Richard Lloyd Jones Says:

PAUSE AND PLAY A BIT.

LIFE is a serious business, but it ceases to be a well-balanced business unless it is lightened and brightened, sweetened and purified by a wholesome seasoning of mirth and merriment.

There is a wagon-load of truth in the old adage that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. It is just as true that all play and no work makes Jack not only dull but worthless. Wise men work and play.

Play is a duty. It is the filter through which character is refined. Play is governed by the same laws that govern work. Play is the relaxation from the concentration of work. Hence it puts man to test in the life of larger liberty.

Play is the temper test. It is fun to win a game. It is an art, that only the cultivated know, to lose a game and laugh at the loss, rejoicing, sportsmanlike, that the best man won.

He cannot lose without blaming everybody on his team—those who played on "his side" in the game—has much to learn before he can, soldier-like, stand shoulder to shoulder to win or lose together for a common good and a common cause.

Kindness and generosity have their places on the playground. There may be a thoughtfulness for one who is weaker than the rest, or who is a newcomer, or whom, for any reason, others may neglect. There is an opportunity to stand up for those who are ill-used. There is a generous sympathy for those who in any way are having a hard time.

There is an opportunity for honesty and dishonesty on the playground. One may cheat in a game no less than in business, and can show honesty no less. Indeed, the term "fair play" is used in regard to the most serious affairs of life. In politics or in business of any kind, we hear it said, "such a person did not have 'fair play'."

There is a great opportunity for energy or laziness, presence of mind or carelessness, to show itself on the playground. In training the youth of our country, we should be equally anxious about their conduct in play as in work.

If Oregon undertook to recall its governor, Pierce might attempt the same measure Walton did. And very probably with the same results.

Morrow county is being blessed with beautiful autumn weather. The only drawback to date is a widespread cold epidemic.

The next job for Gov. Pierce will be the defeating of his pet income tax bill.

The commercial club still sleeps. As yet no one has been able to prescribe a suitable tonic. Who said we wanted any more roads, anyhow?

THE RECALL. To the great majority, the administration of Governor Pierce has been neither a surprise or a disappointment. The voters knew when he went in at the head of the state government that there was little probability of the state receiving a capable, constructive administration; that the chances were all for a political mess just such as has been developed in a few short months.

Still the great majority of the voters of the state are not for holding a recall election. They feel that the recall is a weapon only to be wielded in the most extreme cases, and they are willing to take their medicine if it does not get too bitter. A governor would be given a lot of leeway before the majority would favor holding this sort of an election.

But if a sufficient number of signatures are secured for calling the election—and it takes only a small

Poem Uncle John

Scatterin' precepts day by day, as we flounder along our way; every impulse, or thought, or deed, makes a page for somebody to read. . . . Can't be too careful in every day. . . . Scatterin' precepts, day by day.

Scatterin' precepts for young and old; some of rubbish, some, virgin gold. . . . Matters not what yer stunt may be—somebody, somewhere is certain to see. . . . Better be mindful to watch an' pray, as we scatter the precepts, day by day. . . . God! 'ER a feller could only know how for a thought or a deed might go! Think of a smile, or a heartenin' hand bearin' their fruits in the Beulah Land. . . . Best to be certain of what we say, as we scatter the life-throbs, day by day.

SCATTERING THINGS

THINK OF A SMILE OR A HEARTENIN' HAND BEARING THEIR FRUIT IN BEULAH LAND!

SLANDER. THOU shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt not lie. Thou shalt not misrepresent thy neighbor. Thou shalt not convey slanderous gossip and reports.

The man who whispers about his neighbor is the most contemptible cur on earth. He is a coward, a cur and a villain of the deepest dye. The man who gossips is a natural born, constitutional liar, and is meaner, blacker and nearer the condition of hell than any criminal about whom he may be gossiping. No gossip should ever be believed. A gossiping woman is the biggest liar on God's earth, and a gossiping man is a burning torch from hell. Any one who would believe either of them is such an infamous fool that the board of aldermen ought to send him to the asylum at once.

If one is compelled to speak in complimentary terms of another, he should go to that individual and make his remarks to him personally and directly. He should never speak about him behind his back unless he can speak in complimentary and commendatory terms.

The idle gossip has done more to wreck the peace and happiness of good people and bring shame and sorrow to society than any other brute.

CECIL NEWS ITEMS

W. H. Chandler of Willow creek ranch was in Heppner delivering some of his hay on Wednesday. We always considered Cecil a land flowing with milk and honey; but what with Hynd Bros.' ranch and its abundance of hay stacks, Minor & Krebs and Henriksen Bros. ranches also thickly dotted with huge stacks of hay, McEntire's herd of Jersey cows, Duncan's Busy Bees and Belgian hares, Chandler's chickens and onions, etc., we ought to rename our little town "The Land of Plenty."
