FARMERS AND TOWNSMEN MIX HERE TODAY

Morrow county farmers are enjoying a vacation here today while fraternizing with the townspeople at the annual Morrow county picnic. Store houses of the city are closed for the afternoon while everyone is enjoying the balmy June breezes at the Gentry ball field, where the afternoon's program is being staged.

A large audience was present at the fair pavilion to receive the musical and oratorical entertainment which featured the morning's program. F. A. McMenamin, president of the commercial club, delivered the address of welcome. E. M. Hulden told "Why We Are Here," and S. F. Wilson, vice president and manager of Bankers Discount company and H. Ashley Ely, secretary of the Oregon-Washington Joint Stock Land bank, explained the benefits to be derived by the farmers from their respective organizations. The musical numbers were well received.

At noon everyone gathered at the pavilion again to partake of a bounteous basket dinner. Good "eats" and good-fellowship, as evidenced by broad smiles and bright laughter, was the order of the noon hour, while rapidly disappearing victuals gradually overcame famishing appetites.

A Number of Teachers Are Writing For Their Certificates

The semi-annual teachers examination is being held this week at the auditorium in the high school building, and is in charge of Mrs. C. W. McNamer, who is assisting Superintendent Shurte. These teachers are writing for county and state certificates, and among those taking the examination are Mrs. Frank W. Turner and Mrs. Ethel Ashbaugh of Heppner; Mabel Smith, Blanche Turner and Earl Brown of Lone. These began on Wednesday, and Mrs. Shurte looks for several others to be in before the examination closes to write on special subjects.

are musical gifts of this young performer. He has already won for himself an enviable reputation as an artist in New Zealand and Australia, where he has appeared in concerts in many of the leading cities. LExINGTON MAN MARRIED

The marriage of August Edward Miller, young farmer of Lexington to Miss Galena O. Campbell of Pendleton, was solemnized at the Presbyterian manse in Pendleton on Wednesday, June 7, 1922, at 1 o'clock p. m., Rev. George Clark officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Maud Montgomery and W. S. Campbell, uncle of the bride, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, after a short honeymoon, are now at home to their friends on the farm near Lexington, where Mr. Miller is engaged in wheat raising.

Prof. James Osten, who had charge of the Heppner band a year ago last winter, and who has been residing in Pendleton since leaving here, came over Tuesday for a short visit. He has been teaching private classes in Pendleton and at present is out on his summer vacation.

Chautauqua Contest

There is a spirit of rivalry between the different houses selling season tickets for the Chautauqua. This is taking the form of a contest, to close Saturday evening, June 17. If you have not bought your tickets or had them reserved, decide to help out one of the contestants and have your tickets reserved at once. Also, suggest to your friends that they boost your contestant by making their reservations. You may pay for your tickets at any time before noon of the opening day, if you have them reserved. You will save money by purchasing a season ticket and at the same time you will assist the local committee more than you would if you bought single admission tickets for every number. A season ticket costs just one-third as much as the single admissions would cost if you attend every session. If you attend the evening sessions only, you will save $2.00 by buying a season ticket. The three big evening programs cost just as much as a season ticket. Call up one of the sellers and reserve your tickets at once.

ATTENTION Phonograph Owners—If you enjoy good music, why not take better care of your records? Preserve them and improve the tone by keeping them clean with a Omaha Hand-Made "PHON-O-BRUSH." Made better and costs less. Satisfaction or money refunded. Sent postpaid upon receipt of 25 cents silver or stamps. Address MARTINS AYE-WON SERVICE, Box 115 Harney Station, Omaha, Nebraska. 4t.

Mr. Ely states that the bank is now ready to accept loans which may be made to run for a period of 33 years, if desired, and he took time to explain its workings fully to all those interested.

Much Road And Telephone Work Being Done In Forest

The telephone lines of the district are in good repair, except the line on Willow creek leading to Heppner. About eight miles of heavy maintenance work on this line is yet to be done.

The road westward from Ukiah has been cleared of logs as far as Ditch creek. The bridge on Pole creek has been wrecked by the high water and a new bridge will probably be put in in the near future. Will Troxel of Gurdane has been placed on road work and will assist the forest officers in getting the roads and trails open for the fire season.

Fred Casteel has begun his duties as salter on the Five Mile cattle range. He was shown over the range by Ranger Woods. Mr. Casteel was well pleased with the range and expressed his appreciation of the roads and trails and the ease with which the cattle range may be covered. Besides salting about fifteen hundred head of cattle he has fourteen miles of drift fence to maintain.

A. D. Hileman of Gurdane has been awarded the contract to construct two miles of drift fence along the forest boundary in Hall canyon. This will be an extension to the Five Mile drift fence and will eventually be connected up with other fence to the westward and prevent the cattle from drifting from the Five Mile range. This piece of fence is the result of cooperation by the forest service, the Five Mile Cattle association and Charles McDevitt. The cost of material and construction will be about $225 per mile. Mr. Hileman expects to begin construction at once.

School In District No. 3 Now Fully Standardized

Mrs. Shurte reports that the school in District No. 3, the Peck district, was, by the energetic work of the teacher, Miss Margaret McDevitt, fully standardized this year, and has received its certificate. This is the only standardized rural school in the county at present and Miss McDevitt worked hard to bring about this result. She got her full 95 per cent in attendance, and all the other requirements were met in a like manner, and the teacher is very proud of the work accomplished.

Tilden Williams, who owns a ranch in the Rood canyon neighborhood, was doing business in Heppner yesterday. As a result of the heavy downpour of rain in that part of the county on Friday much of the road down Rood canyon has been eliminated and the county will be compelled to expend a lot of money in working it over. Both the Rood canyon and Hail ridge sections received a good soaking and it is reported that the fields were pretty badly washed in many places. The general results for the crops are good, however.

County Agent Calkins returned home Tuesday evening from attending a meeting of county agents at the Moro experiment station. He states that everything in that section is in fine shape for a demonstration to the farmers of Morrow county when they go over there on the 24th. Mr. Calkins hopes to have a large number of business men of the county accompany the excursion to Moro and take the trip with the farmers through the wheat growing sections.

JUNE TERM CIRCUIT CT. HAS FAIR DOCKET

Judge D. R. Parker, of Condon, Presiding—Numerous Cases Settled and Dismissed—Carty Damage Suit Takes Up Most of Three Days.

The regular June term of Circuit Court for Morrow county convened at the court house in Heppner on Monday morning, with Judge D. R. Parker, of Condon, presiding.

The docket was not very lengthy but several cases of importance were at issue and set down for trial. On calling the docket, a number of other cases were found to have been settled out of court and they were dismissed.

The first case to come on for hearing, to be tried before a jury, was that of Jas. Carty vs. F. A. McMenamin and Patrick Ward, an action for damages and the recovery of money paid on contract for lease of range lands in the vicinity of Goldendale, Wash. Messrs. Woodson and Sweek appeared for the plaintiff and the defendants were represented by C. H. Fenn of La Grande and F. A. McMenamin of Heppner. The case went to trial on Monday, and the taking of testimony lasted throughout Monday and Tuesday, a number of witnesses being examined, and it was submitted to the jury Wednesday forenoon. After deliberating a few hours the jury returned its verdict, finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $1875.80. The sum sued for was a little less than $3000.

A similar action was that of James Farley vs. McMenamin and Ward. In this case permission was given to file an amended complaint. Messrs. S. E. Van Vactor and R. R. Butler representing the plaintiff and Fenn and McMenamin the defendants. Case is set down for trial first day of next regular term.

Work On Willow Creek Highway Gap Delayed Indefinitely

Commissioner W. B. Barratt returned from Portland Saturday where he had been during the week attending the June meeting of the state highway commission.

Mr. Barratt is very much disappointed that the work of grading and surfacing the gap in Gilliam county on the Oregon-Washington highway that would connect us up with the Columbia highway at Heppner Junction is now indefinitely delayed, owing to the recent ruling of Judge Kelly making it impossible to apply market road money on a state highway. The contract for this work had been let to the Warren Construction company and would have been pushed to completion by the first of the year. The road had been designated as a market road by Gilliam county, but this was subsequent to its being named as a state highway, and Mr. Barratt states that there is no chance under the present state of affairs to go ahead. It is his opinion that a test case will be made of this particular piece of road construction and the same taken to the supreme court for its decision.

O. E. Johnson, an extensive rancher of Hardman, was a business visitor in Heppner on Tuesday.

WANTED—Heppner residence property. Inquire this office. tf.

Mary Merrill vs. H. H. Merrill; to be tried today.

GRAND JURY REPORT. In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County.

We, the undersigned, duly empaneled as the Grand Jury for the June term, 1922, of the above entitled court, respectfully report as follows:

We have been in session three days, and have inquired into all matters pertaining to violation of the laws of the State of Oregon, which have been brought to our attention, or of which we had knowledge.

We have found two true bills and one not true bill.

We have investigated the offices of the County Clerk and the Sheriff, and find that the offices are in charge of competent and courteous officials. The records of said offices so far as we are able to ascertain, are accurately and carefully kept.

We inspected the county jail, and beg to recommend that the jail be kept, if possible, in a more sanitary condition. We also recommend the City of Heppner be not permitted to confine city prisoners in the county jail unless the said city pays sufficient rental therefor to enable the county to meet the additional expense occasioned by the use of the county jail by the city. We also recommend that the jail be remodeled, at the earliest convenient date, so as to provide suitable quarters for women prisoners, if any such there should be.

Having finished our labors at this time, we beg to be excused until such time as the court may deem proper.

FRED AKERS, Foreman, HARRIET G. ROBISON, ROBERT GEMMELL, OTTO RUHL, MERLE N. KIRK, A. M. MOORE, JOSEPH PRINGLE.

Whereupon the court excused the Grand Jury for the term.

Two cases will be on trial today, but it is not thought they will consume much time, and it appears that the work of the term will likely be completed by this evening.

LOCAL NEWS HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cronk were visiting friends at Lone and Heppner for a few days this week, coming up from Hood river in their car on Saturday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bortzer, former residents of Morrow county, now residing at Hood river, who visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Tash while spending several days in Heppner. Mr. and Mrs. Cronk, who have been residing at Hood river for the past year are arranging to move to Portland, and will go to the city when they return from this visit, where Mr. Cronk will go into business.

J. K. Johnson of Boardman came over Monday and has been doing jury duty this week. Mr. Johnson is one of the successful producers on the project and has been a hay raiser there for a number of years. He has his first cutting of alfalfa down and would have been glad to remain at home and get it in the stack, but had to give up some time to one of the necessary duties of citizenship. The first cutting at Boardman will not be as good as in former seasons, owing no doubt to the backward spring.

E. M. Shutt and wife and son Lawrence departed Sunday morning on their journey to Los Angeles, Calif., where they expect to make their home in the future. They are traveling by car and it may be several weeks before they reach their destination as they expect to make the trip by easy stages. Mr. Shutt states that he expects to return to Heppner again in the fall, having business interests here, but he plans to establish a home at or near Los Angeles and go into business there.

A very heavy rain visited the section just about Heppner and extending due north, falling heaviest at the head of Sourdough canyon and on the divide between that canyon and Blackhorse about the middle of Sunday afternoon. Quite a heavy flood of water ran down Sourdough canyon and some of the smaller draws leading to Willow creek. No serious damage is reported. At Heppner there was quite a heavy hail storm, but it lasted only a few minutes.

Martin Johnson and family of Tillamook are visiting at the home of his parents in this city this week, arriving here by auto. Martin has been teaching manual training in the Tillamook high school for the past four years. It has been 9 1/2 years since he was in Heppner last, and he admits that he hardly recognizes the old town at all, the change has been so great. Mr. Johnson will continue his work in the Tillamook schools the coming year.

At the Federated church on Sunday, June 18, there will be Sunday school and preaching service in the morning and the Endeavor services in the afternoon at 5 and 7, but no evening preaching services.

JOHN J. KELLY LOSES SHEEP IN HAIL STORM

The storm of Friday afternoon is reported to have done great damage to the roads in Buttermilk and Sweetmilk canyons, and property owners along Kook creek in that vicinity were caused to suffer loss. This was especially true of John J. Kelly, owner of the George Perry place. The storm broke there with much fury, rain and hail coming down in torrents and raising the creek running through the place. Sheep on the hill were scattered by the storm and washed into the creek channel and the loss has been variously reported, from 200 to 475 head. All the bucks were drowned in the flood waters and 200 or more of the ewes. Mr. Kelly's wool was out of reach of the water but it struck the house with sufficient force to move it about. Mr. Kelly's loss amounts to several thousand dollars.

Rains have been general all over the eastern Oregon counties during the past week and damage from water spouts and cloudbursts is reported from many sections. Rain at Canyon City interfered greatly with the success of the big celebration there at the end of the week but that is compensated for in a large measure by the benefits to growing grain and hay crops. The Morrow county grain belt has been greatly benefited and hundreds of thousands of dollars added to the prospective yield. Cooler weather since is also beneficial.

Church Here Will Entertain Convention Next Summer

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Livingstone returned Monday evening from Elgin where they attended the Eastern Oregon convention of the Christian church, held in that city on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. An invitation was extended to the convention by Mr. Livingstone on behalf of the Christian church of Heppner, asking that the convention be held here next June, and it was accepted. The church will be meeting in their new building at that time according to present plans, and will be in position to handle the convention nicely. The convention re-elected Mr. Livingstone president of the Eastern Oregon organization for the third consecutive quarter. Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone greatly enjoyed the convention and the hospitality accorded them by the Elgin people.

Chas. Barlow suffered the fracture of his little finger on the right hand Saturday evening, while at work at Latourell Auto Co. garage. He was assisting Chuck Bell in removing a wheel from a car and received a blow from a sledge hammer that Chuck had intended for the hub of the wheel. The injury was painful for a time but Charley is well over it now.

Fire Destroys Warren Residence At Boardman Friday

Fire destroyed a small frame residence near the business section of Boardman at noon on Friday. The building was owned by H. E. Warren of the Boardman Trading Co. store. With Mr. Warren were his father and son and the elder Mr. Warren was cooking over an oil stove when food boiling over caused a fire, igniting the walls. All the personal property of the three gentlemen as well as the furniture was a total loss. Surrounding property was saved by bucket brigades, as Boardman has no fire fighting apparatus at present.
