NEWS LETTER FROM THE MARKET AGENT

What happens to a country, state or private business that buys more than it sells? Anyone can answer this question. Now face this one: In one year this country sold $27,336,000 of dairy products and in the same period bought $36,000,000. We bought of other countries over eight and a half millions of dollars more than we sold. Was there a dollar's worth of this $36,000,000 stock we bought that could not have been produced at home?

POLITICAL SIDELIGHTS

WALTER A. RICHARDSON announces in this issue that he will be a candidate at the coming primaries for county clerk subject to the will of the democratic voters. Mr. Richardson is not likely to have any opposition in his own party and will receive the nomination. To date Guy M. Anderson is the only republican aspirant and no one else seems anxious to get into the fray. Judge Campbell may yet be induced to stand for reelection, and he is being urged to get into the running, his friends contending that he has made a worthy record and should be rewarded by another term. Just what he may decide to do has not yet developed. Mr. Bengtson will not likely have any opposition for the democratic nomination, and should Judge Campbell get in the race, the contest for the republican honors will lay between him and G. A. Blackman of Hardman. Mr. Blackman served for four years on the court, is conversant with the duties, and we imagine that the race between him and Mr. Campbell would be close enough to be interesting and perhaps worth all the excitement that we will have in the local political situation.

Strong Arguments Presented

In presenting their case to the chamber delegation, the wheat men numbering a score, made a very strong argument. They said that unless some ray of hope lightens the skies for the grain farmers, they will leave the farms this summer and fall in great numbers and seek employment in other occupations. Bankers in the group said many have already pulled up stakes and were turning their farms over to the mortgage companies that hold claims against them. Wheat farmers, it was said, were going deeper into debt and the outlook was of the gloomiest. It was declared the McNary-Haugen bill was the only hope that promised practical relief and that it was supported by the farm interests of the county. The appeal was made to the chamber and to Portland, it was said, because other means of enlisting aid had been tried and there remained the request for Portland, if interested in state development, as it must be in its own interest, to come to the aid of the farmer on a practical basis.

Business Men Pledge Aid

Business men who had felt, hitherto, that the problem did not affect them directly were convinced otherwise and promised to do everything possible in support of the relief measure. It was directed at the meeting that General Manager Dodson at once telegraph Senator McNary advising him of the large meeting and its decision to put on an aggressive drive for farmer aid and that three Portland business men desire to visit Washington in behalf of the bill and asking the most opportune time for the showing they wish to make.

COUNTY UNIT PLAN SUCCESS IN CROOK

(Continued from page one.) tion to the exterior of the buildings—surfacing and painting. In the future we will continue to make improvements in the fences, barns, and water supply. In other words, we have organized our work so as to do some specific line of improvement each summer. So far, we have spoken mostly of the physical side of the work. Nevertheless we have been just as keen to bring the educational side of the schools up to a higher standard. In the early stages of the new plan, we worked out a county course of study to correlate with the state course of study. Time and space will allow mention of only one branch—Reading. However, I will say that we have prepared a syllabus for review to nearly all the upper grade subjects in connection with the graded course. In reading, we are working on the basis that if the child learns to read and interpret all in the first four grades, he will be able to take care of himself in the succeeding grades. In harmony with that thought we are getting wonderful results with the following assignment: First Grade: Phonic work, two primers and five first readers. Second Grade: Review phonics, one first reader, seven second readers. Third Grade: Apply phonics, five third readers. Fourth Grade: Review phonics, five fourth readers. In the fifth grade, as they are beginning to take up other subjects which require extensive reading, we require only two readers, and follow the requirements of the State Course of Study in the other grades. We ask the parents to purchase the books required by the state course. The additional books are purchased by the central board and loaned to the children. By this method we know that all the children will have the books in their hands on the day assigned to begin a new reader. Under the County Unit plan all schools begin the same day, just as all schools would do in a city system. The county course makes the same monthly assignment for all schools, so that should a child move from one part of the county to another there would be no embarrassment on account of subject matter already covered. We cannot have good schools without good teachers. Under this plan the central board has the opportunity to make an extensive research into the qualifications of new appointees. It has been the practice of the superintendent to make many more visitations than would be possible under the old plan. The teachers are required at the end of each month to fill out a form designating the work covered during the month. The excellent beginning already made plainly indicates that the rank and file of the teaching force is far superior to the old haphazard method of selecting whomsoever came along. The school show it; the uniform zeal to follow the state and county course shows it. In conclusion it might be truthfully said that the county unit plan of school administration has, during the past years, proved itself a decided success. What is the matter? There has not been in sight for more than a month a single starving nation for us to save. This will never do.

BUSINESS MEN AID WHEAT EXPORT BILL

Wednesday's Oregonian. Portland business interests, which have formerly given the McNary-Haugen bill for relief of the wheat growers a perfunctory support only, rallied strongly to the measure yesterday and at once set under way a determined drive to bring the whole west to the support of the proposal and thereby aid grain producers of the country. The decision followed a two-day meeting that ended yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. Portland business men gathered to meet the group of eastern Oregon wheat raisers who form the directorate of the Oregon export commission formed in connection with the F. B. Ingels of Dufur, vice-president, headed the visitors, who met with 60 representative men of affairs of the city. F. E. Andrews, president of the chamber, presided. A strong committee, with Edward Ehrman chairman, was named to direct a strong, aggressive drive throughout the west for the McNary-Haugen bill. There is a vast difference between the living and wage standards of the United States and every country of Europe, Asia and Africa. Since the war the differences have increased. This country simply cannot compete with other nations and their low production costs. To prevent tariff schedules are of little effect in keeping out products that undersell us. The tariff on beef is 3 cents per pound. Of what benefit is that to the Oregon stockman who are going broke every day? The tariff on eggs is 8 cents per dozen. How much do Chinese and other foreign products get by and help to put the poultryman out of business. Suppose that the $36,000,000 worth of dairy products that are brought in here to compete with American farmers did not come in? Would not there be a market for $36,000,000 more of the dairy products of Americans? The absurdity of shipping millions of dollars worth of our agricultural products abroad each year to get rid of our "surplus" and then bringing back nearly the same amount of like cheap European products, should be apparent to anyone who will study export and import schedules. What American agriculture needs now is protection against the foreign countries that can beat us in the cost of production and elimination of much of the legion of middle interests and profiteers between the farm and the retail store. The middle man has no interest in that all crops are marketed. He is far more interested in having the supply greater than the demand, so that he can use the condition to break the price to the producer. He doesn't want this country to absorb "over-production," he doesn't want the demand for any commodity exhausted. He plays both ends against the producer and consumer. With foreign agricultural products shut out and the middle man squeezed out, both the producer and consumer would greatly benefit.
