"BIBLE STUDENTS" PROHIBITION AND "KEEP OFF THE GRASS"

The International Bible Students' Association, a religious sect. held a convertion in Columbus, Ohio, last week. A fellow by the name of Buth-erford, from California, is the head erford, from California, is the bead of the organization. In an address to the convention he delivered him-self of a tirade against the prohibi-tion hav, which of course put him on the front page of many of the news-papers of the country. His argument was the regular stock

This argument was the regular stock argument of the wells, prefaced with the neual statement that "I shhor liquor, etc., but prohibition has in-creased the nee of liquor." He also emphasized the time-worn argument of the average boors advo-cate in wit: "As soon as you pro-
