More equipment was on hand this year, there being tougher horses, so some say, than the local boys were capable of riding. The excellent bucking exhibitions would not altogether substantiate this statement, as the riding of Jack Terry, winner of the contest, Dolph Brown, who placed the contest, Dolph Brown, who placed the contest, Doiph Brown, who places third, Emery Moore, participant in the finals, and Lloyd Matteson, winner of the consolation prize, all home talent, was of the first order. The hig parade on Friday and Saturday foreoons did much toward livening up the morning activities.

Attractions Many.

The Dalles band was liberal at all times with their music and did much toward putting pep in things gener-ally. At the Fair grounds a big car-nival company with ferris wheel and merry-go-round kept the crowd enter-tained. In the athletic tent was a former acquaintance of the city. "Moose" Norbeck, who took on all comers in boxing. He staged a bout with Heppner's white hope, Jake Dexter, who won the decision. The two avilions were the scene of the eve-ing's hilarity. A big jazz fest was had in the dance pavilion, while the '49ers held forth in the exhibit pavilion. The record crowd for a Hepp-ner dance floor, is reported to have been in attendance Saturday night.

Though the local committee has not finished checking assets and liabilit-les, there is no doubt that this year's show was a financial success. The collection taken Saturday for the in jured men netted $123.

Money for Non-Winners.

As a consolation prize to those rid-ers who took no money in the bucking contests, the Rodeo committee put up $25 and the First National Bank, through W. P. Mahoney, added $25 more, which was equally divided among the four riders who received

The United States Department of Agriculture, in its official publication, gives a good illustration of what organization is doing for the farmers in handling potatoes in Nebraska. It sattes that last year the growers in the south-central part of the state were unorganized and five or six brokerage and shipping agencies operated and the results to the growers were very unsatisfactory. This year the growers organized and almost the growers are on the ground and heavy is under contract to be sold thru a central selling agency, under standard grades. Judge W. T. Campbell received a letter from his son Arthur this week, n which Art described his trip back to Iowa City where he has a fellow-ship with Iowa State College. Art said he arrived just two days late for the opening of school, with one big iron man in his pocket. He had some hard luck getting across Ne-braska, as he hit there the same time the big rains did, and he said his wheels wouldn't do anything but spin in the mud, or if he did get going he would land in a ditch. Those that wisely respect all religions, denying none, are interested especially in the changes that have come over Mormonism, still full of vitality after 100 years. Joseph Smith made a particular virtue of many wives for one man—so did wise King Solomon, by the way.

Modern Mormonism, rallying under the purple, blue and gold banner, "Cumorah-Ramah," says, "one wife senough." That does not mean repudiating Joseph Smith.
