

Local Happenings

Mesdames Emmet Cochran, C. W. McNamer, Alva Jones, C. W. Shurtz were hostesses on last Thursday afternoon at the Cochran home to about 40 guests and the afternoon was spent in playing bridge at which Mrs. W. O. Hager received first honors, Mrs. Ray Oviatt second, and Mrs. F. A. McMenamin consolation. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion and dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hamblet of Dayton, Ore., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Dickson of Hood River, were this week visiting at the home of M. R. Morgan, Mrs. Hamblet's brother. The visitors are on a trip to Kansas and Missouri, where they will visit friends and relatives and return by way of California to spend the winter in the sunny south.

John McEntire of McEntire Bros., of Rhea Siding, was doing business in Heppner for two days this week. The McEntire boys have disposed of their wool clip, realizing, we understand, 31 cents for it, which is considered a very good price for the wool of that locality.

Mrs. C. C. Calkins and children were passengers going out yesterday morning. Mrs. Calkins will visit with friends and relatives at The Dalles and Portland and then go to Corvallis for a visit with her parents who reside in that city.

W. W. Smead accompanied F. A. McMenamin on a trip over into the Alderdale country across the river the latter part of the week, the gentlemen returning on Monday. While over there Mr. Smead purchased a couple of clips of wool.

HEPPNER HI LIFE

Edited By JUNIOR ENGLISH CLASS

Hill and Farewell!

The editors of the "Heppner Hi Life" column wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the editor and the readers of the Gazette-Times, who have been so kind and appreciative of the time and work we have spent on our high school news column.

It is the first attempt ever made by an English class of our school to publish its social, athletic, and everyday affairs, and we are glad to feel that others outside of school have enjoyed reading its publication.

This is our last appearance, but we sincerely hope to resume our place in the Gazette-Times at the beginning of the next school year.

Junior Flunk Day.

Thursday was a big day for the Juniors because that was our "Flunk Day." We met at the hotel from 5:30 to 6 o'clock and from there went up Balm creek about thirteen miles. We cooked our breakfast of ham and eggs and then went either fishing, hunting or hiking. After two or three hours those at camp heard a splash and not long afterwards two very wet Juniors came into camp. However, the water did neither of them any harm. After we had cooked our dinner and eaten it, we went for more hikes and as soon as we thought it was anywhere near time to eat again we got supper. Then followed the most exciting, to say nothing of humorous, ball game that has been played this season. After we were tired of playing ball, we piled in our cars and got home at eight o'clock. If any Junior class ever has as much fun as we had, they will certainly be a very lucky class.

Baccalaureate services will be held at eight o'clock next Sunday evening at the Federated church by the Reverend Livingstone.

Calendar.

May 12-13: Junior-Senior play.
May 13: Baseball game, Ione vs. Heppner at Ione.
May 14: Baccalaureate Sunday.
May 15: High School picnic.
May 16-17-18: Final examinations.
May 18: Junior-Senior banquet.
May 19: Commencement.

The odor of gasoline which pervaded the study hall Monday morning might be suggestive of the fact that some dry cleaning has been done if it is in honor of the coming examinations next week.

State examinations are on the 11th and 12th of this month this year. This is much earlier than last year and will give the students of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades a better chance to pass, as their studies will be fresh in their minds. The boys' quartet made its last appearance for the year 1921-22 at the Brotherhood meeting on last Monday evening, May 8. The boys have sung at many public functions this year and have always shown excellent training in their singing.

The Heppner Independent team defeated Lexington high school at Lexington last Saturday, the final score being 5 to 4.

The game was well played throughout and was featured by the boxwork of Wilcraft of Heppner and Garret of Lexington.

Paul Aiken was the batting star of the day. He got two doubles the first two times at bat. Lexington's players did not hit very hard, with the exception of Ted Johnson, catcher, who got on base every time at bat.

Mrs. Sherman, played by Elizabeth Huston, is the villainess of the play. She allowed her husband to go to the penitentiary for a crime she herself committed. She doesn't like Martha and her family, because they usually know what is going on around the Sherman place, but she tolerates them because of Frank. The only good thing about her is that she loves her son, Radcliffe, but even here she has made a mistake and spoiled him so no one can manage him.

The domestic art classes held an exhibit last Tuesday, of the work accomplished during this last semester. A fine display of silk dresses made by the second year class was presented, also some very beautiful raincoats, voile, and tissue gingham. A display like this shows what an interest both the instructor and girls took in their work for the past year. It also tends to make the subject more interesting and encourages those girls who are going to take up the work next year.

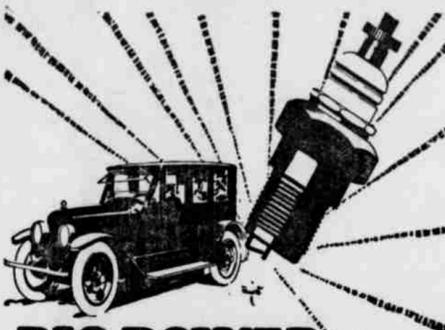

Those students who have been taking the Bible course outlined by the state took the examination on the Old Testament Friday morning and on the New Testament Friday afternoon.

Your copy of the high school annual will be ready for you the middle of next week. If you have already ordered one, it will be delivered; if you have not, you can still order one from Margaret

Woodson, editor-in-chief, for $1.15. The seventh and eighth grade boys held a very exciting game of baseball Friday evening after school. These boys in the grades are practicing hard now, for someday they will have to make up our high school team, and they want us to be as proud of them as we have been of our teams the past few years.

"Yes! I'm the skeleton in the closet, hidden—hushed up—but I'm not as weak as I used to be. I never did a dishonest thing in my life—except go to prison for your sister," says Kyle Cox, as Allen Sherman in "Martha By-the-Day." Those who saw him as one of Jack's chums in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," and as Marto, the foster father of Rob in "The Gypsy Rover," will not fail to see what becomes of him in this part which is so entirely different from the other two. Ray McDuffee, as Sam Slawson, Martha's husband, is everything that an obedient and well-trained husband should be; he does not even argue with his wife; as he says, "I gave that up twenty years ago." We have all seen Ray in plays before, and we assure you that he is even better than ever in this new part. Don't fail to see Violet Merritt as Martha in "Martha By-the-Day." She may make breaks in English, but she is right when it comes to helping someone out who is in trouble.

BIG POWER in EVERY DROP!

"Red Crown" meets the automotive engineer's demand for a motor fuel that will vaporize rapidly and uniformly in the carburetor, and explode completely in the cylinder. Every drop is 100% power.

Fill your tank with "Red Crown" and nothing else, and you won't have to bother with carburetor adjustments. You'll get prompt starting, better mileage, and a sweeter-running motor.

Fill at the Red Crown sign—at Service Stations, at garages, or other dealers.

Customers

The business man should realize that he is separated from his customers—old and new—by minutes, not miles. In these days of strenuous competition the successful merchant must make the best use of his resources, and there is none more important than his long distance telephone service. In the transaction of business the use of the long distance telephone will mean the prompt answer, the personal touch and an economy of time. Every Bell telephone is a Long Distance station.
