LEADERS SHOULD KNOW FACTS.

WHY is it that when some one wishes to stir up a row between the Republicans and the Democrats, they drag in the tariff question? As a matter of fact, the tariff or protection for American workmen and industries, is not a political issue and should be considered equally by Republicans and Democrats as a non-partisan issue.

A prominent manufacturer who has to sell his products to both Republicans and Democrats, says:

"I recently had an old friend of mine in the office. He is an eloquent public speaker and a man of parts and standing. While he talks glibly to his audiences about our grinding import duties, he has never studied the matter. I put him on the 'grill' and told him it was the duty of a man who professed to be a leader of men and public opinion, to study the things about which he talked.

"I then introduced the subject of tariff and he admitted with much confusion that he had no idea how much the per capita burden of all customs duties really is; he only knew they must be large, and that in 'free trade' England, they must be much smaller.

"I then gave him the indisputable figures for 1921 and 1922 in the United States which show a per capita customs of $2.85 against a per capita customs in Great Britain and Ireland of $13.87 for the same period. He was amazed to find that it would cost him or his gardener, Rockefeller or Ford, only 1.4 cents per day for the advantage of having our workmen and industries, not fully protected by any means, but partially protected.

"He was surprised that the customs duties were greater in England than in the United States, and that in England the poor paid the taxes, through the heaviest customs being levied on the necessities of life, which is not the case in the United States, and that under the English system and articles taxed, the poor were not protected either in their jobs or in their wage.

"England would have had very little unemployment today if she had gone no further than holding her home markets instead of having them flooded by foreign manufactures, and thus reducing by 25 per cent or 30 per cent or 50 per cent or more, her factory output, resulting, of course, in increased costs and idle workmen."

A discussion of this subject from the standpoint of the facts involved is not politics but just plain ordinary business and should not be considered as a Republican or a Democratic issue.—The Manufacturer.

In Portland a drunken auto driver ran a man down and killed him. It is now suggested that he be deprived of his auto license for life. Why not? Society has a right and a duty to protect itself against such people. A drunken man has no business at the wheel of a car. He is always a prospective murderer. The suggestion that he be not allowed to drive a car is merely a proposal that he be disarmed. Prompt and vigorous action in depriving such men of their licenses will do much to promote safety and likewise sobriety.—East Oregonian.

PORTLAND POLITICIANS RISQUE.

THE recall of three county commissioners and the scandal over city insurance jobbery have, or should have, aroused the people of Oregon.

The high-handed methods of the ignorant or unscrupulous political machine should not be allowed to dictate in state and legislative affairs.

That disgusting exhibit of political incompetency has helped debauch the legislature and saddle the people with high taxes these many years.

The arrival of the Portland delegation with twenty-four cases of Scotch of inferior quality and leadership of fusil oil brand might be spared.

Not but what the Cow County members relish it to a degree, and are vitiated with it before they ever arrive in Salem, but Oregon could spare it.

The organization of the legislature in the imperial political headquarters at Portland is not on the highest basis of manhood and character.

The state has decent and able leadership in the country outside of Portland but it is robbed of its virtue and its brains are fuddled at Portland.

Legislators who go to Portland to get in on the organization should be recalled when they return home by those wise to old methods, and who is not?—The Manufacturer.

Ike Howard of Ione had contemplated going into the newspaper business, trading the Morrow county court house at Heppner to Hassler for the Ione Independent. The agreement was, of course, that Hassler move the court house to Ione and convert it into a kindergarten school for the training of infants of the county in politics—so many of our citizens being unable to know just what to do until they have the word from this great political wizard. However, Ike was doomed to disappointment as the real owner of the Ione paper has appeared on the scene and the "trade" is all off.

SERVICE VS. THE BIG NOISE.

SENATOR McNARY has been renominated and should be re-elected. He remained at his post in the U. S. Senate and carried every county in Oregon.

His fight to help farmers to better marketing conditions, and his fight for reforestation, were big cards with the masses of the people at home.

The people of Oregon are getting wise to the value of keeping men more than one term in the Senate, as all western states but Oregon are doing.

The personally owned and controlled Senator is going out of fashion, and men in high office under dictation of secret organizations ditto.

Senator McNary is a native son, educated in the common schools and in western colleges, ranks high as a lawyer and stands well on committees.

There was no legitimate excuse for turning him out of office at this time. His name was not connected with any retainers from big business.

The people got these facts clearly into their minds and no amount of big noise and introduction of false issues could addle their judgment.—The Manufacturer.

Notes on the World Agricultural Situation.

(Morrow County Extension Service News)

The late spring in northern Europe has delayed field work and there are few indications yet as to the prospects for spring crops for the coming season. There has been some winter-killing of wheat, but the estimate of wheat acreage in Europe is still more than 95 per cent of the acreage of 1923, while the rye acreage may be slightly greater than last year.

The wheat harvest in Argentina and Uruguay was completed under favorable conditions, and there is some indication that the final production figures will exceed previous estimates. The corn harvest is in progress in Argentina with alarge crop in prospect.

Imports of wheat into Europe continue to be at least as heavy as those of a year ago. Imports into the United Kingdom were unusually large in March, with receipts in the first three weeks of the month in excess of 20,000,000 bushels. Russia shipments of wheat and rye have practically ceased, and it is now estimated that since August 1, grain exports from Russia ni bushels have amounted to: wheat 20,000,000; rye 37,000,000; barley 8,000,000, and corn 2,500,000. Wheat shipments from Argentina from January 1 to March 20 are reported as 52,000,000 bushels, as compared with 45,000,000 bushels in the same period of last year.

SILOS PLANNED AT BOARDMAN.

A meeting was held at the home of Mr. J. L. Jenkins at Boardman April 28, at which time the possible construction of silos in the community was discussed. Fifteen farmers of the district attended the meeting which was addressed by Mr. George W. Kable, Extension Agricultural Engineer, from Corvallis. The various types and methods of construction of the silos were explained and at the end of the meeting four announced that they would build silos the coming year and they made plans to plant corn to fill them. Data is being gathered locally on the cost of materials and the location of a set of forms to be used in the construction.

HOME CANNING TABLES REVISED.

Word has been received by the County Agent that Farmers Bulletin 839, "Home Canning by the Cold Pack Method," and Farmers Bulletin 1211 "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" have been withdrawn from circulation and anyone using these bulletins as guides in canning should destroy them. New time tables are being printed and will be available from the County Agent's office within the next two weeks. It has been found that the time of cooking vegetables announced in these bulletins was too short to be absolutely safe in all cases. New bulletins are being printed by the United States Department of Agriculture and will be available for distribution in a short time.
