It A. Bedsaul was down from the Hardman country Tuesday. He says that part of the county will certainly harvest a very abundant crop of grain this season, and they certainly need it as the past two seasons at least have been lean ones. No damage from the heavy rains in that part of the county and the grain received much benefit. Harvest will begin about August 1st.

Summer Fruit Pruning Is Aid to Wood Growth

Good Winter Thinning Is Recommended to Develop Fruit Spurs and Help Fruit Buds

Summer pruning of fruit trees to produce fruit spurs or fruit buds is not recommended as a general practice by the O. A. C. experiment station. It has been practiced by a good many growers but results have been more or less erratic.

Unless the operator knows positively that the reaction to summer pruning in any particular planting does
