$100,000 LAND DEAL IS CONSUMMATED

Famous Hamilton Ranch Acquired by William V. Pedro.

5000 ACRES TRADED

A. Henriksen Swaps Alfalfa and Grazing Lands for Umattilla Ranch; Wells Makes Deal.

The Hamilton ranch, famous 4500 acre Morrow county stock ranch located in a beautiful timber belt up Rhea creek 20 miles southeast of Heppner, has changed hands this time for sure. Clyde Wells, of the realty firm of Wells and Keithly of Pendleton, closed the deal this week for lands aggregating in value $100,000, between A. Henriksen, owner of the Hamilton ranch, and William V. Pedro of Pendleton.

Mr. Henriksen traded 5000 acres of Morrow county land, including the Willow creek ranch and alfalfa land on Willow creek near Cecil to Mr. Pedro, in exchange for a large tract of alfalfa land just east of Pendleton. Mr. Pedro, it is understood, will stock the Hamilton ranch with sheep and engage extensively in this business. He was formerly in the sheep business in Umattilla county and understands the business thoroughly. It has not been learned what Mr. Henriksen will do but it is presumed he will take charge of his new Umattilla county possessions personally.

All of Mr. Henriksen's Morrow county holdings were included in the transaction with the exception of the Moore farm below Heppner, which he owns jointly with his son, Oral Henriksen. Since coming to Morrow county some four years ago, Mr. Henriksen had acquired large property holdings and has been extensively engaged in both sheep and cattle raising.

With ideal grazing pastures of high grass protected by some of Morrow county's very choicest stately evergreens, on even slopes and easy of access, the Hamilton ranch has long been a stockman's paradise. The price paid for the ranch, however, is in proportion to its worth. As the market from there has ever attested to its superb qualities. And as its name has ever been connected with the progress of stockraising in this county, so many its new owner will be in proportion to its worth.

A few weeks ago Mr. Henriksen nearly completed the sale of the Hamilton ranch to D. A. Watson of California, when it turned out that Mr. Watson was apparently merely using the deal as a means to dispose of some worthless checks. It was Mr. Henriksen's opinion, however, that such a place could not stay in the market long without a buyer, and his latest transaction proves his opinion correct.

A Business Boy.

A subway train in New York was crowded. Suddenly it stopped with a jerk—and all the lights went out. When the lights came on again a young man started through the car shouting "Who lost a purse?" There was a chorus of "I did." "Then advertise it in the Times," he said. "I am an advertising solicitor and can give you a special rate."

Oh, That's Different.

Sutor: "I have long loved your daughter—and I want to make her my wife."
Wealthy Man: "But I have no daughter."
Sutor: "Cat's Pajamas—they told me you had a daughter."

"SIX-CYLINDER LOVE" COMING

Popular Broadway Success to Open Chautauqua.

"Six Cylinder Love," William Anthony McGuire's comedy that had a phenomenal 64 straight weeks run in New York, has been selected to open Chautauqua. While it is one big laugh from start to finish, its theme is one that strikes a home run for nice families out of town.

The villain in "Six Cylinder Love" does a lot of dirty work and breaks up two families. He attracts "sunshine friends," patronizes road houses, teaches extravagance, and has an insatiable appetite for gasoline. Yes—an automobile—you've guessed it. An automobile that a young couple could not afford—and which led them as well as the second couple who bought it into all sorts of difficult and humorous situations.

"Six Cylinder Love" lets the full light of sane reason fall upon the orgy of extravagance in which American families are indulging in this age of motorhood. While it carries a lesson—it is so exuberantly funny and has such clever lines and situations, that it is just one long laugh from beginning to final curtain. It is well staged and has a splendid cast of well-known stage favorites coached by Elias Day, famous Chicago coach.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT 10 TOMORROW

All patriotic and fraternal organizations of Heppner as well as the general public will assemble at the Fair grounds for a Memorial program tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting will be outside if the weather permits, but otherwise inside the pavilion. Rev. F. R. Spaulding will deliver the main address while S. E. Notson will preside. Following the ceremonies at the Fair grounds decoration of graves at the cemetery will take place.

The following program was arranged jointly by the G. A. R. and American Legion:

Bernice Woodson
Address, Rev. F. R. Spaulding
Requiem, "Rest, Soldier, Rest"
Remarks, S. E. Notson
Benediction.

Diplomas Given Graduates of High School

Commencement Exercises Held Friday Evening; Prof. N. S. Comish, of Corvallis, Is Speaker.

The commencement of Heppner High school was held at the auditorium in the school building on last Friday evening and was largely attended. Prof. N. S. Comish of Oregon Agricultural college delivered the address to the class, and class and audience were well pleased. The strong points in the address of the speaker emphasized the principles of truth and honesty; no life being a success without these elements predominating and no time in the history of the world called for stronger adherence to these principles than now. Mr. Comish also urged the graduates to go on to the completion of their education in higher institutions of learning, of which the state of Oregon is well supplied. The address was strong and forceful and one of the best heard here in many years.

Superintendent E. H. Hedrick presented the class in a neat speech, and then Chairman Woodson of the school board made a short and appropriate talk and presented the graduates with their diplomas, the class of 1924 consisting of the following:

Dorothy Anderson, Hazel Anderson, Reid John Buseick, John Carl Cason, Francis J. Doherty, Doris Stuart Flynn, Blanch Mae Groshen, Violet Hynd, Agnes McDavid, Kathleen Louise Mahony, Dorothy Pattison, Georgia Fay Ritchie, Richard Scherzinger, Bernice Sigbee, Elaine Sigabee, Myra Alys Wells, Helen Wells, Bernice Woodson.

The program was carried out in order as follows:

Processional March—Girls' Chorus
Dorothy Anderson, Hazel Anderson
Heppner High School Orchestra
Invocation—Mrs. W. O. Livingstone
Allegro Brilliant—Ten Have
Miss Isabelle Steele
Accompiment, Bernice Woodson
Commencement Address, Prof. N. S. Comish
Serenade—Jaxone
Girls' Chorus
Presentation of Class of 1924.
Presentation of Diplomas
Mr. C. E. Woodson
Sweet Forget-me-nots—Miles
Heppner High School Orchestra
Benediction—Mrs. W. O. Livingstone

THE ROUGHRIDER

Chautauqua Dates Are June 30th to July 5th

The dates for the Heppner Chautauqua are June 30 to July 5th, inclusive, and from this time on it should be the big event in the minds of our people. There was a meeting of a number of the guarantors on Tuesday evening—not nearly as large as it should have been—and preliminary steps are under way for making the Chautauqua a success. Another meeting of the guarantors will be held soon, at which time it is hoped that the attendance will be large. There is but little time left in which to get everything ready.

The Chautauqua holds over the 4th of July, steps are being taken to have on that day, besides the regular program, additional attraction in the way of a celebration, and a committee will have this particular work in charge and will be prepared to make definite announcements shortly. It is understood that other towns of the county are making no plans to celebrate, and this arrangement will not conflict in any way with other communities as a consequence.

AGED WOMAN PASSES.

Mrs. Emma Smith, mother of Mrs. D. S. Barlow, Mrs. Jack DeVore and Emmett Smith, died at the home of her son on Rhea creek early Tuesday, May 27, following an illness of long duration. Funeral services will be held today at the Methodist church in this city, Rev. F. R. Spaulding officiating, and interment will be in Masonic cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Schafer and daughter of Waukegan passed through Heppner yesterday, returning to their home on a visit of two weeks in Seattle, and other Sound points. Mr. Schafer is a land owner in this county, having a wheat farm out south of Ione which he visited on his trip. He is also the head of the Prest-Schafer Milling company of Waukegan and Athens and states that the entire wheat belt of the Northwest is suffering greatly from the continued drought.

Vawter Crawford, accompanied by his mother Mrs. E. N. Crawford, Miss Mrs. Mary Crawford and Miss Leora Devin, departed early this morning by train for French. The party will visit for the week at the home of O. G. Crawford, editor of the Joseph Herald, and while in Wallawa county Mr. Crawford will be escorted on a fishing trip to Ice lake, a beautiful lake nestling high up in the tall mountains and hard of access, but a favorite retreat of the followers of Isaac Walton.

Marshal Devin spent some time yesterday in cutting away grass and weeds along the sidewalks on various streets in the center of town. He states that what he has done can be considered as an example to property owners who are admonished to go and do likewise, thus making the streets appear neat and clean and also do away with a fire menace. The grass is beginning to dry up and the danger of fire from this source is increasing daily.

Ione lodge of Masons has extended an invitation to the Arlington and Heppner lodges to be present at their regular meeting on Wednesday night, June 4. There will be work in the 3rd degree and the degree team will be chosen from the floor. All members of Heppner lodge contemplating going will please notify L. W. Briggs, secretary, by Tuesday, June 3, so that he may be able to inform Ione lodge how many to expect.

Dr. C. C. Chick has become associated with Dr. Vernon J. Brown of Portland in the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Chick recently left The Dalles where he had been located since leaving Heppner and by joining with Dr. Brown in Portland has entered a much larger field of practice. Their offices are at the corner of East 24th and Alberta streets in Portland. The home address of Dr. Chick is 906 E. 18th St. N.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Memorial Sunday was observed at the Christian church in this city Sunday forenoon by appropriate services. Rawlins Post G. A. R. and the W. R. C. were represented, and the Boy Scouts also attended in a body. Rev. W. O. Livingstone, pastor of the church, delivered the address and a quartette, consisting of Mrs. Chester Darbee, Mrs. E. R. Huston, M. D. Clark and Vawter Crawford sang two special pieces appropriate to the occasion and a goodly audience was present. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic are few in Morrow county and on this occasion but three were present: N. S. Whetstone, commander of Rawlins Post, John C. Ball, adjutant, and C. A. Low, a member from Ione.

Johnny Kenny was in town Tuesday, lamenting somewhat over the fact that the much needed rain does not come. However, his grain is holding up well and in condition to be much benefited if the showers hit the upper Sand Hollow section soon. This longing for rain on the part of the wheat raisers is beginning to get on their nerves but the weather man seems in no hurry to pour out his blessings. Fearing that our machinery was running dry, Johnny stepped into the well and poured a little oil on the wheels.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Luttrell came over from Grass Valley on Saturday in response to a call announcing the very grave illness of Mrs. Luttrell's mother, Mrs. Mary Barton. Mrs. M. H. Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Luttrell arrived from Tacoma on Sunday evening to be present at the bedside of her grandmother. Mrs. Barton was taken suddenly very ill during the night on Friday and her condition has been quite critical since.

At Lexington next Monday night the ladies of the Klan will hold their meeting. This is largely in celebration of the anniversary of the organization, and a program of entertainment is being prepared. This meeting will be held in their hall and an invitation is extended to all Klansmen to attend.

H. A. Lindgren, sheep and wool specialist from Oregon Agricultural College, is spending several days in Morrow county this week making a check on the grade of wool being clipped. In company with Roger W. Morse, county agent, he is working the W. H. Cleveland clip above Heppner.

The regular meeting of Doric Lodge No. 20, K. of P., will be held at Castle Hall in I. O. O. F. building on next Tuesday evening, at which time it is desired there shall be a large attendance of the membership; matters of importance are coming up for settlement. J. W. HIATT, K. R. & S.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Low of Ione attended services in this city on Memorial Sunday. Mr. Low is one of the oldest of the Grand Army men residing in the county and always manifests a deep interest in the patriotic order of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark departed yesterday for Baker and other points in the city Tuesday, looking after business matters. They were accompanied by Miss Gertrude Davies, grade teacher in the Heppner school, who is returning to her home at Baker for the summer vacation.

FOR SALE—One 12-foot Deering combine in good condition. Or would consider cutting from 400 to 800 acres at reasonable prices. Cecil C. Sargent, 1 1/2 miles east of Ione on highway.

Peter Bauersfield, sage of Cecil was in the city Tuesday, looking after business matters. He will be going to the Ritter hot springs before long, which are to him a fountain of youth.

Edw. Rietmann was in from the farm north of Ione on Wednesday to get Mrs. Rietmann and the new baby, who were ready to return home from the hospital.

Ruth Chapter Members Visit Locust Lodge

By invitation of Locust Chapter No. 119, Order of Eastern Star of Ione, 36 members of Ruth Chapter No. 32 of Heppner visited them at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, and were highly royally entertained.

There was no initiation or other special work, so after the regular routine of the lodge meeting, a number of Locust Chapter ladies who had "organized" Lodge No. 1 of Ione, Female Masons, proceeded to open lodge and give a demonstration of how female Masons work, and there was a half hour or more of fun acted out to perfection by those taking part. There was an initiation of two candidates, one of which proved to be a man who had presumed to "work in" on this organization, whose members were sworn to admit no man, and this broke up the meeting. The burlesque was quite amusing, and the costumes for the event were "killing." Following this, refreshments of sherbert, coffee and cake were served as a fitting climax to a very delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Luttrell came over from Grass Valley on Saturday in response to a call announcing the very grave illness of Mrs. Luttrell's mother, Mrs. Mary Barton. Mrs. M. H. Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Luttrell arrived from Tacoma on Sunday evening to be present at the bedside of her grandmother. Mrs. Barton was taken suddenly very ill during the night on Friday and her condition has been quite critical since.

LITTLE ACTIVITY IN WOOL MARKET HERE

Heppner Man Gets Best Price; Producers and Buyers Apart.

So far as we are able to learn, there is no activity whatever in the Heppner wool market, and the indications at present do not point to any early selling. The trouble right now appears to be that the buyers and producers are too much separated as to price, and since the season opened there have been but very few sales. This condition seems to prevail throughout the entire northwest. The best price so far received has been by a Heppner man. Pat Connell disposed of his clip at 35 1/2 cents, while other prices received have ranged from 30 to 38 cents. This is according to the report in Tuesday's Oregonian, which sizes up the present state of the wool market in the following:

There is more activity in the wool market in the northwest and a somewhat irregular trend of prices. The aggregate amount of business done in the past two days, however, has not been large, probably less than 200,000 pounds, but it is more favorable favorably with the week preceding. The tone of the market also shows improvement, notwithstanding bearish news from the east.

The most important development in the market was the sale of Pat Connell clip at Heppner at 35 1/2 cents. Dealers here consider this a strong price, especially as the market for some time past has shown every indication of declining from the previous top level, which was around 38 cents.

The other clips involved were taken at a wide range of prices, 30 to 38 cents. Some business was done at Pilot Rock as well as in central Oregon, and two small lots were sold at Lewiston.

Bids made on a large clip of Boise wool were turned down and the grower intimated he would ship his wool to Portland for later sale. Some of the Lewiston growers are also considering storing their wool in Portland.

Private advices from the east tell of the further closing down of mills. The government bulletin sent from Boston yesterday said:

"The wool market has remained active, with prices on domestic wool somewhat nominal. Foreign wools, however, are quite strong. Some of the leading houses say that a slightly larger volume of these wools has been moved during the last week. The stocks available here are extremely limited in many lines, some of the houses being practically sold up."

State Normal School Will Welcome Alumni

Extensive plans are being made to welcome the alumni back to the Normal School during Commencement Week.

Tuesday, June 10, is Alumni Day. The annual business meeting will take place in the afternoon and following that at 8:30 o'clock will be held in the Oddfellows new hall. The program to the public will be given at 8:15 the same evening in the Normal Chapel, with Judge H. H. Belt of Dallas as speaker.

The electric and commercial clubs of Monmouth are making arrangements to provide living accommodations for the alumni visitors. All graduates of the school are urged to return and enjoy Normal hospitality again.

HAS HANGING COMING.

Deil Allatt states that there is some young fellow who has a hanging coil of rope running into town from his place. For some time, there has been a bad mix-up from out his way and from the Rugg ranch and the trouble could not be located. The Rugg line is No. 12 and the Allatt line is 13. The lines came together at the corner of the Wakefield place and reach Heppner on the one line of poles. A short distance from where the lines join on the same pole, this culprit, whoever he was, had run a wire from the Rugg line underneath the cross beam on a pole and connected it to the Allatt line on the other side—hence all the trouble. Mr. Allatt found this Tuesday in going over the line and removed the wire and thus got rid of the difficulty. In the meantime a doctor was badly wanted out that way and it was necessary to ride to town for him. Anyone who has a job of this kind, the telephone line is mighty smart, and Mr. Allatt thinks he has a hanging coming.

Earth Phenomena Alarms McKay Folk

Residents of McKay creek were alarmed, about a month ago, at what seemed to be a slight earthquake and yet resembled an explosion. Investigation revealed that during the night a slide or sink had occurred on a hill side, several acres of ground falling over the line, and removed the wire and thus got rid of the difficulty. In the meantime a doctor was badly wanted out that way and it was necessary to ride to town for him. Anyone who has a job of this kind, the telephone line is mighty smart, and Mr. Allatt thinks he has a hanging coming.

Excavation was started this week on the Legion swimming tank on the property given the local post by W. H. Barratt. Work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and three weeks time should find them ready for use. When completed the tank will be divided into two parts, the larger for use of the grown-ups and the smaller for the kiddies. The Legion boys have already started the sale of season tickets, the price being $5. There is no limit to the number of swims which may be taken for this amount.

Miss Gladys Bengel of Lexington accompanied Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bengel to Walla Walla on Tuesday and after taking in the Pioneer Pageant will go on to Cheney, Wash., to attend the summer school of the Eastern Washington state normal school.

Born, on Sunday, May 25th, 1924, at their home on Balm Fork to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Osmun, a daughter.

Good Program Coming to Heppner Chautauqua

Replete in Nation's Best Talent in Drama, Music and Elocution Entertainment Unexcelled.

Are you a Mollusc?
News just received by the local Chautauqua association contains the announcement that this question will be answered during Chautauqua week. The clever comedy "The Mollusc" by Hubert Henry Davies is to be presented here by the Clarke-Brown players of New York. Laurette Brown, well known Broadway actress, appears in the title role.

Of equal importance is the announcement that the play "Six Cylinder Love" will open the Chautauqua here this season, the dates being June 30 to July 5. Seldom do we find two plays on one Chautauqua program and this alone is sufficient to insure a record attendance. Wherever there are automobiles, the comedy "Six Cylinder Love" is a tremendous hit—for an automobile is the villain and it certainly raises havoc with two young couples. Through the medium of a thousand hearty laughs, humorous situations and clever lines, this villain delivers the best little lesson on extravagance yet of record.

Names prominent in different lines of endeavor are noted in the list of lecturers. Dr. E. T. Hagerman is an inspirational lecturer whose famous lecture, "The Man With One Window," won first place in the vote on one of the large Eastern circuits last season. Dr. Hagerman illustrates his lecture with humorous anecdotes and personal experience which reminds many of "Honest Abe" Lincoln, and he plays on the feelings of his audience as an organist does on the keys of his instrument. Bagdasar K. Baghdjian is a native of Armenia who came to this country to escape Turkish persecution, and his address here lived in Korea and is perhaps best known to the world as an advocate of the Korean government against the usurpations of Japan. H. Taylor believes that the hope of the nation lies in the boys of today and his play "Give the Boy a Chance" will strike a responsive chord in every heart.

An exceptional variety in musical entertainment features are noted: Going-Bell-Emerson Company; Vernon Symphonie Quintet; Frank L. Cowan, American tenor; Australian Artists Trio; The Davies-Quallen Entertainers; and McDonald Birch, in artistic magic.

Scout Troop Off For Camp in Mountains

The Boy Scout troop went out to their mountain camp on Monday where they will spend ten days in enjoying camp life and getting experience that comes to them in no other way. They were taken to the camp by members of the Elks lodge who loaded the boys into their cars and landed them at their destination in pretty short order. The camp is right near the Hamilton ranch and will be in the charge of Scoutmaster Livingston, 24 of them being in the company. The bedding, equipment and commissary were delivered at the camp in the big truck of Frank Turner's, and it looked like the boys might be going on a camping trip of weeks, judging from the amount of provisions piled on the truck. They are all pretty husky lads, however, and possess manly appetites that will only be sharpened by their camping experience. The scoutmaster states that it might be well for the visitors at the camp to bring along their own eatables that the larder of the Scouts will only be sufficient for their needs. Visitors will be welcomed, however. Photographer Sigbee secured a fine picture of the troop at the head of Main street, before they boarded the cars. They were a happy bunch of boys and expect to have a grand time.

IS SOME SNAKE CHARMER.

Among other accomplishments possessed by Frank Harwood, Jeweler, is that of snake charmer, and the evidence of this is a small rattler he has been displaying at his place of business this week. Mr. Harwood captured this varmint the other evening while on a visit to the old school house spring on the hill east of town. Frank sat down beside the spring and there, directly at his hand, was Mr. Rattlesnake, calmly curled up but apparently unaware that anyone was near. Just a little startled, Mr. Harwood moved back a safe distance, and decided to capture the snake. Getting a glass jar the reptile was finally induced to take refuge therein and was brought to the Harwood store where he has been an object of interest since. On examination it was revealed that the reptile had but one eye, and his blind side was evidently next to Mr. Harwood when he sat down at the spring, otherwise the result might have been painful to the jeweler. The snake has five rattles and a button.

LEGION TANK STARTED.

Excavation was started this week on the Legion swimming tank on the property given the local post by W. H. Barratt. Work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and three weeks time should find them ready for use. When completed the tank will be divided into two parts, the larger for use of the grown-ups and the smaller for the kiddies. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sweek and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hedrick will motor to East Lake to spend this week-end, getting some of the big fish. Mr. Hedrick expects to return home about Monday.

N. H. Camish, a professor in the Oregon Agricultural college, was in Heppner over Friday night, delivering the address to the Heppner High school graduates.

ROBERTS HEAVES WAY TO NEAR WIN

Loses Hard Game On Error After Having It Pocketed.

EGG CITY WINS 5-4

Opponents Get Decisive Score In Ninth After Being Shut Out Till Sixth Inning.

Ione took a little the edge of the breaks on their home field Sunday and won from Heppner 5-4. The locals took things their own way for the first five innings, and things continued very bright well into the sixth when with two gone Ione had not yet batted. Then it was two men got out, and an overthrow by Crawford to first allowed two men to score. Another hit in the same frame allowed another man across home plate and Ione led for the first time 3-2. Heppner made her first two scores in the third inning. It was a nip and tuck then with the score tied in the ninth when Ione came to bat and ran in the decisive count.

The bulk of the honor for the locals is due Freddie Roberts, Heppner's freckled faced boy pitcher from Portland. Aside from pitching like a veteran and fielding his position in league style in every instance, it was his club which was responsible for the bulk of Heppner's runs, three, to be exact. Fate has surely decreed against Freddie, for by the brand of ball he has delivered in every game so far he has been entitled to a clean slate of wins instead of only one.

The game was the closest and best played seen in the league this season, according to many fans at Sunday's contest. Fred Roberts kept the Ione batters well under control and allowed but seven hits, struck out ten batters and walked but two. Thornton heaved 'em across for Egg City till the middle of the eighth when he was replaced by Roche. Thornton allowed but seven hits, struck out seven batters and walked four. Roche allowed one hit and struck out one batter. Errors were few on both sides, each being marked with three.

Fred Roberts made the longest drive of the game, a three-bagger which scored two runners. "Dutch" McPherrin made the best average with three hits out of five time at bat. All of Dutch's good work was not done at the bat either for he batted but seven times, struck out seven batters and walked four. Errors were few on both sides, each being marked with three.
