MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER. Foreign Advertising Representative THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

PERSEVERANCE COUNTS MOST.

WEALTH inherited is never valued like wealth earned. Victory is great as the battle is hard. There is no short road to real triumph. That which is gained easily is lost easily. "Easy comes, easy goes." The plant that grows fast withers rapidly. The tree that grows slowly endures.

Steadfast application will do more than the quick, hard blow of impatience. Dropping work will cut its way through granite. Mountains were not made in moments; they are the work of ages. Great deeds are done not by strength but by persistence.

Want a thing long enough, work for it long enough and you are pretty sure to get it. A single purpose is the first essential to success. Stick to it. Tenacity is the primary element of greatness. It is wisdom to build castles in the air; but it is folly to stop there. Go to your foundation, pile stone upon stone until you reach your castle. Then it is yours.

"Stay with it" is the slogan that makes the cowboy master of the bucking broncho. "Don't give up the ship," was the command to his men that brought Perry victory. Perpetual pushing puts difficulties out of countenance and makes seeming impossibilities give way.

Over-confidence foreshadows neglect. Don't go to sleep at the switch. It isn't worth the risk. The pick and spade persistently applied at a fixed place may penetrate a mountain. The oceans have been wedded through the Suez and Panama Canals by just plain digging.

There is no creature so humble but who, armed with determination, may not gain his point. By gnawing through a dyke even a rat may drown a nation. No soldier was ever decorated with shoulder straps for marking time.

Brand the word "forward" on your brain. Always obey it. Go ahead and keep going. Don't worry about what the other fellow can do. He may be better than you, but you stick to your job. You may be the tortoise that wins the race. For—"He that shall endure unto the end the same shall be saved."

1900. Iowa came second, and Illinois third. It is the farmer and the demands of the farmer that keep the manure of the East busy and hold labor at its task. How important it is that each should understand the problems and ambitions of the other, the farmer and the bricklayer, the mill worker and the farm hand—the real men of America, the sustainers of American life.

EVERY mile of good roads laid by States, counties, towns and villages has a bearing on the nation's business so far reaching that it would puzzle the mind to follow it to its logical conclusion. Of course, the natural tendency is to look at the benefits that come nearest and seemest to hand, benefits which are indisputable, providing unwise financing of such improvements does not more than offset the good that is bound to be gained.

Reports from all over the country show that interurban freighting is on the increase due to good road building, particularly where the terminal facilities of railroads are congested. This means more motor trucks, more men at work, more money earned, and a consequent greater spending power. Haulage of farm products to shipping stations and better still makes his marketing more elastic.

The effect is also seen in the great increase of bus transportation in districts where the street car has not shown its nose as yet, bringing the new life into the small towns. Trade is rapidly increasing, particularly where the merchant has vision to send his message to the outlying districts through the local press.

America today is on the eve of a development in motor trucks, omnibuses, and large and small tractors that in point of volume will surpass the development of the railroads. Some of the railroad men view the situation with a certain feeling of alarm, but there is nothing to fear. It is the same fanciful spectre that haunted the mind of the printer when the typesetting machine came into being. Where one man was at work under the old system there are fifty at work today.

COLUMBIA BASIN PROJECT. FEDERAL investigation of the Columbia Basin project has been authorized by Secretary of Interior, Hubert Work and federal engineers are already assembling data. A congressional appropriation of $100,000 has been provided for the purpose.

The Columbia Basin project, embracing approximately two million acres in Washington, with a more than adequate water supply in Idaho and Montana and with enormous possibilities, is the greatest single irrigation project ever studied by the federal government, according to C. B. Hurley, president of the Columbia Basin Irrigation League.

Federal engineers are not questioning the feasibility of the project but will determine the most economical methods of bringing the water from its source to the arid lands," he said.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of April, 1923. J. J. NYS, Notary Public for Oregon. My commission expires June 18, 1923.

the writer is able to speak to thousands of papers that use this service. Perhaps no better service can be found in America. It is invaluable, not only to the small papers throughout the country, but also to the larger papers.

Let me urge you and your readers to listen to the radio service which is broadcasted from my pulpit every Sunday. Remember the difference in time. Those of you on the Pacific Coast will use Pacific time; in the mountain section, there is a difference of two hours in time; in the middle west, there is a difference of two hours in time; in the Eastern section there is three hours difference.

Letters are coming to us from all over the United States—from the lakes in Maine, from the frozen regions of Canada, from the balmy lands of the South, from the beautiful plains of California, from the fields of Mexico, from the starlight lands of Texas, telling us of the good and the benefits they are receiving. Why shouldn't you listen?

We begin broadcasting every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Tune your instruments and let us speak to you. Praise Mr. Perry and cooperate with him in this great service that the gospel may go out in the waves of the air, and that the great doctrines of constitutional government and the gospel of Jesus Christ may be heard throughout America.

LEGAL NOTICES. STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912. OF THE GAZETTE-TIMES, PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT HEPPNER, OREGON, FOR APRIL 12, 1923.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Vawter Crawford, who, having been duly sworn, according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of The Gazette-Times, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 448, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publishers Vawter and Spencer Crawford, Heppner, Oregon. Editor, Vawter Crawford. Managing Editor, same. Business Managers, same.

That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and address of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.) Vawter and Spencer Crawford, Heppner, Oregon.

Poem by Uncle John. PLEASANT CHAT. AMONG the words I know of, which is fitted to describe the highest class enjoyments of the super-social tribe, there's one that ranks superlative, an' suits my fancy best—the little word is "pleasant," which I reckon you have guessed.

We all love pleasant faces, when we hunt the pleasant nooks, when we want the pleasant looks; a pleasant social function is an easy thing to rhyme—and the little outdoor picnic gives its friends a pleasant time.

We treasure pleasant memories of hours that's long and happy, which we spent in Pleasant Valley, with our Sunday garments on—And it's nothin' short of pleasant, when we hike to Pleasant Grove—And Pleasant Hill's the Eden that the itemizers love!

Yes—the little word is pleasant—for the printer or the scribe, that records the daily doings of Billville's pleasant tribe—with nothin' much HER company—with nothin' much to say, you can start the ball to roll in' with—"We've had a pleasant day!"
