Honey Philosophy for 1922
Russel Sage, in his day the wealthiest money lender in the world, said he bought his straw hats in December and his winter overcoats in July so he could save money, and then folks wondered why he was rich and they were poor. Maybe it was good reason to him, but was he ever rich in all his life? They tried to blow him up with a bomb, he was always scared to death, he never knew the joy of life, he didn't get a chance to mix with his fellow men. The chap that wears a felt hat when straw hats are in season don't fit, neither does the fellow who buys 'em that way. The world's a big family and it pays to march with your brothers and sisters. If we all worked at cross purposes, business would close up and nobody'd be rich in friends or money.

The Dalles, June 21.—Dalles Post wants to hear from the aquatic stars of Oregon who belong to the American Legion. A three-day water carnival will be held here during the week of conventions next month, and Don W. Yantis, who used to hang up records himself, is in charge. Dalles Post and local businessmen will offer prizes for the winners, and it is hoped to establish a custom which will last as long as there are enough legion members left with enough lumber joints to take to the water.

The prizes have not yet been announced, but they will be substantial enough to attract the best swimmers. The Columbia is a mile wide at The Dalles, and ambitious swimmers can paddle all the way down to Astoria, if they want to, so there is plenty of space for all competitors. There will be swimming events for women too. The post's catchword for the convention is "Bring your uniform," but equally well it can urge legionnaires to bring bathing suits too.

Portland, Ore., June 21.—Legionnaires attending the national convention in New Orleans, will encounter more history to the square inch than in any other city in America. To the ex-fighter the famous old port city will reveal the marks of two centuries of spirited existence, inspired by the deeds of ex-service men of other days. Founded by Bineville in 1718, New Orleans has been under the French flag twice; the colors of Spain have floated over the city, the stars and bars of the Confederacy, and finally the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

A bronze service bar bearing the wording "Fourth Annual State Convention, The Dalles, Oregon, 1922" will be presented by the Oregon Department American Legion to each post bringing their official post colors to The Dalles the latter part of July. The bar will be placed on the staff of posts bringing their banners, by Lan: Goodell, department commander, during the convention sessions.

HEMSTITCHING.
I have installed a hemstitching machine at my apartment in the Gilman building and will give all orders for work in that line my best attention. Your patronage is solicited.

JACKIE COOGAN STUDIES THE THREE R's

After charming millions of movie lovers by his clever depicting of "kid" parts, Jackie Coogan is hard at work studying reading, 'yit' an' 'yithmetick. His private tutor, a former Los Angeles school teacher, says it is a delight to teach Jackie because he is bright and very ambitious to learn.
