Richard Lloyd Jones Says:

THE CROWD IS LOST WITHOUT A LEADER.

PLODDERS are legion. It is the masters of men who are few. Plodders make up the rank and file of humanity. They comprise the many common people whom, Lincoln said, God surely must have loved since he made so many of them.

Plodders are not without their many virtues. They are stable, reliable, industrious. They are the foundation of society.

They are a tremendous, slow but constantly moving force. They carry along all the good from the past ages through which they have traveled.

Civilization advances no faster than they permit it, yet they never design their own course. They control only the pace of their march.

To the few rare souls of clear vision has nature handed the gift of leadership, they who direct the way of the march. To them only is given imagination. It is they who depict on the curtain of the future the next right move for the masses to make.

The masters are the men who dare march ahead and alone. Because of their confidence, the plodders put confidence in them and follow them. Age limits leadership. The leader must express the new or be supplanted by him who represents that which is new. Every champion is some day confronted by his better. Youth is bold and leaps ahead.

Masters are never afraid. As soon as timidity controls they cease to be masters.

It is only the man who is subservient to truth who wears an armor which nothing can penetrate. Back in the ranks are the doubters, grumblers, stumblers. Their protests are silenced by the plodders, who bear them forward, willingly or unwillingly, on the great march.

Sometimes the whole mass seems to fall back. But the masters do not fear. They know the light of the star will lead them on again.

WHY BE THANKFUL?

THERE are times in the course of human events when things seem to be going all wrong with but little hope of immediate recovery, if recovery at all, and people are made to feel down-hearted and ready to "give up the sponge." Then comes along Thanksgiving, and they wonder why they have to be thankful for.

Morrow county is enduring such a situation this Thanksgiving-tide. Being largely an agricultural district, it has suffered to the highest degree from the great deflation of prices for farm products. Money has been, and still is, so scarce that many of her citizens can see but a small gleam of hope of keeping their businesses from going to the wall.

This is a lamentable situation and casts a dark shadow across the Thanksgiving board. But we still have so much to be thankful for, that there need be naught but a cheerful and optimistic air pervade every home.

God has been provident to us. He has spared us the ravages of the battle field, earthquake, flood and fire which have stricken other peoples the past year. At no time have we felt the pangs of hunger and utter want. Though our farm products have brought a seemingly unlivable price, still our crops have been bountiful. The sheepmen, who two years ago were threatened to be driven out of business because of the unsatisfactory condition then existing, are again facing prosperous times with a steady and sure market.

We still have our automobiles and divers other forms of amusement and diversion. We are able to worship the Lord unmolested and unpersecuted in good shelter and surroundings. We have all the benefits of a bounteous Nature surrounding us. What more can we ask this Thanksgiving? Therefore as we bow our heads before the Thanksgiving feast today, let us thank God fervently and unstintingly, because we know that we are a favored people.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

THE move by the city to build a new grade out of town to connect with the Heppner-Bardman market road, is meeting with approval of the citizens of the city, and is especially appreciated by the very large number of country folks who have to get into town over that route. This short piece of road has always been bad, and there was no way of making it better except by the expenditure of the necessary funds to place it on a par with the requirements of the state highway laws. We will now have a standard macadam road leading out of town, and the grade will not exceed the five per cent at any point. The money required to make this improvement will be repaid many times over in the satisfaction the farmers of the county and citizens of Heppner will get from its use.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, in his

Thanksgiving proclamation, speaks these words: "We have never failed to find reasons for being thankful to God for a generous providence propitious times, a broad contemplation of our own position has never failed to disclose overwhelming reasons for thankfulness. . . . We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most thankful people."

Lay off long enough to go to church today and join in the Thanksgiving services. The day is more than a mere holiday, but it has been allowed to degenerate into a time of pleasure and excessive feasting, and the great majority of the people have forgotten the purpose for which the day was set aside.

Application blanks for securing 1924 motor vehicle licenses have been mailed by the Secretary of State to all motor vehicle owners in Oregon, and they are urged to apply early so that the license plates may be mailed so as to reach them before January 1, 1924. This action will avoid much trouble, annoyance and unnecessary delay. License plates for 1924 will have a bright red background and white letters and figures.

GIVING CHRISTMAS.

The First Presbyterian Church Sunday School of Seattle makes Christmas for others. So do each of her twenty-five branch schools. In other words, the pupils and their classes are required to search out all who may not have a good Christmas and provide one for them.

Weeks in advance the pupils and the workers are put to work visiting and ascertaining the conditions of homes where Santa Claus may not go unless we make him.

The baskets are then prepared with everything necessary for a perfect Christmas and a bounteous Christmas dinner. These baskets are prepared at the church and the name of the family put on each basket. Then machines are provided, and with each machine some members of the class, the school and the Session go to that home on Christmas Eve with a blessing and the baskets.

The givers of course receive the greatest blessing. Those homes discovered and thus visited are visited again after Christmas and throughout the year and assisted to their feet in order that they too may next Christmas be givers and not receivers. In this way we make the giving Christmas an opportunity and blessing throughout the year. So can you and your school.
