

Golden Rule As An Anti-War Vaccine Urged By Delegates From 18 Nations

LORD ROBERT CECIL

CHARLES V. VICKREY

DR. FRIDTJOF NANSEN

DELEGATES from eighteen nations, meeting in Geneva, have just concluded a discussion of the political and economic situation in the Balkans and Near East. "Stable conditions have not yet been restored in any of the dozen countries in this troublesome region," declared Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the Near East Relief, in his presidential address, "and war is actually threatening again on a half-dozen borders."

He pointed out that the failure of armies and navies, of world wars and diplomatic conferences, were glaringly apparent. "Can practical religion, as expressed through the Golden Rule, solve the problems that have baffled world powers?" he asked. "It seems well worth trying on a much larger scale than ever before. This principle of the Golden Rule is the slogan and aim of the educational and relief work which the United States is doing throughout the Near East. One of the purposes of this international gathering is to emphasize this principle in international relations."

DR. CHAS. LEVERMORE

"Sunday, December 7, will be observed throughout the world as Golden Rule Sunday, for the strengthening of international friendships and co-operation, and for the practical application of the Golden Rule to some of the World's problems. "On this day citizens of all nations will be seated figuratively at the same table, partaking of the same food, thinking the same thoughts and entering into a new realization of the brotherhood of mankind."

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, representing the League of Nations, said: "For several years the world has been hardened by reading descriptions of human suffering and misfortune in the Near East. Our sense of proportion is becoming destroyed. Do we realize to-day the poverty, suffering and misery of the Near-eastern nations? The thing now needed above all others, to create good will and confidence between these nations, is international co-operation. This we hope to obtain through an increasing emphasis on the Golden Rule as a universal creed in international relations."

Among those participating in the discussions were Dr. Charles Levermore, winner of the Hok Peace Prize; and former Premier Venizelos of Greece.

BACK AT HOME NEST AGAIN

One hundred and ten million Americans thrilled with joy and pride this week as six U. S. army aviators winged their way back toward the home nest at San Monica, Calif., to complete man's first flight around the world. Photos show the three round the world army planes flying with escort over New York City, and close up of the three pilots. (Left to right) Lt. Nelson, Lt. Smith, Commander, and Lt. Wade.

Poem by Uncle John

Home again from vacation, with a wonderful tan on our cheeks; back—with renewed ambition which doesn't play hide-and-seek.—Back from the glad vacation—armed anew for the fray. . . . Supple in mind and body, from a season spent in play. Ain't no tonic invented that's half so potent or sure, as the good old American mixture of sun-air-an-water pure. . . . Troubles that seemed like mountains, dwindled to pleasant chores—due to a plunge in the fountains of God's great Out-o-door! Back again from vacation, with muscles like Cardiff's kid,—lovin' our occupation better'n we ever did. . . . Leads to the calm reflection which inspires the soul to say, "When your system needs correction—shut up, an' go out—an' play!"

EXPERT ADVICE.

(Morrow County Farm Bureau News) Mr. Sam Feldman, proprietor of the Palace Clothing Company, up at the county seat, says the trouble with the farmers is they don't know their business. They don't know what crops to raise. Now macaroni, says Sam, is a crop which should be raised more of. With all the Italians being born in this country every year, of parents which got in before we passed the immigration law, every farmer should ought to plant a field of macaroni.

NEW EXPLOSIVE AVAILABLE.

A new surplus war explosive called Pyrotol is available to farmers of Oregon this fall. This is part of the surplus war material and is composed largely of ground smokeless powder and sodium nitrate. It is prepared for use in double-dipped paraffined cartridges weighing about six ounces. The cartridges are packed in wooden boxes each containing 50 pounds of pyrotol. A cartridge of pyrotol as it has been prepared for distribution weighs about six ounces and is approximately equal in strength for agricultural blasting to the usual cartridge of dynamite weighing eight ounces. This explosive will be distributed through the O. A. C. Extension Service. No charge is made for the explosive itself but the cost of putting in cartridge form, packing, shipping and distributing, amounts to $6.60 per 100 pounds, plus freight. Last season a small quantity of pyrotol, another surplus war explosive, was secured for John Kilkenny, in Morrow county, who reported its use very satisfactory. If anyone in the county wishes pyrotol, he should get in touch with the County Agent at once so that he order can be pooled with orders from some of the other counties shipping in a carload of this material.

A recent report by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, on the price of pure bred livestock shows that the present sales values of these animals are extremely low. It may be seen from these reports that anyone contemplating the purchase of a sire or a few females to improve his herd, may do so at prices which are little above slaughter prices. It is shown that at the present time good pure bred stock can be purchased relatively cheaper than at any time for many years. The time to stock up on good sires is when the price of these sires is the lowest.

Robinson Crusoe Didn't Quit!

ONE of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—a ship—and he put up an ad for one. He flung a shirt on a pole at the top of his island; that, in the language of the sea, was plain to every sea-faring man.

THE circulation was small—there was no other medium, but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy—as one garment after another was frayed out—and finally got what he desired: a ship.

SUPPOSE Crusoe had taken down that signal after a time and declared "Advertising doesn't pay." where would he and his story be now?

PUT up your signal and keep it there. Crusoe advertised under very discouraging circumstances. You've got a sure thing—it is only necessary to have the patience, persistence and pluck of Robinson Crusoe—and the good ship "Better Business" will tie up 'longside your pier.
