Col. C. C. Boone was a visitor here during the Rodeo. He enjoyed the few days spent at Heppner and Lexington immensely, meeting so many of his old-time friends. Col. Boone is at the soldiers home in Roseburg, where he has been for the past three years, and where, he states, he is receiving the best of care and attention. For a number of years he was engaged in the raising of turkeys on his place below Lexington on Willow creek, and his business grew into large proportions. Disaster struck him, however, when fire burned up all his earthly possessions at a time when it was getting harder for him to do any work, and so he accepted the opportunity offered to the old veterans to make his home with others of his comrades at Roseburg. Col. Boone returned home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson drove in Friday from the Klamath Indian Agency, where they have lived during the past year, and where Mrs. Johnson is employed as health nurse. She likes her work there very much and succeeds in getting along with the Indians quite well. During the summer Mrs. Johnson was absent on educational leave and took a course at the summer school at Berkeley. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson returned home on Wednesday after enjoying a visit with his mother, Mrs. Josephine Johnson in this city.

Judge and Mrs. W. T. Campbell and Commissioner Davidson drove up from Lertland Monday, after spending several days in the city. Mr. Davidson had little to occupy his time, so he counted the cars they met on the highway between Malin and Falls and The Dalles, some fifty miles, and recorded the number of 367, and he may have missed some aid cars and a Franklin at that. The Columbia River highway will have to be widened out several feet to care for the traffic in another year or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson of Ukiah were in Heppner during the Rodeo. Mr. Peterson being here with his string of reiny horses and buckers, taking a prominent part in the events on the program. They were accompanied by Mrs. Peterson's mother, Mrs. Ray Huddleston of Lone Rock. Mr. Peterson is president of the Cowboy's convention at Ukiah, which each year along about the 4th of July puts on an exhibition of horsemanship and other attractions in the mountain town.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Szepanek and Mrs. Chas. Schmidt of Alpine were in the city Friday. The Rodeo management made Friday the special day for the school children of the county and Mike brought in the pupils of the Alpine school to take in the show. Fairly good rains have visited that part of the county, states Mr. Szepanek, and the farmers out that way will soon be busy with their fall seeding.

John Kilkenny states that word received from Baker the first of the week is to the effect that so far this fall there has been no rain in that part of the state, and the range conditions are bad in consequence. Much more moisture is needed here to bring along the grass, but John says the range on the north hill sides is fairly good at present.

G. L. Bennett and Roy Finley were visitors in the city on Tuesday from the Finley ranch near Alpine. Mr. Bennett, who is an auctioneer of many years experience, has his card in this issue of The Gazette-Times and is open for any sales that may be contemplated. He can be reached by letter addressed to him at Lexington.

Lon Markham, former resident of Morrow county, was over from his home at Freewater for several days the end of the week. Mr. Markham still has possessions here and business pertaining thereto calls him to Heppner frequently; besides, he is always glad to get over this way and visit with the old-timers.

Chas. Ray of Cloverdale, Ore., a prosperous community of Tillamook county, was a visitor in the city during the Rodeo. He was accompanied by his niece, Miss Ethel Ray. Mr. Ray is a brother of Mrs. John Her of this city, and he and Miss Ray were guests at the Her home during their visit here.

J. B. Huddleston and sister, Miss Bess Huddleston, who are extensively engaged in the raising of sheep over in the Lone Rock country, were visitors in Heppner the first of the week.

Bankers' President

Wm. E. Knox, new president of the American Bankers Assn., started his banking career 39 years ago as a minor clerk in the Bowers Savings Bank in New York. Today he is its president, having worked his way up through nearly every department. He came to America an immigrant boy from Ireland when nine. "The surest cure for anarchy and Bolshevism is a saving account," says Mr. Knox. He knows of many cures, having been the doctor.

Your Baby Can Be Wonder Baby Too, if---

Myraline Allen, 18 months old, of Covington, Ky., already knows the alphabet and identified and plainly spoke each name when asked by different spectators in a recent extensive test. Educators say nine-tenths of all American babies could do the same if mothers would start education as soon as babies begin to show interest. Photo is of Myraline and her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Keithley came over from Pendleton on Thursday and remained in the city until Monday, enjoying a visit with numerous friends. Mr. Keithley is engaged in the insurance and real estate business at Pendleton with D. C. Wells. Mr. Wells was also a visitor here over Saturday.
