

BUSINESS SHAKE-UP IS ORDER OF WEEK

Pastime and Newspaper Seek New Fields of Endeavor.

BIG SALE TO BE HELD

People's Hardware Company Disposes of Stock; Grocery and Mill- inery Change Hands.

Two Heppner business firms quit and two change hands in a shake-up of local business firms the largest in years, according to announcement made this week. The Heppner Herald published its last issue Tuesday, and the pastime and newspaper will close its doors here the last of April. John Hiatt took over the Cash and Carry Grocery from L. G. Drake on Tuesday, and Mrs. M. L. Curran and daughter Marie will conduct the millinery business of Mrs. Julia M. Clark after the first of June. One new business, that of a beauty parlor, was opened by a Mrs. Johnson from Portland at Hotel Heppner yesterday.

Another big feature in the business world of Heppner is a big sale at People's Hardware company which starts Saturday and continues for one week. The entire stock of hardware of this firm will be closed out at a great reduction in price and a reorganization of the firm is contemplated, according to the management. Circulars distributed this week announce that an entire stock of new and different goods will replace those now on their shelves.

Following are notations of changes as brought to the attention of the Gazette-Times this week.

HEPPNER HERALD SUSPENDS.

With its issue of Tuesday, April 15, the Heppner Herald passed out. The paper had been published here for a period of ten years, being established in April, 1914, by Leslie Harlan, and under the management of S. A. Pattison as publisher and proprietor for the past seven years. The struggle with its maintenance in a field too large for one paper, has been rather tragic, and its passing at this time is only a matter in the course of human events that is bound to come to any line of business in an overdone field of endeavor.

Mr. Pattison, in his announcement,

"With this issue the Heppner Herald ceases to exist as an individual newspaper, a deal having been consummated by which Vawter and Spensford of the Gazette-Times take over the good will and subscription list of the Herald. From this date all subscription accounts due on the Herald list will be payable to the Gazette-Times and all subscriptions paid in advance will be carried out for the time paid with the Gazette-Times."

This states the situation as it pertains to the obligations of the Gazette-Times. Mr. Pattison retains his printing plant and outfit, to dispose of the same and have it moved away from Heppner, agreeing not to sell the same to anyone who contemplates starting up again in this field, and to retire from the game here entirely. He is having the shop dismantled and machinery and materials used in connection with the publishing of the Herald will be sold just as soon as possible.

We understand that Mr. Pattison has a very good offer of a position in the newspaper business in his old home state of Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh, and he will leave for the east the coming week. Mrs. Pattison and Miss Dorothea will remain here until the close of school.

So far as this paper is concerned, we have no promises to make. We have the equipment, and have heretofore demonstrated our ability to care for the needs of the community in the line of publishing and printing, and there is no need of any change in policy.

GURDANE & SON TO LEAVE.

After being in business in Heppner since 1914, Doug Gurdane and his son, Bert, doing business as Gurdane and Son, have decided to quit business here and will remove their fixtures and stock to Bend. The pastime here will be closed, the last of this month, and Mr. Gurdane states that they will immediately open for business in their new location, the store building being ready for them by the first of May.

They expect to have central location at Bend, next door to the theater of O. M. Whittington, another old-time Heppner resident. Messrs. Gurdane were at Bend during the early part of last week and made arrangements for a building and closed a deal for the same. They expect to have a very fine place in which to do business when alterations are completed and many new fixtures installed. The store they occupy here will be vacant, for a time at least, as there is no one ready to move into the building.

DRAKE SELLS CASH & CARRY.

L. G. Drake this week closed a deal disposing of the Cash and Carry grocery in the Odd Fellows building to J. W. Hiatt. Mr. Hiatt, who has been manager of the Peoples Hardware company for the past six or eight months, is taking charge of the business at once. Mr. Drake retiring on the 15th. Mr. Hiatt has been engaged in merchandising in this city for several years, is a home production, and we bespeak for him success in his new venture. Mr. Drake and his wife, who have conducted the business for the past year, are young people who have made many friends during their stay in Heppner, and they wish them success in whatever undertaking awaits them in the future.

In retiring from business in Heppner, Mr. Drake wishes to say to the people of this community that he appreciates the nice business they have given him during the year, and he hopes that the same courtesies and

10th Wedding Day Remembered by Party

Home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olden at Fairview, Scene of Delight- ful Occasion.

On Saturday evening, April 5, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olden at Fairview was the scene of a delightful party in commemoration of their tenth wedding anniversary and tendered them by about 120 of their neighbors and friends.

The evening was spent in playing games and there were a number of very exciting contests in which prizes were given. Those who were the winners of prizes were Miss Ethel Nolan, Mr. Victor Peterson, Miss Vera Engleman, Mr. Ora Barlow, Mrs. Lee Howell and Mrs. Walter Becket. In voting contest for the homeliest man and the best looking lady in the house, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olden were awarded prizes.

At 10:30, to the strains of a beautiful wedding march, played by Miss Ruby Engleman, the wedding procession began. Mr. and Mrs. Olden led, attended by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lundy as best man and bridesmaid, Ora Barlow as father of the bride and Miss Vera Engleman, flower girl. They marched to the parlor which was decorated with red and white blossoms and the marriage ceremony was performed in a solemn manner by "Judge Bit" Engleman. The bride looked charming in a gown of real lace over peach blossom satin and carried a bouquet of yellow gerberas. The judge pronounced them man and wife for another ten years—we did not learn whether he kissed the bride but presume this part of his duty was well performed, and then Mr. and Mrs. Olden, the "newly weds," received the congratulations of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Olden will leave soon for an extended wedding trip. They received many fine and useful presents of aluminum ware. At 12:30 delicious refreshments were served, and during the entire evening the party was enlivened with much music which was furnished by Miss Gene Hall, the Misses Ruby and Vera Engleman and Mr. Walter Dobyns. The party broke up at 2 o'clock, all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Olden much joy and long years of happy, prosperous life, promising to be present at their golden wedding anniversary.

JOHNNY BECKET TO VISIT HIS OLD HOME

On the sport page of the Oregonian of Wednesday is a very interesting article of Johnny Becket, by L. H. Gregory, sporting editor of that paper. Mr. Becket and his wife and young son, John, Jr., are visiting in Portland with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Becket, and we understand it is their intention to make a visit to the old home town of Mr. Becket, a visit before his furlough expires. He is with the United States Marines and will report for duty at Mare Island. Mr. Gregory gives a short history of Johnny's football career and from the write-up we take the following:

"Fate picked up Johnny Becket and hoisted him into the marine corps and a military career. He had no more intention of becoming a marine officer than he had of farming prior to the outbreak of the war in 1917.

"But when the United States got into it, Becket rushed to a recruiting office in May, 1917, and enlisted as a private. He was assigned to Mare Island and assigned him that fall to play football. Hugo Bezdek came down from Oregon and coached the boys a month and they beat the army team in the service game at Pasadena.

"Next football season Johnny Becket was named captain. He won a lieutenantcy by this time and found that he liked the service so well that when the war ended he concluded to stay with it. He gained early promotion to first lieutenant and then to captain. He has been a captain, likes the life better than ever.

"It's a great career for any young fellow," said Becket yesterday. "There are plenty of hard knocks in it, but there is fun and excitement, too, and an expert at esprit de corps that makes you proud to be a marine. If there's trouble anywhere the marines get first whack at it always."

EASTER OBSERVED AT CHURCH.

The Easter program at the Christian church will be distributed throughout the day, preceding the regular services, and in the evening the beautiful pantomime, "O Zion Haste," will be given. You will enjoy this arrangement and the appropriate numbers closing the program.

Archdeacon Goldie will be at Heppner on Sunday and will hold services at the Episcopal church at the usual morning hour.

consideration will be extended to Mr. Hiatt, his successor. Mr. Drake is not prepared to say just what he will do, but expects to take a little time to look around, and may engage in this same line of business in some other Eastern Oregon town. He has nothing but expressions of good will for the people of Heppner and vicinity.

MRS. CLARK SELLS MILLINERY.

We are informed that Mrs. Julia Clark has disposed of her millinery business to Mrs. Mike Curran and her daughter, Miss Marie, who will not take possession of the same, however, until the first of June.

BEAUTY SHOPPE.

Mrs. Johnson, formerly of the Blue Bird Beauty Shoppe of Portland, arrived in this city on Wednesday and will operate a beauty parlor here. Mrs. Johnson comes highly recommended, and will be prepared to give her patrons the best of service in manicuring, marcelling, hair-bobbing and curling, facial massage, scalp treatments, children's hair trimming and curling, etc. She will open her shop Saturday, April 19th, and will be permanently located in Hotel Heppner.

Echo Hotel Destroyed By Fire Tuesday A. M.

A heavy loss was caused at Echo early Tuesday morning by a fire that completely destroyed the Hotel Echo and all the furniture in the house, a small apartment house and a cottage. A nearby tire shop was also damaged and an adjoining building was barely saved, according to the account given in Tuesday's East Oregonian.

The fire started in the hotel building, and its cause is unknown. The flames were seen a little before 4 o'clock by a brakeman in a passing train who turned in the alarm. The hotel was burned to the ground, and all the furniture was lost. The wind carried the fire across Bridge street and caused the loss of the apartment house, owned by the Wind River Lumber company.

The hotel was a 40-room structure and was owned by J. S. Warwick of Brownsville. It recently changed hands for a reported price of $11,000, and the insurance on the building was $5,000. A lease on the structure was held by R. M. Pederson and P. Juul who operated the hostelry. They valued their furniture at $3,500, but it is reported to have been inadequately insured.

Only heroic work on the part of the fire company and citizens prevented the fire from consuming the entire section of town near the hotel.

LEAVES FOR PENNSYLVANIA.

Andrew Baird, who has been spending the past four months at Heppner, visiting with his daughters, Mrs. C. C. Patterson and Mrs. J. O. Hager, departed for his home at Edenberg, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday. Accompanying him was C. C. Patterson, who is going to his old home state to remain, having decided to take advantage of the opportunity offered to make the trip in charge of his father-in-law. Mr. Patterson has been an invalid for many years and practically helpless, but of late he seemed to be in position to help himself to some extent and he felt able to take of traveling across the continent. Mr. Baird and Mr. Patterson were taken to Arlington by Mrs. Hager and Mrs. Patterson, where they took No. 18, and will have no change of cars until reaching Chicago, and from there they will go on to the home of Mr. Baird without change. Mrs. Patterson and Miss Mary expect to follow later on.

CHAUTAQUA DATES SET.

The dates for Heppner's Chautauqua have been set for June 30 to July 6th, inclusive. Coming at the time it does, the Chautauqua will no doubt draw much heavier patronage than in former years. There is some talk, also, that Heppner will put on a 4th of July celebration this year, but there has been no definite move in that direction.

KLANSMEN VISIT CHURCH.

About 20 robed Klansmen from Heppner and Lexington attended the meeting of the Baptist church in Ione on Sunday evening, and listened to a splendid discourse, delivered by Rev. E. A. Johnson, the pastor. Upon leaving the Klansmen presented the preacher with a purse containing about $25, as a compliment for the good work he is doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Halleck Stange were in this city Tuesday from their home at Ione.

Begins Shearing and Wool Yield Is Good

Frank Turner began the shearing season on Saturday last with the flocks of Mike Marshall at Castle Rock. He was up to town yesterday and states that his crew has finished with the Marshall sheep and are now at the M. S. Corrigan place on Butter creek.

Mr. Turner's outfit consists of ten men and he is working a full crew. He states that the wool clip is extra fine this season owing to the mild winter, and the clip will be heavy. Just now the weather conditions are not the best, but Mr. Turner states that it is about what can be expected at the starting of the shearing and it is little different from every other season in his experience.

Methodist Sunday School To Put on Easter Pageant

Next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Community church at the high school and intermediate classes of the Sunday school will present "The Dawning," a pageant of the resurrection. This is one of the best portrayals of the incidents of the resurrection morning, and those presenting it have given it careful study and preparation. You will not be disappointed.

HEPPNER HI WINS OVER CONDON.

So far this season, the local high school has been the top notch in every line of sports they have engaged in. On Saturday the team from Condon met their defeat on Gentry field in a fairly well played and evenly matched contest, the score being 8-7.

Some rather costly errors were made on both sides, the long end of the "humbler" going to the credit of the locals, who were fortunate enough to get away with the favors tendered them by Condon and marked up the tallies on the score card ahead of their rivals. Had the good playing that marked the last few innings been maintained throughout, there would have been less regrets on the part of players and fans alike. Heppner meets up with Ione again the end of the week and they hope to defeat that team once more, which will give them the lead for the pennant.

GLENNA KIRK CALLED BY DEATH.

Glenna Mae Kirk, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kirk, died at the home of her parents in this city at 3:30 o'clock this morning, following an illness of some four weeks duration. She was taken ill first with influenza and measles, this later developing into a septic sore throat from which death resulted. All that it was possible for human hands to do was done by the attending physician, parents and friends to bring relief, but the ailment was such that it did not yield to treatment.

Glenna was 15 years, 7 months and 19 days of age and in her second year at high school. She was the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk. Just blooming into young womanhood, her death comes as a severe affliction to her family and a shock to her many young friends and schoolmates. Funeral arrangements have been made for Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist community church. Rev. F. R. Spaulding, pastor officiating. She was a member of the Methodist church and Sunday school in this city.

Four other children of the family are all down in bed with measles at the time but it is reported that they are doing well and are not suffering any complications.

Olaf Bergstrom, extensive farmer and wheatraiser of the Eight Mile section was a visitor here on Tuesday. He was not altogether well pleased with the cold and freezing weather that hit his country the first of the week and was hoping that it would soon pass.

Chas. H. Erwin, who farms a large tract of wheat land out south of Ione, was doing business in Heppner Tuesday. He reports a pretty cold snap out his way but no apparent damage done by the freezing.

Mrs. Emmet Cochran returned on Friday from a stay of several weeks at Hot Lake, Oregon, where she received treatment.

Puts Out Poison for Rabbits at Irrigon

County Agent Morse was at Irrigon last Sunday and he and his assistants spread poison for rabbits along about twelve miles of the bank of the upper irrigation canal. Mr. Morse used the red-stick method and it is said to be one of the best plans yet devised for getting the pests. The rabbits are very fond of the cedar. The sticks are dipped in the poison and stuck into the ground, the rabbits taking to it like a young kitten to a saucer of warm milk, and the results are many dead bunnies. Mr. Morse states that on next Sunday he will visit the Boardman district and place a lot of the poison sticks along their irrigation canal.

Squirrel poisoning campaigns are also being arranged and much poison has been prepared by the County Agent to be distributed and used for this purpose. While at Hardman early in the week Mr. Morse left a supply of poison for that section.

Falconer Opposes Shipments of California Wool

"I am opposed to the shipment into Oregon of California wool, whether it comes from a district that is unaffected with the foot and mouth disease or not," Fred W. Falconer, president of the Oregon Wool Growers' association declared today. "The movement of wool from California while disease prevails there constitutes a menace to the livestock interests of Oregon, and I am of the opinion that restrictions that Oregon can make will be too strict and that at best we will have little enough protection."

The effects of foot and mouth disease in this state, if it should be carried into Oregon, would be ruinous to the livestock interests. Mr. Falconer declared. The sheep and cattle men of Idaho are keenly on the alert to prevent the spread of the disease in that state, he said.—East Oregonian.

W. B. Barratt and Son have contracted to deliver to Tom Boylen of Pendleton, late in the summer, 2000 head of mixed lambs, the price being 10 cents. Mr. Barratt reports a very successful lambing season and a high percentage of increase.

County Road Master McCaleb is still confined at home by sickness. He was feeling some better and got out to look after some road business, the result being that he had to retire to his bed again.

Hangman Retires. Lincoln's Poem. Strong Women. Nature's Wonders.

John Ellis, England's hangman, retires from business, giving no reason. He hanged Roger Casement and Edith Thompson, the last woman hanged in Great Britain.

Ellis was paid fifty shillings, about $12.50, each time he hanged a human being. That was for the hanging. They paid him fifty shillings more "for good conduct."

"Good conduct" meant that he must stay out of drinking saloons at the place of execution before and after the hanging. This made him lose money; in the old days public houses would pay the hangman to stand at their bar.

The more he drank the more the hangman talked, the more he talked, the more terrible became his stories of the groaning, begging, pleading or "game indifference" of the men around whose necks he fastened the rope.

If you think hanging or other capital punishment necessary to frighten criminals, devote a moment's thought to Ellis, the British hangman.

If a crowd rushed to see him, buy him free drinks, and listened to his tales of horror, do you think hanging really prevents crime?

It does not, on the contrary, it stimulates crime, by stimulating admiration for the criminal.

The J. Pierpont Morgan collection of valuable maps, exhibited to the public include a map, "The Bear Hunt," by Abraham Lincoln, and this is how it reads: "The bear hunt, 1812."

A wild bear chase didst never see? Then hast thou lived in vain— Thy richest bump of glorious gee! Lies desert in thy brain.

Here you learn that it is possible to be a great man and a very bad poet.

This is a prosperous country, worth defending. Last week 1,500,000 stockholders received little envelopes containing more than $250,000,000.

If you didn't get any of the dividend envelopes don't waste time envying or hating those that got them. Save your money, invest it, and you can get dividends also. Except for the very unfortunate there is no need to stay really poor in this country.

Mr. Albee, who collects strange things and shows them, brings from Italy the strongest woman in the world. She can sustain the weight of a two-ton elephant and allow men on horseback to ride over a bridge of which the weight rests upon her.

In old days, such a lady would have been courted by many. She might have been the Amazon queen, who told Alexander the Great that she would like to be the mother of his children, a message followed by an interesting meeting—Alexander having sent the only reply that a noble man could send—a bachelor at the time.

What became of the result of that meeting? Who knows but that this powerful Italian woman may be the descendant of Alexander the Great?

Now, however, a child moving an electric switch could raise a thousand times the weight of that two-ton elephant. Mere muscle doesn't count any more. But strong women, not able to lift elephants, but with good strong bodies free from nicotine, alcohol, late hours and general foolishness, are as important as ever they were.

Use them deeply the brain of the next generation and future civilization.

Nature is "wonderful." There are birds like animals, animals like birds. The strangeness of creation is inexhaustible. The University of Pennsylvania sends an expedition to catch a hoazin, bird that breaks stones with its beak, swims like a duck, dies like a bat. The same expedition will look also for a "Bellbird."

Instead of singing it tinkles like a bell. There are snakes that swallow their young to protect them, then let them out again. There is a lady toad that lays her eggs on the back of her husband, who hops around cheerfully in the sunlight hatching the load. Nature really is wonderful.

What we actually SEE we FEEL. One State in March reports 124 killed by automobiles. "That is TERRIBLE, we must do something about it."

In the year 200,000 mothers die in childbirth, because they are neglected. Nobody gets much excited about that.

Cancer and tuberculosis kill their tens of thousands. All that we take for granted.

County Court Holds Short Session Yesterday

An adjourned session of the county court was held yesterday at which time the designation of the paper to publish the delinquent tax summons was made. The Gazette-Times was designated to perform this service. Some other minor matters were taken up, following which there was a meeting of the District Boundary Board.

IONE TAKES GAME FROM LOCALS, 8-3

First League Game Here Brings Out Team's Weaknesses.

ARLINGTON IS NEXT

Sunday Heppner Plays River Boys, Who Lost to Condon This Week; Teams Tied For Second.

Ione defeated Heppner, 8-3, in the first game of the Morrow-Gilliam County Baseball league on the local diamond last Sunday afternoon, before a large crowd of fans. A rain in the morning had put the ground in good shape, and though the afternoon was chilly, it was altogether unpleasent, and with the exception of a few "blow-ups" the game was a good exhibition of the national sport.

After holding Ione scoreless in the first inning, Heppner went to bat, and succeeded in marking up one rally. Connelly, left fielder, crossed home plate on an error after gaining first base on a single and stealing second and third. This ended the scoring for the locals until the eighth, however, and in the ninth inning the Egg City boys had run up a total of 8 markers.

The nice mound work of both Thornton for Ione and Roberts for Heppner, which was the big feature of the game, did much toward evening things up, only six hits being obtained off Thornton and nine off Roberts, while each had nine strikeouts to his credit. Neither walked a batter. Thornton, however, had the better support, and thus it was the score came to be so one-sided.

Both teams were held scoreless in the second inning, but when the third rolled around Ione began to soak the "rawhides" and tallied three men, all earned runs. Four hits did the trick, a single by Lewis, two-bagger by Eubanks and two more singles by V. Rietmann and A. Cochran.

The fourth inning was a scoreless one, but the fifth was fatal for the locals, when a group of errors and two hits netted the visitors a couple more runs. V. Rietmann and Thornton scoring. Rietmann the first man at bat, made a drive which was fumbled and he gained first and second on an overthrow at first. Then Thornton fanned, but gained first when the catcher dropped the ball and made an overthrow at first. Rietmann went down to third in an attempt to cut him off an overthrow was made at third which allowed him to score. Thornton was then brought home by a two-bagger by Eubanks. A stop was finally put to the "balloon ascension" when Eubanks was caught off the base at second, and Connelly in left field caught two fly balls.

It took the locals some time to get their heads after this disaster, and they allowed another score to slip in the sixth on errors. Things tightened up in the seventh again and neither team scored. Then in the eighth Heppner had her inning. Paul Aiken started it with the longest drive of the day, landing him on the third base. Rietmann and Thornton scored. Roberts then stole second, and a single by King scored him. Pitcher Thornton put the jinx on things, however, when with one gone he landed the next two batters by himself.

Another little affair somewhat like the fifth took place in the last inning, and two more Ione men slipped thru the claws of the locals, Eubanks and Thornton again. Heppner then came up for the last attempt, which proved futile. The University of Pennsylvania single, but was unable to score when the next three men took the count.

Bert Johnson, Ione, refereed the game, and everything went off in a clean and sportsmanlike manner. Heppner plays her next game at Arlington, Sunday. Arlington was defeated at Condon this week, and should not prove a strong opponent unless their team has been strengthened in the meantime.
