

Local Happenings

H. R. Smith and Nels Johnson were Gilliam county residents transacting business in this city on Thursday afternoon last. These men, who for years carried on ranching in Morrow county, are living just across the border in Gilliam county these days and engaging in wheat raising and wheat growing. Mr. Smith has been running cattle for several years but is now taking up the handling of sheep and hopes that by close application to the business he will come out on top in a year or two and we hope that he will succeed beyond his fondest expectations.

Mrs. Emmet Cochran returned last week from a visit to Portland, where she attended the Red Cross convention. She reports an enthusiastic meeting, brimful of new ideas and helps to the local chapter. A meeting of the Morrow county chapter will be held shortly. Mrs. Cochran announces, and preparations for the annual roll call will be discussed. This comes off soon, and is expected to meet with the usual good support that is accorded this work. Miss Nell Holinger will be here October 9. She is the head of the Pacific division.

This paper humbly apologizes to Attorney C. E. Woodson, member of the Heppner school board, for not getting his name in the write-up of the reception to the teachers in last week's issue. Mr. Woodson, in his usual happy vein, delivered the short address of welcome to the teachers, and it was purely an omission chargeable directly to the editor, whose gray matter was not properly functioning at the time the account was being written.

Jake Young was busy the past week getting what he had into the Heppner warehouse. Grasshoppers here very thick out his way during the summer and his garden was entirely destroyed by the pests, making it necessary for Mr. Young to take out vegetables from town, something he never was in the habit of doing as he has an excellent garden spot on his old home place.

Hugh D. Brunk, pastor of the Christian church at McMinnville, was in Heppner over Sunday and held services both morning and evening at the Christian church here. Mr. Brunk is closing his work with the church at McMinnville and may accept a call to the work here. He returned home on Tuesday.

There was some three inches of snow fall in the Willow creek basin in the vicinity of Herrin's Mill on Friday night. It soon disappeared with the warm sunning of Saturday. However, the season is fast approaching when we should expect snow to begin piling up in the higher mountains.

Mrs. Clara Wilson of Marion, Iowa, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Phelps in this city, having arrived at the end of the week. Mrs. Wilson is an old time friend of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps and they were schoolmates together. She will remain here for two weeks.

W. G. Scott, who has been quite ill for the past two weeks at his Lexington home, appears to have passed the crisis in the attack of pneumonia from which he is a victim, and is now reported by his physicians as on the road to recovery.

Miss M. Clowry, nurse in the office of Dr. A. D. McMurdo, who has been spending her summer vacation at the home of her father, Jas. Clowry in Chicago, is expected to return to her work at Heppner early in October.

ness, and two or three wagons, in exchange for a 20-acre improved alfalfa place three miles Hermiston, mail route and 50 rods to school; all in alfalfa and good buildings; some fruit. E. P. Dodd, Hermiston, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Routh of Pomeroy, Wash., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee in this city. They are the parents of Mrs. Chaffee and are spending a couple of weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Devine returned on Sunday evening from their honeymoon trip, spent at Portland and Seattle. They were warmly received by the usual charivari crowd of youngsters.

Archdeacon Goldie will hold services at the Episcopal church in Heppner on Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30, and a cordial invitation is extended to the Heppner people to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McNamer were called to Bandon, Oregon, the first of the week upon receipt of the news of the death of Mrs. McNamer's father at his home in that city.

CARE OF EYES VITAL TO HEALTH.

(From State Board of Health.)

Modern civilization has greatly changed the function of the eyes of man. The reading of the printed page throws an enormous strain on the eye by requiring it to make many more movements than are called for in visualizing large objects. The eye is one of the organs most commonly strained in modern life. In its modern use, the eye is constantly focusing at short distances. Unfortunately many of us—in fact more than 60 per cent—have physical defects of vision. By this is meant that the eye is defective to an extent that causes the vision to be less than normal, or that good vision is obtained through an exertion which causes strain. No physical defect contributes more directly to fatigue and inefficiency than eye strain or is more responsible for waste of vitality, effort, time and material. Headaches, nausea, and dizziness are especially frequent results of eye strain. Print blurring, restricted distant vision, occasional double vision, muscular twinges, digestive disturbances and a variety of other manifestations may be due to eye strain.

Your eyes require intelligent care. If you have headaches or if in reading the book is held nearer than twelve inches, you should have your eyes examined by an eye specialist. Lack of proper care causes a variety of defects. Avoid fine work. Such work is especially bad for children and should not be continuous. Rest your eyes frequently from study and close work. The muscles are relaxed by directing the eyes on distant objects.

Reading on moving trains, looking for a long time at moving pictures, reading in a recumbent position, reading in a dim light, facing a glaring light, should be avoided as harmful to the eyes. For the purpose of conserving your vision the direction, source, power and color of artificial illumination are important. The light should be steady. It should be of sufficient intensity to illumine without glare and no shadows should be produced on the reading or work surface.

Be sure your vision is corrected by properly fitted glasses. Have this done by an eye specialist. Do not try to fit cheap glasses on your own eyes. Eye strain from badly fitting glasses may in time seriously affect your eyesight or health. Your eyes should be examined frequently by an eye specialist. Not only should he examine the eye for optical defects but he should interpret the eye conditions in terms of general disease. The eye responds quickly to lowered state of bodily efficiency. Good health means to a large extent right living, and the eyes will share in the general effects.

For Sale—200 yearling hens—Hollywood strain White Leghorns. Good layers. R. H. Quackenbush, Heppner.
