MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

Foreign Advertising Representative THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Richard Lloyd Jones Says:

WATCH THE WEIGHT YOU CARRY

DUNK and junk are the two great impediments to progress. It is as important to know how to get rid of things as to get things. We accumulate things that we think are essential to our convenience and comfort only to find in the course of time that they encumber.

Syphilis tells us that it helps rather than harms a tree to occasionally root up and replant it in its early years. The roots become trained to concentrate. Concentration is the first essential step to success. He who dissipates his powers is on the sure road to disappointment.

The captain who permits the hull of his ship to become barnacle-crosted may order just as much power in his engine-room as the ship whose hull is free and clean, but he does not make as much speed.

Despair is the reward of every attempt to carry too heavy a load. The beauty of life is found not in abundance of things we possess, but in the worth of things we hold—the worth they represent to us in our living.

We are prone to go through life with an unconscious accumulation of barnacles, dragging a worthless weight through the waters we should be eager to traverse with speed that we may know the world and be of use to it.

The will determines our progress; freedom and slavery are both acts of the will. He is free who lives stripped of the barnacles of inertia; he is a slave who falls into that which he would avoid.

Wise men get rid of all impediments. The thoughtless and the foolish spend much good energy in acquiring things they soon wish they were rid of.

That which is true of things is also true of thoughts. You abuse rather than use your years when you carry around a load of ancient principles which, through the wear of Dorion Hotel, Pendleton, Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Office Hours: 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Two Days Only

No Charge for Consultation

Dr. Mellenthin is a regular graduate in medicine and surgery and is licensed by the state of Oregon.

He visits professionally the more important towns and cities and offers to all who call on this trip free consultation, except the expense of treatment when desired.

According to his method of treatment he does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of stomach, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit wonderful results in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidneys, bladder, bed wetting, catarrh, weak lungs, rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers and rectal ailments.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember above date, that consultation on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different. Married women must be accompanied by their husbands. Address: 211 Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

MORROW COUNTY SHALL NOT BE FOUND WANTING.

MORROW COUNTY has been slow in answering the Red Cross call for funds to relieve the suffering of the stricken Japanese. At present not quite half of the quota of $925 set for her has been raised. We believe the only reason our county has not yet gone over the top, nearly three weeks after the drive was started, is because our people have not yet come to recognize the magnitude of the need, and need only to be appealed to for a hearty response.

A large section of Japan, including Tokio, its capital, and Yokohama, its chief harbor, is in chaos. The terrific earthquake, followed by typhoon and fire, aside from claiming a death toll of close to a million people, has left want and destruction in its wake. Food stores and fields are destroyed, shelter razed to the ground, and amid the debris babies cry out for nourishment that can not be provided, while thousands of people are left absolutely destitute.

That which is true of things is true of people that has caused the ever-ready hand of the American Red Cross to be extended across the Pacific. But much more money and provisions are needed to save the wounds of affliction. Therefore the Red Cross is broadcasting its appeal that everyone may help supply the deficiency.

In every humanitarian call before, Morrow county has been one of the first to open her heart. When this appeal reaches the pulsating depths we are sure she will not be found wanting.

PRESSURE ON McARTHUR.

HEAVY pressure is being brought on C. N. McArthur to run this time for the U. S. Senate. The pressure represents a desire to have him run rather than any hope of his nomination. McArthur would be performing a fine public service to run even though he had not the slightest notion of being nominated. He stands for principles that are rather unpopular but which have such intrinsic merit that the country sooner or later will return to them, and a campaign for those principles would do good in Oregon even though it were a doomed campaign so far as its outcome is concerned. We wish we could encourage McArthur to believe he had a fighting chance to win but we cannot do so conscientiously. It looks like McArthur would profit by all of the bitter controversies raging around other candidates, and the more of the other candidates there are, the better chance McArthur has of being nominated. Election might be a different

UMATILLA PROJECT BOOSTED.

In Saturday's edition of the East Oregonian of Pendleton, which, by the way, was a big Round-Up edition that will go all over these United States, there was a very complete and comprehensive review of the Umatilla Rapids project, together with a map setting out to the eye just what this project will mean to the states of Oregon and Washington. Along with this article is an interview given the East Oregonian by Senator Charles L. McNary, which we herewith produce in full. It will be noted from this interview that Senator McNary places the Umatilla project ahead of the Muscle Shoals plan, on which the government of the United States has been spending so much money. Senator McNary states:

"Within the drainage area of the Columbia river is located one-third of all the undeveloped water power in the United States. At Umatilla rapids 125,000 continuous horse power can be developed eleven months in the year, and a total of 500,000 horse power can be developed during the season when irrigation is needed.

"This power belongs to the public and like all great powers on navigable streams should be developed in the public interest and under proper regulation and control. It is free from many of the difficulties that beset the Muscle Shoals undertaking and in my judgment horse power can be developed at Umatilla much cheaper than on the Tennessee river where the government is now working upon its nitrogen fixation plants.

"As a member of the senate agricultural commission I made a thorough study of the Muscle Shoals proposition, and have no doubt that the fertilizers can be manufactured and power units produced at an amazing less outlay at the Umatilla rapids on the Columbia river than at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee.

"The problem for congress to solve is to find a profitable market for the power when developed. In that connection there are many benefits which will be derived by the public through the developments of the resource: Cheap power would be made available for municipalities as far as 200 or more miles distant. Power can be acquired at reasonable rates and would promote industrial activities—agencies badly needed in the development of the Northwest country.

"In the vicinity of this project is 270,000 acres of arid lands which can be irrigated by pumping, through the employment of the surplus power. A happy coincidence is that when the lands need irrigation the flow of water is most abundant, therefore permitting secondary power to be used for lifting water to the thirsty lands above.

"Beyond and above these important features is the use of this cheap power in the production of nitrates for munitions of war, and the creation of atmospheric nitrogen for use in farm fertilization."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Warner of Lexington, were visitors here on Monday.
