

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Anderson returned home on Friday evening from Portland, where Mr. Anderson was called on business for a few days. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. E. F. Campbell as far as The Dalles, where she visited for the week. While on the trip, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson took a run over to the beach at Tillamook and up the coast highway to Seattle. While at Rockaway they were guests at the W. R. Irwin cottages, and Mr. Anderson recommends this as a mighty good place to stop. The Irwin's are just finishing a nice home at Rockaway and will have a delightful place to live during the hot summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bronson were denied their usual visit to the mountains this season. While on the way out to Arbuckle mountain last week for a few days of camping and picking huckleberries, they ran into a nest of yellow-jackets and Mrs. Bronson was so severely stung by the insects that she had to be brought to town and placed under the care of a physician. She was very ill from the effects of the stings for several days, but had about fully recovered the first of the week.

S. H. Boardman is in Portland on a business trip accompanied by his son, Clark Boardman of New York. Sam expects to take a trip to Ashland before returning for a few days visit with Bert (Sap and Salt) Moses and in the interest of the whole project generally but the cheese factory in particular. He may be in the morning at Portland, however, at this time for he took a whole grip of Boardman cheese with him when he started.—Boardman Mirror.

Mrs. R. M. Hart and little son arrived from Portland on Thursday last. She will be here for a couple of weeks preparing their household goods for shipment to their new home at Portland. Mrs. Hart states that they have located a good business at Portland and Mr. Hart appears to be well contented at the present time, though he may look at things a little different when the rainy season sets in.

STRAYED—From my ranch on Hinton creek, 1 black mare, with white face, branded RJ on left side, also a cross with a quarter circle on shoulder and stiff; weight about 1200. Liberal reward for return of this animal to my ranch, or for information leading to recovery. D. O. JUSTUS.

Mrs. Ellen Busick and her son, Reid, returned Friday evening from an extensive visit in Grant county, spent at John Day, Mt. Vernon and Blue Mountain Springs. While over there they went huckleberrying but rains coming up they decided to return home, after enjoying an outing of three weeks.

Glen Burroughs, son of French Burroughs the extensive rancher of Rhea creek, surprised his friends here last Saturday by coming home from a visit accompanied by his bride of a few days. Mr. Burroughs has been teaching in Montana.—Ione Independent.

Gay Anderson and family departed on Sunday for their summer vacation, going to Washburn, Wash., where Mrs. Anderson's people reside, and then to Vancouver, Wash., where the parents of Mr. Anderson live. They will be absent about three weeks.

James Farley is one of the Farley brothers who came to Oregon from Ireland and who has engaged extensively in the sheep business. Mr. Farley's home is in Heppner. He was a Pendleton business visitor yesterday.—East Oregonian.

$50.00 REWARD is offered to anyone who finds this horse: A sorrel gelding with a roached mane; white stripes in face; stands well up; weight 1500 to 1600; 9 years old; no brand. Notify C. R. Tyson, Wallula, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore and daughter, accompanied by Rev. W. O. Livingstone and Mrs. Livingstone and daughter of Heppner, left Monday morning by auto for an outing at the beaches.—Ione Independent.

Mrs. C. W. McNamer departed Sunday for Bandon, Oregon, for a visit of a few weeks at the home of her mother. While she is absent Mr. McNamer will keep bachelor's hall, being ably assisted by Joa. Waters.

FOR SALE—Two bull calves—one came Nov. 16, 1920, and one February 11, 1922. Good registered Jerseys of same breeding. Will sell either of them. Price $75 and $150. J. H. JOHNSON, Boardman, Ore.

C. H. and Arthur Erwin, we are told, have among the best wheat crops grown about Ione. Their yields will go about 28 bushels and test slightly less than 62 pounds per bushel.—Ione Independent.

The families of Chas. Vaughn and Orve Rasmus returned Monday from a ten days outing in the mountains. They gathered in a goodly supply of huckleberries while there.

Mrs. Ethel Ashbaugh and children have returned home from Pendleton, where Mrs. Ashbaugh spent a couple of months or so attending the summer normal.

Dillard French, Gardane stockman, was in the city for a short time on Friday. He reports lots of hot weather out his way and range conditions poor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mahoney plan on spending their vacation at Crater lake, and expect to leave on their trip sometime during the coming week.

Felix Johnson, whose home is at Range, Oregon, where he is engaged in the stock business, was a visitor in Heppner a short while on Friday.

FOR SALE—One 110-bushel wooden grain bin. Inquire of C. C. Rhea, Ione, Oregon.

It pays to buy good lubricating oils. Valvoline and Havoline oils at Peoples Hardware Company.

Millard French returned from his Idaho home Thursday and will spend a month or so here, making an outing in the mountains for a few weeks. His home at Midvale, Idaho, where he has a ranch.

Sam Hughes is in Portland this week, enjoying "Buyers Week" with the wholesalers of the city and the retailers of the Northwest. Sam never misses these annual visits to the city and he enjoys them greatly.

Misses Alma Akers and Norma Fredrick departed Saturday evening by auto for a vacation of a couple of weeks which they will spend at Portland and Seaside, the most of the time at the latter coast resort.

A little four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ora Adkins of Eight Mile was thrown from a buggy on Friday and sustained a broken collar bone. The little girl was immediately brought to town and Dr. Chick attended to her injuries.

Will pay $20 reward for information leading to discovery of party who stole spotlight off my car sometime between the 5th and 7th of this month, while car was stranded on Heppner hill. TINDAL ROBINSON, Eight Mile, Oregon.

Minor & Thompson and Ellis Minor made delivery of lambs to Tom Boylen at the Heppner yards on Monday, and they left by special train on Tuesday morning for the Chicago market. The lambs were in fine shape on leaving here, weighing in at 8½ pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Carter returned Sunday from Pendleton where they had been during the week to consult with Dr. Boyden concerning Mr. Carter's ear trouble. The doctor decided that he did not wish to undertake an operation and Mr. Carter will likely return to Pendleton later when an ear specialist will be in the city.

Dr. F. L. Christenson, formerly in the drug business at Ione, and for the past several months conducting a similar business in Portland, arrived in the city Tuesday for a visit at the home of Dr. C. C. Chick. He has recently disposed of his Portland business and has been at Ione, where he owns considerable farming land.

V. Crawford and wife and J. O. Turner and wife and son Don left yesterday morning on an auto trip into Walla Walla county, their destination being Joseph and Wallowa lake, where they expect to spend about ten days of an outing. They will be accompanied home by Misses Coramae and Mary Crawford who have been spending the summer at Joseph.

W. W. Smead and Jaa. Yeager returned home Tuesday from the mountains. They spent several days in the vicinity of Ditch creek and gathered a nice supply of huckleberries. Mr. Smead has taken charge of his duties at the Heppner postoffice, and henceforth it will be "Postmaster Smead." W. A. Richardson, retiring postmaster, who has served the people well for two terms, has made no announcement of what he intends doing in the future, further than to state that he will take a much coveted vacation. His duties have kept him confined closely to the office, and he has taken little time for recreation.

Leg Broken by Kick of Horse.
Rufus Snider who farms the Bell ranch on Blackhorse, was the victim one day last week of a kick from a horse he was handling, the result being a broken leg and he has since been "off duty." The break was between the knee and ankle and Dr. Chick was called out from Heppner to administer to the injured man and place the broken bones in position to properly heal. He will have to go on crutches for a while.

Helpful Pointers Listed On Culling of Poultry

Vigor, Color, Body Shape, Eye, Molt and Time of Starting to Lay, Are Signs of Layer.

Late molting hens are practically certain to be the best layers during the following year, but poultrymen are cautioned about going to extremes in making this factor the only one in selecting the layers. How it may be wisely used to cull out the weak layers is indicated in a new O. A. C. extension bulletin, Suggestive Points in Culling the Poultry Flock, by H. C. Cosby of the extension service.

The best layers have dry, ragged, frayed and brittle feathers and the tail feathers are badly worn during the summer and fall months. The poor layers will have more wing primary feathers in July and August than the heavy layers. Loose feathering is usually characteristic of the coarse, late maturing bird, and the low producing hen.

Any mismanagement that checks egg production in summer will force molting, which must be considered by one culling the flock. When the hen starts laying the whole abdomen becomes dilated, the pelvic bones between which the eggs must pass become wide-apart, the keel is forced down, and the lateral processes are sprung forward.

The fat goes out of the skin with heavy laying, leaving the skin soft and velvety and abdomen pliable. "It is not safe to judge a hen solely on the basis of any one of the points named in the bulletin," says Mr. Cosby. "Such procedure will result in untold errors. Only when all indications of good layers are applied to a hen can intelligent judgment on her laying ability be made."

The bulletin is free to poultrymen, farmers, and others interested.

Trap Poison, Flypaper Will Hold Fly in Check

Preventive Measures Only Will Keep Most Deadly House Pest from Heavy Toll of Human Lives.

The most successful weapons against the housefly, a man's deadliest enemy of all insect pests, are the screen, trap, sticky flypaper, poison and careful sanitation. Where poison can be used it is very effective offered as the O. A. C. experiment station recommends as follows:

Formaldehyde—commercial strength—2 ounces; sugar 2 ounces; water 10 ounces. The solution is placed in a shallow dish where the flies can reach it with no other source of drink. After drinking of the poison they die near the dish.

Different makes of fly traps may be seen at stores and fairs, and most of them are inexpensive and effective. The screened in porch with screened windows and doors will keep most of the intruders out, and those that do sneak in may be killed with swatter or poison, or caught on flypaper or in traps.

Hordes of flies often breed in the manure piles, which may be covered or screened in. Care with the garbage and with litter about the home grounds will send the females further away to deposit their eggs.

Allowed their own way these house pests will carry on their hairy legs and feet such disease germs as they come into contact with, notably typhoid, dysentery, tuberculosis and diphtheria. They drop some of these in walking about human foods and drinks, which under favorable conditions will cause disease when taken with these substances.

The death of a single female fly may prevent the breeding of millions of descendants before the summer is over.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Curran are enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grant of Los Angeles, who came Monday evening. Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Curran are sisters, and the visitors are returning from an auto trip to Vancouver, B. C.

The Grocery Question

SELECTING and buying groceries for a home is a much more difficult task than purchasing in any other commodity. When one buys a new pair of shoes an automobile, a coat or a pair of shoes, the problem of deciding comes only at long intervals.

But with groceries every rising sun presents three new problems: "what to have" for breakfast, dinner and supper. No wonder the grocery question is the housewife's biggest problem.

There is an answer. It is to be had at this store. We specialize on tempting foods and in such large variety that planning a meal no longer carries a dread.
