the chances are all on the side of the man who calls for understanding assistance.

The right sort of a newspaper is the best friend the American public ever had or ever will have; it is the greatest support and aid to America's business men they will ever know. The sympathy between the newspaper and the local paper should be as near perfect as it can be made and as long as each side asks for and expects only those things that a common justice allows the union will be a mutual support whose value is limitless.

Homey Philosophy or 1922. Doesn't it make you smile when you hear some irreligious smart Aleck laughing in his sleeves when he is told to have faith. He thinks he's wiser than the crowd, and can't see a thing in faith. Then he goes his way to make a fortune in some business that he never would start if he didn't have faith. Faith is the foundation of all human effort, just as much as Truth is the one thing the human race is bound to search for, and just as sure as Love is the world's compelling dynamo. Faith, Truth, Love—three acres. Add Ideals to inspire, and Courage to persist, and we have a full hand, it seems.

Farm Notes For Eastern Oregon Yellow beried Marquis is just as good for seed as that which is dark and hard. Often it is plumper than the hard wheat. A wet growing season, late plowing of summer fallow, or lack of oxygen usually causes the yellow berry.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

Sweet clover seeding on rather alkali soils where summer frosts are not severe should be made early so as to get the clover up before much crusting occurs. Fifteen pounds to the acre is a good rate of seeding.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

LATE PLOWING CUTS YIELD. An average increase of nine bushels an acre for summer fallow plowed April 1 as compared with June 1 has been obtained at the Moro experiment station covering a period of nine years. In other words, 81 bushels an acre of wheat have been lost during the nine years where the fallow was plowed late. In addition harder wheat is produced on early plowed summer fallow than on that plowed late.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

KEEP WHEAT TYPES SEPARATE. The winter killing of much fall sown grain will necessitate considerable replanting. On the light and drier lands Hannchen, Maricut, and White Smyrna are good varieties of barley to sow. Where there has been Hybrid 128, Hybrid 143 is good for reseeding. Marquis is the best to reseed in Turkey Red.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

More hogs will require more barley. Oregon's barley acreage dropped seriously during the war years.—O. A. C. Experiment station.

John Wanamaker The Merchant-Prince of Philadelphia and New York Says: "It seems to me that retail advertising is a very simple matter in these times, when the newspaper goes into every home in the land. I believe that the retail merchant who fails to advertise, fails in his duty to his customers. The public has a right to know what a merchant is doing; it has a right to know what sort of goods he has in his establishment, and what kind of service he renders, and what the conditions of his service are. It has a right to know when he receives new goods and has a right to know what the new goods are like. "No merchant nowadays ought to expect the public to give him its patronage unless he comes out frankly and tells the public what reasons he has to expect its patronage. And he ought to do this in the daily newspapers—or the weekly newspapers if there is no daily in his town. That's the way for him to stand fair and square with the people whom he expects to come in and buy his goods. "Let his advertisement be the truthful news of what he is doing, and let him print it in the newspaper, where news belongs, and then he will be playing fair with the public and deserving of its confidence." We have a large and complete assortment of advertising illustrations at your command. Advertise in The Gazette-Times
