HEPPNER RODEO NEXT BIG EVENT

All Arrangements Completed for First Exhibition of Heppner's New Show—Three Big Days of Superb Entertainment, September 28-29-30.

Rodeo days are drawing near, only seven more days left to dig out the smothered, boots and spurs, and climb on the dapple-headed pony headed for Heppner town. A big time awaits you, asserts C. W. McNamur, in charge of arrangements, and no means are being spared to make the "wild west" contests the best ever.

Everything is ready to go. The big arena and race track at Gentry field have been put in A-1 shape, and bleachers built on the side of the arena amphitheater that all may have an excellent view of the performance. A fine assortment of wild broncos, steers, mules and bulls has been obtained and will be brought to town this week. Cowboy and cowgirl talent capable to cope with the vicious animals has also been lined up, as well as many with fast racing speed, says the management, and they assure a treat is in store for the spectators.

Two dances will be in progress at the fair pavilions each evening. One for those tame individuals who do not care for the boisterous amusement of the '49 dance, which will be carried on in the adjoining pavilion, while the '49 dance will take care of the wilder strain who would be carried back to the days of the six-shooter and whiskey flask when each cattle owner made his own law. Plenty of the old-time gambling games will be carried on in the '49 pavilion at which all may try their skill against chance in exchange for Rodeo money. At the pavilions Rodeo money will be chosen a third, and it is the sentiment of the management that all will receive a square deal. Entries can now be made through J. J. Nys, secretary, and Mr. McNamur urges that everyone intending to take part in the show make their entries at the earliest possible moment.

Friday, September 29, will be school children's day when all school children will be admitted to the show free of charge. It is planned to make this day a school holiday for the entire county, and the management extends an urgent invitation for all student kiddies of the county to be present.

Copper Carbonate Supply Replenished by Farm Bureau.

Some orders from farmers for copper carbonate were turned down because the supply of the powder was exhausted. This has been replenished, however, and we will try to supply all farmers' needs on reasonable notice. Do not wait until the day you want to seed before ordering. The grain treatment demonstration held last week was fairly well attended. Mr. Cuthbert, north of Lexington, reports that he is treating 125 to 150 sacks per day satisfactorily. These machines are much in demand but Olliam & Blaise report that they are pretty well caught up and probably can accommodate farmers on a reasonable notice.

J. G. and Vawter Crawford, accompanied by the Misses Margaret, Cora and Jane Crawford, departed on Tuesday for Waukegan, Wash., to have a short visit with relatives and friends. They will return home at the end of the week via Pasco and Pendleton.

R. W. Turner left for Corvallis on Saturday. At The Dalles he expected to be joined by his daughter, Miss Anna Turner, who is going to be a student at O. A. C. for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Laxton McMurray and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Low of Ione were visitors in Heppner for a short time on Saturday.

"Bloated" Oil Journalist Visits Old Home Town

Anyway his old-time sidekicks say he's bloated, for in by-gone days when he rusticated in these parts, Garfield Crawford is remembered by them as being rather of the lean, lanky type, and he was not at once recognized by many because of his present portly lines, when he visited his "old home-town" this week. Garfield has been enjoying a fine time hunting "old nesters" out of their holes and "spreading the gaff" over days when Heppner was still in its swaddling clothes, and when many of the good ladies of the town shook their heads just a little at the mention of his name.

Fifteen years ago Garfield left Heppner to try his fortune in other parts. Landing at Fort Worth, Texas, where an old crone of his, "Hee" Blackman, was cartoonist with the Star-Telegram, he took a job as reporter on the same staff and thus broke into the journalism field in the Lone Star state. Ambitious always, he was not satisfied to stay long in the menial position of reporter, and it was not long till he jumped to the position of editor—but, of another paper, and on his own hook. The Critic was the heading under which his new venture was launched, and under which it sailed a fairly smooth sea until it was re-christened the Texas Oil Critic and became an independent promoter of the interests of the vast Texas oil industry.

The Critic was a publication given over mainly to free lance reflections of doings about Fort Worth, and offered an opportunity for Garfield to elaborate on his humorous and sarcastic style of writing. It made considerable of a "hit" but was not extremely remunerative. The oil development near Fort Worth at this time opened up a greater opportunity, and thus it was that the paper was re-christened and threw its efforts into another channel.

Since establishing the Texas Oil Critic, Mr. Crawford has been constantly in the oil paper publishing game, consolidating several oil journals, and editing respectively the Texas Oil Critic, Texas Oil Journal and Digest and the National Oil Journal. Each paper being absorbed by its successor. His present "pet" is the National Oil Journal, a weekly 16-page newspaper devoted to the interests of oil investors. From the job of reporter which he filled on first going to Texas, Garfield has climbed to the position where he now has 33 regular employees on his payroll who help make one of the biggest oil papers in the country, in connection with which they do a good-sized job printing business.

Garfield also numbers among his assets a fine wife and daughter. His wife, Kitty Barry, who is a writer of considerable note in Texas newspaper circles, was unable to accompany him on his northern trip, but little Jane, 8 years old, is enjoying with him the visit with relatives here.

Ralph Jackson Has Close Call With Gasoline Fire

Ralph Jackson, young farmer of Socorro, N. M., had a close call with a gasoline fire in his garage which completely destroyed his automobile, granary and a lot of wheat and barley, one day last week. Ralph went into the building with a lantern and hung it up where he thought it was perfectly safe. He then proceeded to fill the gasoline tank on his car, but he accidentally spilled some of the gasoline on the floor and the whole place was filled with flames before he hardly knew what had happened. It made him hustle to get in the clear, and he put out the flames which had caught his clothes by rolling in the dust, before they did him bodily injury.

Undergoes Operation at Hospital.

George Moore, mention of whose ailment was made in this paper last week, entered the Moore hospital on Saturday afternoon and was operated upon by Dr. C. C. Chick of this city, assisted by Dr. Walker of Ione. Mr. Moore had suffered much of late, his trouble proving to be both appendicitis and gall stones. He is reported to be getting along well and should be able to leave the hospital in due course of time.

MORROW EXHIBIT LARGER THIS YEAR

Seed Treating Machine to Be Sent by Heppner Firm—List of Exhibitors Given.

(East Oregonian.)
Morrow county's exhibit at the coming Northwest Hay and Grain show, to be held here during Round-Up week, will be twice as large as that of last year.

It is expected that Morrow county growers will take a number of prizes as Burton H. Peck, of Heppner, won first prize for Turkey Red and C. E. Carlson of Ione won first for Forty Fold at last year's show, while other exhibitors from that county won most of the prize money for haled alfalfa. An interesting feature from Morrow county will be a seed treating machine which is being sent by the Heppner firm which makes it and which will demonstrate during the show. It is attached to the seed cleaner and runs with the same power. It treats with copper carbonate and arrangements have been made to have Umattilla county farmers bring in several loads of wheat for treatment.

Saving Shown.
Last year's treatment demonstrated that copper carbonate controlled smut on an average as well as other treatments, that the plants were more vigorous, growth was prompter, and saved at least 25 per cent. If the method proves satisfactory, at least 50,000 bushels can be saved annually says Fred Bennion, county agent, as one of the largest items is charged to injury in germination.

C. C. Calkins, Morrow county agent will be here Saturday to start the machines in operation.

Following is the list of Morrow county's exhibitors, whose wheat, in purity, tests from 99.5 to 99.95 per cent, and who, in many cases will exhibit their grain at the State Fair after showing it here:

Turkey Red Exhibitors.
Certified—L. Redding, Eight Mile; C. R. Peterson, Ione; Harvie McRobert, Lexington; R. W. Brown, Ione; and F. E. Mason, Lexington.
Not certified—Wm. Davidson, Morgan; H. V. Smouse, Ione; Peck Bros., Lexington; S. E. Simonton, Lexington; Geo. White, Lexington, and Myles E. Martin, Lexington.

Forty Fold Exhibitors.
Certified—Oscar Keithley, Eight Mile; L. Carlson, Ione; L. Redding, Eight Mile; and C. E. Carlson, Ione.
Not certified—Jess Wardfield, Ione; Jeff Jones, Heppner and Chas. Wagner, Ione.

Hybrid 128.
Certified—Phil Cohn, Heppner and L. A. Palmer, Lexington, not certified.

Hybrid 63.
A. A. McCabe, Ione, not certified.

Gaigalos.
W. G. Palmateer, Morgan, not certified.

The sack of Bluestem grown by E. H. Turner of Ione and one sack of Turkey Red grown by Chas. O. Porter also of Ione, neither of which are certified have been entered.

Rietmann-Vactor Patents.

Saturday, September 2nd, the marriage of Edward Rietmann to Miss Ruth Vactor was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in The Dalles.

The groom is one of Morrow county's extensive and prosperous ranchers, while the bride, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Vactor, was a most charming and popular girl wherever known, especially at Heppner, where she was the young womanhood. The best wishes of all go out to the young couple—lone independent.

Frank Moore Trades For Valley Property

A deal was completed this week in which Frank Moore traded his Willow creek ranch for a farm near Albany, A. H. Hendrickson, the second party to the deal. Mr. Hendrickson has taken possession of the Moore ranch and the Moore family will leave soon for their new place.

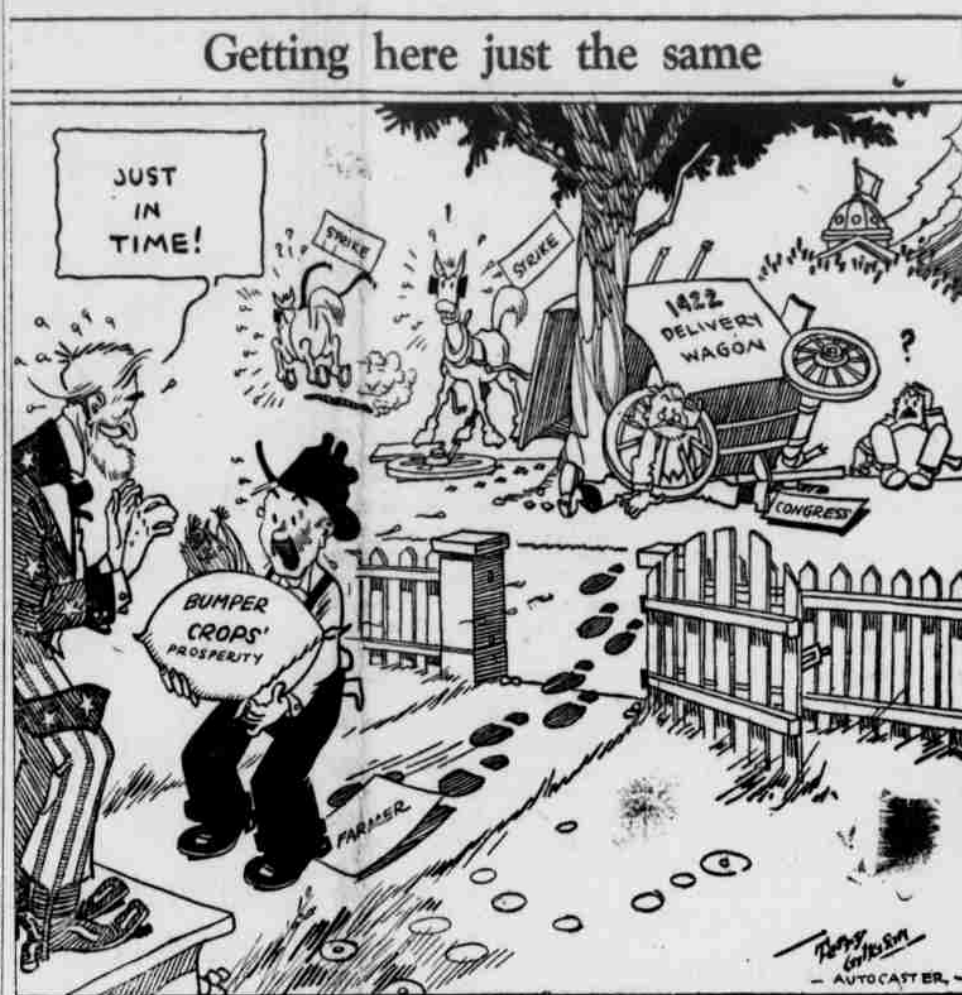

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore have been residents of this county for several years and have made a great many friends here who are indeed sorry to see them leave. They have improved the place extensively and are considered among the best farmers of this section. Mr. Moore is one of the directors of the Hardman Platoon association.

The acquisition of the Moore farm by Mr. Hendrickson gives him a very complete stock raising plant. In conjunction with his Cecil ranch and the Hamilton ranch in the mountains he has a combination that is hard to beat. The new place gives him much additional pasture and wheat land with a large acreage of alfalfa bottom.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT.
Notice is hereby given that Laura F. Adkins, Executrix of the Last Will and Testament of Ora E. Adkins, deceased has filed her final account with the Clerk of the County Court of the State of Oregon for Morrow County, and that said Court has set as the time for the hearing on and the settlement of said account, Saturday, October 21, 1922, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m. Any one having objections to said account must file them on or before the time of settlement of said account.

Laura F. Adkins.

Livingstones Give Buffet Luncheon.
A fine luncheon, served cafeteria style, was the feature of an entertainment at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Livingstone last evening, about forty young folks of the town being guests. It was much in the order of a "get acquainted party" and many mirth-producing games were played.

Funeral of Mrs. T. A. Driskell Held Sunday

The funeral of Mrs. T. A. Driskell, who died at Pendleton on Thursday last, was held at the Federated church in this city on Sunday and burial was made in Masonic cemetery.

C. C. Calkins, Morrow county agent will be here Saturday to start the machines in operation. Following is the list of Morrow county's exhibitors, whose wheat, in purity, tests from 99.5 to 99.95 per cent, and who, in many cases will exhibit their grain at the State Fair after showing it here:

Community Sale Will Be Held October 7th

E. J. Keller has set the date for his big community sale as Saturday, October 7th. He is expecting a large amount of stock and other saleable articles and is hoping to make this first sale a big success. Ed says the community sale is really a necessary institution and gives the people an opportunity to get a good price for any surplus stock or machinery or household goods they may have, and at the same time gives the other fellow the chance to buy what he may need. The sale will be held at the feed yard on Chase street and those having anything they would like to sell are advised to get in touch with Mr. Keller.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Akers arrived home on Saturday from Portland, where they have been spending the past two weeks enjoying their vacation. They were accompanied to Portland by their daughter, Miss Alma Akers, who will spend the winter there at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Vaughn.

Alex Warren of Hardman and wife, old acquaintances of Frank Cramer and Mr. Bechtold, are the purchasers of 20 acres of land from Eugene Cummins. The reported price is $200 per acre.—Boardman Mirror.

During September your 50c is worth a $1.00 at Hayler's.

REPUBLICANS WILL ADOPT A PLATFORM

Meeting to be September 26 of Representative Delegation

PARTY RESPONSIBLE

Effort to be Made to Secure Organized Agreement of Real State Economic Issues

CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—The Republican state committee, under instructions from legislative and senatorial candidates, chairman and vice chairmen, and all Republican county officers and Republican candidates for county office, a committee was appointed at a meeting held in Eugene Saturday to draft a set of resolutions for submission to the convention. Senator Bruce Dennis of La Grande was made chairman of the committee and any Republican having any suggestions of "planks" to offer, is invited to send the same to Mr. Dennis, but all such planks must be submitted before noon of September 25.

Headquarters for the convention will be at the Imperial hotel and the place for holding the meetings will be announced through the press. This convention is the result of a trip through the state of the officers of the new Republican state central committee, Chairman Toomey and Secretary C. E. Ingalls. They have visited every county in the state and organized the county committees. At a meeting held in Pendleton of eastern Oregon Republicans it was decided to hold a state wide meeting for the purpose of adopting a platform providing the plan met with the approval of the Republicans of the First and Third congressional districts. This meeting was held at Eugene Saturday and the plan was unanimously approved.

"I think it is very important," said chairman Toomey, "for the Republican party to have a platform upon which its state candidates should run. This will enable the Republicans of the state to know what they are voting for and will definitely establish the purpose of adopting a platform providing the plan met with the approval of the Republicans of the First and Third congressional districts. This meeting was held at Eugene Saturday and the plan was unanimously approved."

Tum-A-Lum Company To Give Tickets to the Rodeo

The Tum-A-Lum Lumber company will give Rodeo tickets to those who make this week "Pay Up Week" at the lumber yards. The tickets will be given according to the schedule published in their ad on another page. This will be a good chance to get into the Rodeo free of charge and at the same time let the Tum-A-Lum company clean up a little on past due accounts.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to thank our many friends and relatives who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement and for the many beautiful floral offerings.

MR. THOMAS A. DRISKELL, WILLIAM DRISKELL, MRS. GEO. STEVENSON, THOMAS DRISKELL, MRS. FRED NEWTON, MRS. GLEN HAYES, GEORGE DRISKELL, HERBERT DRISKELL.

J. W. Becket came up from Portland on Thursday last and has been spending the week here and at the Eight Mile farm looking after business interests.

W. P. Dutton came in Wednesday evening from Portland and will spend a few days in the city on business.

Ford Caravan Here During the Rodeo

Word was received this morning by the Latourell Auto company that the Ford Caravan will be in Heppner September 27, 28, 29 and 30, and will give demonstrations all three days of the Rodeo. The caravan, composed of gas-driven and tractor drawn farm implements, trucks and automobiles carries with it a 21-piece band and orchestra. The demonstrations are of interest not only to the farmers and others whose occupations necessitate the use of the machines, but also to the general public as well.

An interesting feature of the caravan is a complete radio receiving set, which will be on display and will be thoroughly explained to anyone interested. Daily radio concerts will be given.

Mr. Latourell of the local company, has been in Portland and Pendleton this week completing arrangements for the appearance of the caravan in Heppner on these dates.

Forest Fires Raging In South End County

Large crews are working day and night combating forest fires, two of which are raging in the south end of the county. One, on Mallory creek is about 1500 acres in extent and is rapidly coming under control. The other, at the head of Rhea creek a few miles above the Hamilton ranch, is larger and according to the last word received here was still beyond the control of the fighters.

The timber is so dry now that it is a hard proposition to control a fire there, and much credit is due the forest service for the manner in which they have put men on the job against forest fires. Several loads of men and supplies have gone out from here.

Stephen Doak and family were in the city Saturday from their wheat farm out north of Ione. This has been a pretty short season for the farmers in his neighborhood, yet Mr. Doak is optimistic and is preparing to seed another large acreage for the coming year.

Mrs. Maude Pointer of Lexington was in Heppner on Thursday and made this office a pleasant call. Mrs. Pointer, with her family, is moving to Salem this week, where she expects to spend the coming winter and place her children in school.

H. C. Gay, formerly a resident of Morrow county, but now residing on the Umattilla river near Hermiston, was a visitor in Heppner over Sunday.

Sheep Men Buying Third Crop Pasture

R. B. Stanfield and Al Hiatt are among the Echo Alfalfa growers who have sold their third crop for sheep pasture, states Echo News. The sheepmen will bring their flocks and herd them on the ground, thus harvesting the third crop without trouble and expense of cutting and stacking. The continued dry weather and hot days have dried up much of the range and stockmen are beginning to look for better pasture.

Anson Wright was down from Hardman ranch on Saturday to look after business matters in Heppner.

WANTED—Woman to take care of baby on ranch. No housework. Inquire this office.

FOR SALE—Some chickens, Ford car, six-gallon-a-day Jersey cow, Ed Keller.

I do plain sewing. Mrs. A. M. Bedwell, O. W. R. & N. section house, 4t.

WANTED—House for permanent renter. Inquire this office.

American Legion Is Active in Oregon

Patrick Evans, a patient in the U. S. Veterans hospital at Palo Alto, California, has appealed to the Oregon Legion to locate comrades who served with him in the 116th Engineers. Mr. Evans needs affidavits in order to assist him in showing present sickness resulted from his service in the World war. Anyone having served with Mr. Evans is asked to communicate with State Headquarters American Legion at Portland.

Essays on "How the American Legion Can Best Serve the Nation" are arriving at State Headquarters in Portland. School children in Oregon will have until October 6th to prepare their essays, extensions being granted in order to give students an opportunity of consulting with their teachers. Prizes as follows, will be given winners: National, $750, first; $500, second; $250, third; to be used as scholarships.

The essay must not be over 500 words in length. Any boy or girl between the ages of 12 and 18 may compete. All essays must be in the hands of the State Adjutant of the American Legion in Portland not later than October 6th. Selections will be made by legions judged the best essays and these will be forwarded and entered in the national contest. National winners will be announced during November.

A round-up with all the trimmings will be held by the Fossil American Legion post during the Wheeler county fair, Buckaroos from surrounding communities will enter the legion event. The post will also hold dances during the fair and furnish music from their newly installed radio to the public.

American Legion posts in Central Oregon are in a flourishing condition, reports Harry N. Nelson, department adjutant, who has just returned from a tour of that section of the state.

The only out of doors dance hall maintained by a legion in the state was found in Redmond, where the post also has club rooms and a swimming tank. A home for the local post is being constructed at Madras, he asserted.

The $50,000 athletic club of the Percy A. Stevens post at Bend was inspected by the department adjutant who found it an example worthy of emulation in many other cities. Extensive preparations for the fall and winter activities are being made among the posts of the central counties and a great deal of interest in the American Legion is being shown, declared Nelson on his return to Portland, where state headquarters of the legion is located.

P. T. A. Has Reception For Heppner Teachers

The teachers in the Heppner school this year were given a hearty welcome at the school building Friday evening when they were guests of the Patron-Teachers association at a reception. There were many patrons of the school in attendance. After a short musical program in the auditorium everyone was invited to the basement where the fun began. All the husbands present were lined up on exhibition and from them were selected the best looking husband, the best all-round husband, the most depressed husband and the highest husband. The judges, George McDuffee, J. A. Waters and Frank Turner, made an error or two in their selections, giving prizes to two men who have not yet attained the position of Benedict, but for this they were forgiven when they informed the guests that the young men were doing their best to get there. Mrs. C. W. Shurtle acted as master of ceremonies, and after the judging was completed refreshments were served.

R. B. Stanfield and Al Hiatt are among the Echo Alfalfa growers who have sold their third crop for sheep pasture, states Echo News. The sheepmen will bring their flocks and herd them on the ground, thus harvesting the third crop without trouble and expense of cutting and stacking. HALL RULED OUT IF ELECTED GOVERNOR

Attorney General Says He Could Not Be Declared Elected by Governor—Can Run But Can't Win.

The secretary of state, as an administrative official, has authority to withhold from the ballots of the general election in November the name of Charles Hall as an independent candidate for governor but under the present law the governor of the state would be prohibited from including Hall's name in the election proclamation in the event Hall received enough votes to elect him according to an opinion of Attorney General Van Winkle announced at Salem on the 15th inst.

The opinion is an interpretation of the statute which provides that no candidate who is defeated in the primaries can be a candidate at the ensuing general election. Hall was defeated for nomination. When his certification of nomination as an independent candidate by a recent assembly in Portland reached the secretary of state the secretary asked the attorney general if his name should be placed on the ballot.

Under the attorney general's ruling Hall has no legal right to run as an independent candidate. Should he receive a plurality of votes, a governor is legally prohibited from proclaiming his election which would be equivalent to no election. Then, under the law, the president of the senate would succeed him at the expiration of the present governor's term.

Returns Home to Corvallis.

Mrs. M. A. Leach has returned to her home at Corvallis after a short time spent at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. McFaul. Dr. Leach who is a patient at the hospital at present will remain here until after the Round-Up. He is a nephew of Dr. McFaul.—Pendleton Tribune.

CARD OF THANKS.

To our many friends who desire to take this method of extending our grateful thanks for their assistance and sympathy extended us in our bereavement in the death of our mother, Ann M. Minor, and for the many beautiful floral offerings.

THE FAMILY.

Teachers Institute Will Be Held October 16-18

The Morrow County Teachers Institute will be held in Heppner October 16, 17 and 18. C. W. Shurtle, county superintendent, is busy now arranging the program and is getting some of the leading instructors of the northwest lined up as instructors. In addition to the usual work of the institute there will be some entertainment features and it is expected the teachers of the county will have an unusually enjoyable time here this year.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Mrs. E. N. Crawford, who has been spending the summer at Fort Worth, Texas, visiting her son Garfield and his family, reached home on Thursday last, being accompanied by her son and his wife. Mrs. Crawford has not been around Heppner for some time, and he has had a very enjoyable time since reaching here, visiting with his pals of former days. Mrs. Crawford enjoyed the visit in the South very much, and returns home feeling quite well from the long journey.

Anderson Cannon, who as referee in bankruptcy frequently visits this section, passed through Heppner on Saturday, returning to his home at Portland. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cannon and his sister, Mrs. Jennie Marvin. Both Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Marvin are old-time friends and former schoolmates of the editor of this paper, and we enjoyed a pleasant short visit with them.

J. D. Bauman, who is a successful farmer residing on Willow creek below Heppner, was in the city Saturday, and while here called at this office to leave us a sample box of his fine Crawford peaches. We have been enjoying the fruit for several days since, and J. D. has our thanks for this treat. The fruit is just as fine as any we have ever had the pleasure of eating.

J. B. Huddleston, Lone Rock sheepman, was a visitor in this city for a few days the first of the week. He is now one of the most successful ranchers of that part of Wheeler county and the rural life has done much to restore Jim to his former state of good health. A visit to Heppner occasionally is a good tonic, also.

FOR SALE—365-acre farm; 275 acres plow land, balance pasture; fair house and barn, plenty good water; 1-4 mile from high school. Price $14 per acre; $2000 cash, balance in two years. Bert Blackman, Hardman, Or.

T. H. Lowe and Jack Hynd of Cecil were in the city on Friday. They were accompanied by Mr. Wheeler, who just recently arrived at Cecil from England and is visiting with the Lowe and Hynd families.

C. E. Shaver was in the city Monday from Ione settling up with the tax collector. He is still in the well drilling business and finding water for the residents of the lone county.

The family of Percy Hughes has moved to town for the winter to put the children in the local school. They have taken up their residence in the Tom Ayers house on Chase street.

Andy Reed is busy with the grain drills on his big Heppner flat ranch and already has better than 900 acres in. He expects to seed at least 1600 acres this fall.

Late model Buick five-passenger touring car for sale or will trade for cattle or sheep. Inquire this office.

Wood and coal range for sale reasonably. Also kitchen table and chairs. Inquire this office.
