

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rugg spent a few hours in Heppner on Monday. Mr. Rugg is of the opinion the county will have good crops of all kinds this season, all things seem to be pointing in that direction. He is also convinced that it is a good thing for the farmers to have 150 or 200 good hens running around the ranch, as there is always a market for eggs and they bring some handy cash that assists materially in keeping the larder supplied. Mr. Rugg never fails to bring a crate or so of fresh eggs to town when he is coming in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lundy were in from their Rhea creek farm on Monday. They report a fine rain out there Sunday, and we judge from other reports received later, showers have followed in succession almost every day since. Grain is growing well and prospects are bright for good crops.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Young were in the city Tuesday to attend the funeral of J. J. Adkins, who was their neighbor and friend of so many years. Elmer Griffiths, merchant of Lone, was in Heppner on Saturday, at which time he bid in the big pavilion for the Legion boys. This property, formerly owned by the C. T. Walker estate, was sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy a claim of Bert Mason against J. W. Payear and wife, into whose hands the property had passed upon settlement of the Walker estate. There were some other bids offered on the property at the sale, also.

Henry A. Thompson, formerly a resident of Heppner and engaged in the livery business here, has been spending the past week in the city. Since leaving Heppner, Mr. Thompson has lived in Portland, where he has followed different vocations, but principally engaged in the real estate business. He spent the greater part of last summer here.

Work of remodeling the north room and warehouse of the I. O. O. F. building was begun on Monday. The rooms are being placed in shape for the restaurant business of Edward Chinn, who expects to move into the building just as soon as the repairs are completed, which it is expected will be about the first of the coming month.

Ralph and Harley Adkins arrived from Aberdeen, Wash., Saturday to be at the bedside of their father, J. J. Adkins. Harley has a position with the railroad in the union station at Aberdeen. He states that the Grays Harbor section is enjoying prosperity and appears to have a great future before it. The boys returned home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wells came over from Pendleton the end of the week to get their little son, Woodrow, who they had left with the family of J. J. Wells that he might continue with his class until the close of school. The little boy became ill, so his parents thought best to take him home with them.

Emmett Jones this week took over the interest of Top Reasener in the Heppner Transfer Company, and will continue the business as sole proprietor. They have been associated together for the past year. Mr. Reasener has no particular business in view at present.

J. S. Johnson, who farms quite extensively in the lone country, was in Heppner Monday to settle his tax account and look after other business affairs. Since the weather has turned warmer, wheat is growing well and gives promise of a good crop.

Fred Groom, forest ranger, was over from Pendleton during the past week to attend a meeting of the Hardman Cattle and Horse association. Mr. Groom is ranger in this section during the summer season, and maintains an office at Heppner.

Prof. Howard M. James and family drove up from Arlington Saturday morning and remained over until Sunday afternoon, enjoying a visit with friends in this city. He contemplates locating a job in Western Oregon for the coming year.

Mrs. Wilson E. Brock and Mrs. Jas. Cooley of Pendleton, nieces of the late J. J. Adkins, were in Heppner on Tuesday to attend the funeral of their uncle. They remained over until today for a visit with other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kellogg of Lexington spent a short time in the city Monday afternoon. Mr. Kellogg is principal of the Lexington school and has Mrs. Kellogg as one of his teachers in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Latourell departed on Friday for Gresham, going by way of Buxton. They were called below to attend the funeral of an uncle of Mrs. Latourell, taking place at Gresham on Saturday afternoon.

The roads between Pendleton and Heppner by way of Arlington are in excellent condition now, according to Fred Groom, forest ranger, who returned yesterday from a business trip there.—Pendleton E. O.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney of Heppner and children Phillip and Kathleen, were Pendleton visitors yesterday, arriving here by motor Mr. Mahoney is a Heppner banker.—Pendleton E. O.

August Lieb, extensive ranchman of the west side of the county, was in Heppner Saturday to interview the tax collector and attend to other matters of business.

W. C. Howard and son and Mrs. O. E. Adkins arrived from Milton on Monday evening to be present at the funeral of the late J. J. Adkins on Tuesday.

Mrs. French Burroughs, accompanied by her son, Glenn Burroughs and wife, were visitors in Heppner Saturday from their home near Jordan Sid-ing.

Joseph Eckelson is up from Salem to spend a short time in Morrow county, looking after his interests here. He was in Heppner on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smouse, residing near Lone, were up to Heppner on Monday. Mr. Smouse is a leading farmer of the lone section.

F. L. Harwood, jeweler, returned Thursday afternoon from a business trip to Portland, where he found everything quite lively.

Ike Howard, proprietor of a fine alfalfa farm at Lone, was in Heppner a short time on Saturday to attend to business matters.

Jake Young arrived from Aloha, Oregon, on Monday evening, to spend a short time visiting with his relatives in Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McNamer returned Monday from a visit of a week at Walla Walla with the people of Mrs. McNamer.

the BEST OIL made is refined from WESTERN CRUDE

The motorist who pays fancy prices for oil, often pays for something he does not get. Zerolene costs less because it is produced in California from selected California naphthenic crude, which, of all the crudes so far discovered, yields the most efficient lubricating oils. Zerolene lubricates better. It forms from 25% to 50% less carbon. It has greater adhesiveness and penetration than oils made from any other crude.

An Anchor to Windward

SAFETY & SERVICE

AILORS know the wisdom of having an anchor to windward. That precaution has prevented many a disaster.

To have a money surplus—capital in reserve—is simply throwing an anchor to windward. It will prevent your drifting on to the rocks of dependence and want.

The time to build up a reserve, a safeguard for future, is now when you are strong and able to work and sacrifice. You don't know about the future, but you do know that now, today, you are able to earn and save. Make the most of your present opportunity and prepare yourself for greater ones later on.

The Man Who Signs Must Make Good

RESPONSIBLE man puts his name to a piece of paper and it becomes a check—the equivalent of money.

He signs his name on the back of another piece of paper and it becomes an endorsed note—good for money.

He writes a letter and it becomes a binding contract.

The adding of the name makes these things solemn and legal obligations.

The man who signs is responsible.

Just so with an advertisement—the moment a man signs his name to it he has made a pledge to the public.

He is bound by his word as much as if he signed a check or a note. He must do what he promised on the terms he promised.

If he does not, he courts business disaster. The man who advertises a lie publicly proclaims himself a liar. Such men are seldom in business but frequently in asylums.

Is it safer to buy advertised articles than nondescript ones. It is safer to deal with merchants who advertise than with those who do not.

An advertisement is a signed pledge of good faith to the public.

See the merchants and manufacturers who welcome the chance to back their goods and products with their names.
