

Local Happenings

Ralph Benghe has been enjoying a visit the past week from his brother, Frank, of Green Bluff, Washington. Frank is the owner of a fine fruit tract of some 40 acres at Green Bluff which is a short distance out from Sopkane. A good many years ago he owned a wheat ranch in this county near Lexington, but gave that up as a poor proposition, which it appeared to be in those days, went over into Washington and made some money in the horse and cattle business, and later going into the fruit raising game on the place he now owns. He likes this and is doing well. This year the place is rented and Mr. Benghe is out enjoying a visit with his relatives in various parts of Oregon.

Harry E. Warren and son were in the city on Saturday from Boardman, where Mr. Warren is now engaged in the general mercantile business. They were accompanied by Mr. Warren's father, Capt. Wm. Warren, who left Heppner some twenty years ago and has not been in the old home town since. He was busy looking up old friends while here, and also took note of the great change that has come over Heppner in that time, stating that he would not have known the town. H. E. Warren, who has been engaged in farming for a good many years near Portland, has become a resident of Morrow county again and is enjoying a good trade in his mercantile business at Boardman.

Word was received by W. W. Smead late on Friday afternoon from Mrs. Lena White, announcing the very serious illness of one of her little daughters at a hospital in Portland. In response to the telegram, Mrs. W. O. Bayless, sister of Mrs. White, departed immediately for Portland to lend her assistance in caring for the little girl. Word received a little later was to the effect that the child was not as seriously ill as at first thought.

Theodore Anderson was in town from the Eight Mile farm on Saturday. While the weather has been pretty warm for several days past, he states that the grain is showing no bad effects. The growth has been pretty rank during the past few weeks and the grain is pretty tender, but the present spell of weather is what is needed to toughen it up. He looks for a fair yield throughout his section.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sparks drove over from their home at Bend on Sunday and visited with relatives and friends at Heppner and Lone, leaving for home on Tuesday via Condon. Mr. Sparks has the moving picture houses at Bend and Prineville. He escaped the big fire last week at Prineville, and states that little city looks much as Heppner did after the big fire of July 4, 1918.

Andrew Reaney was in the city a short time on Friday, on his way up to the wood camp of his son-in-law, N. S. Phelps. He reports that a lot of good wood is being harvested by the boys in the mountain camp near the Moore mill and they will have an abundance of both pine and fir for the local demand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Anderson drove to The Dalles on Saturday for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kit McCarty. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Campbell who will spend a month or more at the home of her daughter, she having closed her boarding house here for the summer.

Geo. H. Hayden was down from Hardman on Friday. Mr. Hayden is owner of the Mallory mill and states that he will soon be on the job there again. His family have been in Hardman during the winter to take advantage of the high school from which his son was graduated this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duvall were in the city on Saturday. Mr. Duvall has just closed a deal by which he has taken over the farm of Way and Son near Swaggart Buttes. He formerly owned the artesian well farm, known as the Rice place, north of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Barnett of Lexington are at present sojourning at Sheppard Springs, Wash., where they went recently for the benefit of Mrs. Barnett's health, and expects to make a stay of some two weeks or more at the health resort.

Paul Webb and wife drove down from Walla Walla on Monday. They returned home on Tuesday. Mr. Webb states that the crop conditions around Walla Walla are not the best just at present, the growing crops needing rain.

Wm. Hendrix of Rhea creek was in town Monday. He states that hay harvest will soon begin on his place. He is also preparing to take a bunch of mules and horses to Pendleton to be offered for sale on the 15th of this month.

Mrs. Spencer Crawford departed Monday for Berkeley, Calif., where she will visit for a couple of months at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Githens. She was accompanied by John S. junior.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark of Lone, were visitors in this city Monday in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sparks of Bend.

W. R. Irwin and family departed Friday for their summer home on the Tillamook seashore at Rockaway. The family expects to remain there for the summer, but Mr. Irwin will return shortly.

Mrs. Carl Miller of Lexington was operated on by Dr. Chick at the Moore hospital in this city Sunday evening for appendicitis. At last reports she was getting along well.

Marvels of Science to Be Shown Here

Glenn L. Morris to Give Instructive and Delightful Entertainment as Chautauqua Feature on the Second Day

Many marvelous things are promised in the scientific entertainment to be given by the Glenn Morris Company at Chautauqua the second day. For instance, the scientist stands upon a metal plate from which is flowing electricity at a voltage several times as high as that used in an electric chair, and the current passes through his body lighting lamps and welding metal. Candles are lighted from running water. Some two million volts are discharged in the air and collected by an entirely separate apparatus; wireless miracles are performed, beautiful spectacular lighting displays are followed by a terrific thunder storm. It's an afternoon and evening of instructive and delightful entertainment.
