Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wingfield of Spray have been spending a few days in the city, Mr. Wingfield being interested in the shipping of sheep from this point to the eastern market. The market for stock is not up to the standard that Mr. Wingfield would like to see it, especially as to cattle. He has a large hand of beef stuff that he hopes will take a rise in price soon, and he feels encouraged that they will. The advance in prices for good beef stock is long past due in his opinion, and the grower that can hold on to his beef stuff will profit by doing so.
