Harlan D. McCurdy, prosperous farmer of lone, who runs the big Davidson ranch over on the border line of Gilliam and Morrow counties, was doing business in the city yesterday. Mr. McCurdy is much interested in getting the market road out of Heppner to the south just as soon as it is possible to do so. He feels that it will be a big help to the Eight Mile and Gooseberry farmers; or the extension of the road south from lone would serve the purpose of helping the wheatraisers of this part of the country mightily.

The marriage of Andrew Patterson to Miss Margery Meldrum of Portland, was solemnized at Vancouver, Wash., on Saturday, October 21. Rev. Baskerville, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city performing the ceremony. Mr. Patterson is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Patterson of this city, and he and his bride will make their home in Portland. The wedding was attended by Mrs. Patterson and her son Baird, mother and brother of the groom.

County Agent C. C. Calkins and family returned home on Sunday from a visit of ten days to Corvallis and other Valley points. Mr. Calkins was called to the college town to attend a conference of county agents, and reports a very interesting and profitable meeting in connection with the extension work. He was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. C. S. Calkins, and his sister, Miss Alice Calkins, of Lebanon, who will visit for a short time here.

A. B. Manley, president of the Manley Auto Co. of Portland was in the city on Friday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Manley, and after spending a short time here they motored on over to Pendleton, where Mrs. Manley has relatives living. The Manley Auto Co. are the general agents of the Humobile for this state, which line of cars they handle exclusively, and they hope a little later to establish a local agency at Heppner.

Milton Morgan, of Julietta, Idaho, who was here to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Artemesia Salting on Friday last, was for many years a resident of Morrow county and engaged in farming in the vicinity of Sand Hollow. He left here a good many years ago and has been residing in Idaho since. He noted that many of those with whom he was familiar in former years were now departed and he missed their faces.

L. A. Florence was in from the Willow creek ranch yesterday and reports considerable snow on the foothills, the result of Tuesday's storm. Incidentally, Mr. Florence remembered the C.T. in a nice manner, and called attention to the fact that for the past 39 years he has never failed to receive the weekly visits of this paper, being a charter member of the Gazette subscription list when the paper was started.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Anderson arrived from Hood River during the past week, where they have been residing for some time. Mr. Anderson was formerly engaged in farming in the Eight Mile section but having disposed of his interests out there he went to the Hood River valley to locate. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home in Heppner for the winter.

Charley Stanton came down from

Dayton, Washington, on Saturday and has been spending the week here on business. When he left home the weather was fine and warm but he did not find it quite so nice upon reaching Heppner. He recognizes, however, that the rains of the week are just what we are needing here.

Dr. C. C. Chick returned on Sunday evening from a trip to Portland, going down the middle of last week to take in the health exposition, which he states was a very fine and profitable affair. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chick and Mrs. Dr. Farrier, the former going on to Eugene for a visit with her son, Chas. Chick, a student in the University of Oregon.

Joe Simas, prominent stockman of the Monument section, was in this city for a couple of days the first of the week. Mr. Simas states that the work of rebuilding Monument is going on, and that several very substantial buildings have been erected to take the place of those destroyed in the fire of the early part of the summer.

Chas. H. Latourell returned home Tuesday from the mountains, having spent several days in the vicinity of Penland prairie in quest of deer, accompanied by Mr. Albee, the game warden. Charley states that he failed to shoot any game, but got a deer just the same, by reason of taking the game warden along. Quite a scheme.

Dr. A. D. McMurdo and Postmaster Smead spent a few days out in the wilds of the Blue mountains the first of the week, in quest of deer. Mr. Smead was not successful in getting anything, while Dr. McMurdo landed a fine big buck, and a number of his friends have been enjoying venison during the week.

A. A. Ages, who is quite extensively engaged in wheat farming in the vicinity of Ella, was a visitor in this city on Friday. He states that the greater portion of the fall sown grain in his section is up and growing fine—just in the right condition to receive a few good showers of rain.

Frank Christenson, formerly engaged in the drug business at lone is visiting here this week, a guest of Dr. C. C. Chick. At the present time Mr. Christenson makes his home at Portland but figures that he may locate in some other place when the proper business opportunity opens up.

Assessor J. J. Wells departed on Sunday for Salem to attend a state meeting of the assessors and assist in the deliberations of that body. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wells and they will enjoy a short outing before returning home.

Everett Pattison, who is a student this winter at the Benhke-Walker business college in Portland, came up Sunday to spend a couple of weeks with the home folks, and assist with the work at the Herald office.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bergstrom, who own one of the best farms in Morrow county, situated in the heart of Eight Mile, were visitors in Heppner for a short time on Tuesday.

Karl Beach, Morrow county representative of the Studebaker line of cars, and hardware man of Lexington, was doing business in this city on Friday last.

Herbert Olden, large wheatraiser of Fairview, was in the city yesterday. He is now about entirely recovered from his recent severe illness.

Mrs. Dr. Fred E. Farrier and young son, Freddie, are visiting with their relatives in Portland this week. They expect to return home in a day or two.

Mrs. W. W. Eecholt of Hardman, was a guest over Sunday at the home of her mother, Mrs. N. S. Whetstone, in this city.

Erik Bergstrom, who is an extensive wheatraiser of the Gooseberry country was doing business in this city on Tuesday.

Glyde Witratt departed Tuesday morning for Baker, Oregon, where he hopes to find employment for the winter.

For Sale—Some good young hogs; also Rhode Island Red chickens, O. T. Ferguson, Heppner Oregon, 2t.

Richard Peterson, extensive farmer of the Gooseberry section was doing business in this city on Tuesday.

Mrs. John Carmichael of Lexington was a visitor in this city on Tuesday.

Miss Pauline Hoppold, of Wasco, has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of Woodson & Sewek. Miss Hoppold, who is a sister of Henry Hoppold of this city arrived at Heppner on Sunday.

The Exposition Means Immediate State Development

YOU ARE ASKED to vote November 7 on a constitutional amendment authorizing the city of Portland to levy within the city a tax of one million dollars a year for three years to finance the proposed 1927 Exposition.

There is evidence that plans and purposes of the 1927 Exposition are not fully understood and this message is being published to give a more complete understanding and to gain state-wide approval of the Exposition plans.

It should first of all be made plain that the proposed three million dollar tax to be levied in Portland is contingent upon the raising of a fund of one million dollars by private subscription—the men who are pioneering the building of the Exposition showing their own faith in a material way.

The one purpose of the Exposition is the development of Oregon and Oregon resources.

Oregon, twice the size of the state of New York and one of the richest sections of the world in natural resources, has less than a million population instead of the four or five millions which the state can easily support and which in turn would contribute to the support of the state.

Oregon has fewer people than the city of Los Angeles.

Oregon has only eight people to the square mile. California has 22 and Washington 20.

Oregon is burdened with taxes and the one sure relief to the individual taxpayer is more people to develop more wealth to share the tax burden.

Vast areas of Oregon soil, as fertile as the world contains, are untouched by the plow because the people of the world do not know of their fertility and opportunity.

But these are facts we all know.

We are all agreed as to the need of development in Oregon; now let us see what the 1927 Exposition can mean in bringing about that development:

It is proposed that the 1927 Exposition shall be the central feature of a ten-year development plan for the state.

The first essential of this plan is that the people of the East who can better their own conditions by coming to Oregon be made to know what Oregon can offer.

It is planned, if the Exposition measure is approved at the polls, to begin, not later than 1924, a campaign of advertising which shall cover all the rich states to the east of us. This advertising is to appeal to farmers, stockmen, orchardists, manufacturers and tourists, telling each of these classes of the opportunities which Oregon offers them and inviting them to come and see for themselves. All this advertising will lead up to the 1927 Exposition, but it will be intended to attract not alone sight-seers but settlers and investors even before the Exposition.

It is planned also to continue this development programme after the Exposition is ended and until 1934.

It is proposed that the Exposition shall strongly feature the products and resources of Oregon, so that visitors will become interested in the state as a place for them to live and prosper.

Each section of the state will be given an opportunity to benefit both by the preliminary advertising and by the Exposition itself.

Railways will be asked to sell excursion tickets to the Exposition, which shall give the holders without extra cost a trip to other sections of the state which they may desire to visit.

Each county in the state will be invited to participate in a carefully worked-out plan to direct attention to and create interest in all sections of the state.

Those who sponsor the Exposition believe that these plans will insure a speedy and definite development of Oregon's vast resources by bringing together the entire energies of the state and by focusing attention upon the state.

The welfare of every man, woman and child in Oregon is directly connected with state development. Adequate state development means increased prosperity, a better social condition, better markets, more comforts and conveniences, with reduced taxation.

In the present condition of the United States and of the world at large, Oregon's state development will not come speedily unless well thought-out and aggressive plans are put into execution.

The 1927 Exposition—as the concentration point of a ten-year development plan—is a definite, tangible movement for state-wide progress, and on this basis you can confidently give your approval to the Exposition measures to be voted on at the polls November 7.

Why the Exposition Has Been Set Forward From 1925 to 1927

The change of date from 1925 to 1927 has been made because it has been found impossible to build an adequate Exposition and to co-ordinate all its features in a general plan for Oregon development in the little more than two years between now and 1925.
