TIME FOR ACTION.

CHAUTAUQUA will soon be here. Is Heppner to put it over this year without a financial deficit, or are those loyal few who see fit to do something for the community by signing the guarantee to bring the Chautauqua to our town, to be stuck again. Now is the time for action.

One lamentable fact of the situation as it stands this year is that not all the guarantors are putting their shoulders to the wheel. At the first meeting of guarantors last week to start things moving, only a very small representation was present. Much is to be done. Another meeting is called for Friday evening and it is urgently requested that signatories be there.

Few people seem to realize the amount of work necessary to put over an enterprise of the magnitude of the Chautauqua. The selling of tickets, advertising, lining people up, preparation of grounds and tent, all call for a large effort on the part of some one and since the guarantors are responsible for bringing the Chautauqua, it falls to their lot to do these things. Then the success of the Chautauqua depends very largely if not almost entirely on these preliminary preparations, and since any financial deficit falls evenly on every guarantor it is their interest to see that these things are done.

Then the community as a whole has an obligation to meet. Everyone appreciates the Chautauqua and the educational and entertainment advantages it brings. Therefore they should be ready to help the local committee by buying season tickets, which alone go to relieve the burden assumed by the committee, and to lend their services where needed.

Assistance is needed in putting up and taking down the big tent, installing and removing seats and platform, and other odd jobs that come up. One thing that is badly needed to be done, and which was not done last year, is the sprinkling of the grounds to keep down the dust. A man who has backed the Chautauqua from the start and who was largely responsible for its inception here, took time from his business to do this for two years, and though they appreciated the comforts derived from his labors people did not stop to consider how it came about. This is an essential to the convenience of attendants, and something that should be looked after by the committee.

All these things call for loyal support from everyone, and now is the time to start. Let everyone get behind the Chautauqua this year and put it across. We want it and enjoy it, and will want it again next year. The only way to keep it is by supporting it.

UNNECESSARY TRAINING SCHOOL

A PUSH or organized campaign is on to sell the state a tract of land for another boys' training school.

Strange as it may seem, several ranches in Marion county are offered the state, all priced at exactly $55,000. It has been decided by the push that the state treasury can be parted with about that amount.

A committee of Portland real estate men offers its services to inspect which ranch would be the most suitable for the state to buy, and, of course, volunteers its services gratis.

It has been stated that the present state treasurer, Jefferson Myers, is opposed to buying a ranch under the circumstances and looks with suspicion upon the apparent agreement as to the prices of all the tracts offered.

The records show that almost no farm lands are selling at any price and to pick up $55,000 cash for Marion county land would be very nice.

The system employed by the Child Welfare League seeks to find a home for the child and a child to fit the home instead of boosting institutions.

In many states and in all of Canada, reform schools are being abolished and homes are found for the boys not too far gone in crime.

With a system like that the present industrial school for older boys would meet the needs of Oregon for years to come.

DOLLARS AND SENSE!

THE general uprising of women throughout the country in protest against the destruction of natural scenic beauty by obnoxious billboards has met quick response at the hands of all shrewd advertisers who sense the fact that one of the most potent elements in advertising is that of goodwill. Thousands of billboards have been abandoned and unless all signs fail others are to follow. The result will create favor in the eyes of all nature lovers, but also it will demonstrate to the billboard users the fact that the only real selling power is to be found in the newspaper, persistently and intelligently used. It is the news of trade. Plastered on a billboard, disfiguring the highway, it becomes as offensive to the people as it is ineffective to the trader.

WHERE IS THE CAUSE?

WASHINGTON seemed to turn a somersault overnight when our responsible officials were compelled to digest the sensational disclosures showing the almost criminal weakness of our navy. Up to that time no one could be interested in naval expenditures. The Navy Secretary, however, had scarcely returned from telling some Y. M. C. A. folks in New York that the most beautiful sight in the world was the scrapping of a battleship before he faced the storm in the national capital. Then in the twinkling of an eye we learned that it was a safe bet that $150,000,000 will be spent to bolster up our naval arm. Spending ten times one hundred and fifty millions will not uproot the system that has resulted in leaving the country weak against its possible enemies. If Congress is to blame then we should know that fast and fix responsibility. If the navy department is to blame then we should learn that too. If the armour-plate crowd, the submarine crowd or any other crowd has so manipulated that the net result has been the emasculating of America then the sooner the truth is bared the better. Why is it that we spend more money than any two nations and get less than any one nation? It is well enough to set immediately to work to correct the admitted deplorable condition, but the vital thing is to cut out the cancer that for years has been eating at the heart of the nation.

THE FARMING SITUATION.

THOUGH the situation of the farmers is far from ideal, the average condition of the American farmer has improved nearly ten per cent during the past year.

The revised estimates of the Department of Agriculture show that 1923 crops had a total value of about ten billions of dollars, an increase of more than a billion in one year.

Total value of experts of principal agricultural products from United States for eight months ended Feb. 29, 1924, was $1,308,338,000, as compared with $1,233,716,000 for same period during preceding year, an increase of 6 per cent.

In a recent statement, the Department of Agriculture says: "The general agricultural outlook for 1924 indicates that farmers are undertaking a normal program. It is apparent, however, that agricultural production this year will still be attended by difficulties arising from high wages and other costs.

"Domestic demand for agricultural products is at a high level. Foreign markets, on the whole, seem likely to maintain about the present level of demand."

VETO PRESIDENT APPRECIATED.

WITHIN certain definite lines, the people of our counrty appreciate a president who vetoes appropriation bills not provided for by existing taxation.

The public, generally, appreciates very much reducing federal taxes in the interest of the people about 25 per cent.

Cutting that amount from the budget, President Coolidge should veto every new burden put on the people by Congress right down the line.

Fred I. Kent, vice president of Bankers' Trust Company, says there are 2,700,000 employes on the payrolls of the federal and local governments and 700,000 former employes drawing pensions—3,400,000 persons who are being provided by government with their living.

There are 41 to 42 million persons in the United States "gainfully employed," so that every 12 citizens are supporting one in office.

The amount paid for services by government—federal, state and local, represented 6½ per cent of the national income in 1922.

This sum was nearly one-half that paid out in wages by all manufacturing plants in this country in 1921.

This sum represents an average payment of $91 by each person over ten years old engaged in a gainful occupation.

Fire Tuesday Morning Guts Local Residence

What promised to be a serious conflagration Tuesday morning was a fire in the small house, the abode of Ed Berry, painter, just behind the Catholic church. Prompt action by Heppner's volunteer fire department stopped the fire just as it was breaking through the roof and threatening the church. It is not known exactly how the fire started, but evidently the dry grass just behind the house was fired by some means and the blaze spread to the house.

The flames and water entirely ruined the house and the contents were a total loss. The grass fire spread out for considerable distance but was extinguished before reaching other residences in the neighborhood.

OTTO LEATHERS ESCAPES DEATH.

Otto Leathers was among those injured at the Kelly Butte rock quarry near Portland Saturday when a premature blast hurled an avalanche of rock from the wall of the quarry. Three other men lost their lives and one was badly mangled. Leathers was caught at the very edge of the rock avalanche and was quickly released. He was considerably bruised and had lacerations above the eye.—Condon Globe-Times.
