

Local Happenings

Peter Bauerhoff of Cecil was visiting friends in Heppner Monday and incidentally looking after some business affairs. Peter is a great booster for Ritter hot springs, and states that since the adding of the mud baths that health resort has become more popular than ever. Peter spent last winter at Paso Robles, Calif., where he was able to make observations, and he is of the opinion that the curative properties of the waters of Ritter hot springs and the mud baths excel that of the famous California resort, and some day not in the far distant future accommodations at Ritter will have to be greatly increased because of the growing popularity of the hot springs as a health resort.

The ladies of Bethel Chapel report that their bazaar of last week was a complete success. The many beautiful and useful articles they had for the Christmas season were rapidly disposed of to the crowd of shoppers that rushed in on them when the doors opened and it was not long until everything was sold out, including the large amount of homemade candies and cooked food. The ladies realized in cash the neat sum of $219 for their efforts, and we are informed that this will be added to other money in their hands and used for the purchase of a new piano for the chapel.

This paper is duly thankful to the great number of our subscribers who are dropping in and paying up on their subscriptions and renewals. There is no desire on our part to send out a distress call, yet there are many more who might respond in this manner and it would not make us feel bad. If possible, and you are one that is reminded that there may be something due on your account to the Gazette-Times, will you give it sufficient thought to prompt a remittance, thus starting the new year with a clean bill of sale. We shall ever thank you.

Mrs. E. R. Huston was called to Albany on Friday by the sudden death of her brother-in-law, Dr. William H. Davis, who passed away in a Portland hospital following a serious operation. The funeral of Dr. Davis was held in Albany on Sunday and was very largely attended, he having been a prominent and highly respected citizen of that city for the past thirty years. Mrs. Huston returned home yesterday.

M. and Mrs. C. W. McNamer, accompanied by Mrs. Bonnie Cochran, drove to Pendleton Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. McNamer went on to Prescott, Wash., for a visit and Mrs. Cochran returned home Monday evening.

While in Pendleton Mrs. Cochran called on Mrs. Arthur McAtee, who is in a hospital there recovering from an operation, and reports her to be improving nicely.

A dance will be given on Monday evening, Dec. 24, at the pavilion by the directors of the Heppner Rodeo. This dance is given for the benefit of the boys who were injured while taking part in the Rodeo at Heppner last fall. The committee feel that the object is a very worthy one, and if you cannot dance, they ask that you buy a ticket.

August Anderson of Eight Mile was doing business in this city on Saturday. Mr. Anderson is engaged in farming with his mother on the old home place, and states that as a result of the very fine weather conditions this fall his grain is coming along well and gives promise of yielding an abundant crop the coming harvest.

Owing to the prevalence of diphtheria, social affair advertised last week to take place at the Bell place was indefinitely postponed. Several members of the family of W. B. Tucker were sick with the disease, but we are glad to report that they are all getting along well and are now out of danger.

Mrs. Mary E. Lee, of Junction City, aunt of Mrs. Wm. Cowins, spent the past week in Heppner as a guest at the home of her niece, and visiting with other relatives here. She also visited with another niece, Mrs. Jos. Batty, of Eight Mile. She greatly enjoyed her short stay in Heppner.

M. E. Cotter of Ione was here on Saturday. Mr. Cotter engages in the pastime of putting down wells for the people of his section, which occupation he has followed for many years, and as a side issue he does some farming, also.

Attorney C. E. Woodson is attending circuit court at Pendleton this week, being called there as a witness in the case of the Bank of Ione vs. Henry E. Peterson, and others, transferred from this county.

Oris Padberg, young farmer of Heppner flat, was a visitor in Heppner on Tuesday, doing some Christmas shopping. This office acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Padberg while in the city.

Sam J. Turner, who spent a couple of weeks at the Hot Lake sanatorium, returned home on Thursday evening last, much improved in health. Mr. Turner underwent a minor operation while at the hospital.

Miss Ollie Gray, who was formerly trimmer for Mrs. Luper in the millinery store here, is visiting friends in this city this week. She is now engaged in the millinery business at Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Haverstick and family were in the city Saturday from their farm on Rhea creek. They were busy shopping and looking up a little Christmas for the kiddie.

Garnet Barratt underwent an operation at the Heppner Surgical hospital Monday morning for appendicitis, and is reported to be getting along well.

Fred Groom, forest ranger now located at Pendleton, was a visitor in Heppner on Saturday, coming here to attend to matters pertaining to his office.

For Sale—One pure bred Poland China boar, 6 months old. Also a few choice gilts. W. P. HILL, Box 154, Heppner.

Mrs. C. L. Keithley of Pendleton visited with friends in Heppner on Saturday, returning to her home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas of Lexington are enjoying a visit with Mrs. E. E. Lucas of Wasco, mother of Mr. Lucas.

Mrs. Henrietta Strat of Boardman was a business visitor in Heppner the first of the week.

Guy Boyer is reported quite sick at his home in this city, suffering an attack of influenza.
