

Local Happenings

J. L. Yeager has an Indian relic that he got hold of 40 years ago, and just recently dug up at his home in this city while going through the attic. It is a bow, carved out of hickory, and Mr. Yeager states that it was strong with sinew thread and was in perfect condition for years, but the most of the thread is gone now. It was evidently a pretty formidable weapon at one time and may have done some service in the hands of a noble Red Man in the pursuit of game or the enemies of the tribe.

Rev. E. C. Alford, newly appointed pastor of the M. E. church, arrived with Mrs. Alford on Thursday last and has taken charge of the work, preaching his first sermons on Sunday. Mr. Alford comes well recommended as a church worker, and he and Mrs. Alford have met with splendid success in other fields they have served especially with the young people. We wish them abundant success in their work here.

P. J. Quillin of Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, where he runs a hotel business, spent several days here this week, enjoying a visit with old-time acquaintances and looking after his land holdings in Hood canyon. Mr. Quillin left here several years ago but occasionally returned as a business called. He was an early homesteader in the county and still owns the place he proved up on about 36 years ago, and remembers very well the pioneer days spent here.

Mrs. Spencer Akers, who has been spending the past month with the family of Chas. Barlow in this city, departed on Friday for Portland, being accompanied by her little granddaughter, Edith Marie Barlow, who she helped nurse through a prolonged spell of illness. After a visit of a few days in Portland, Mrs. Akers will go to her home in Centralia, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ayers arrived home on Monday afternoon from Portland. They have been spending the past two months in the city and at the coast at Seaside, where Mrs. Ayers was convalescing from her recent serious illness. She returns home well improved in health and gaining in strength each day.

The ladies missionary society of the Christian church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jeff Jones and enjoyed a fine program. Mrs. Frank Turner sang a solo, and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, which was well attended by members of the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barlow will leave for Portland on Sunday, expecting to visit in that city and at Centralia, Wash. During their stay in Portland, Mr. Barlow will attend the meeting of the K. of P. grand lodge as a delegate from Doric Lodge No. 20, of this city.

Miss M. Clowry, nurse in the office of Dr. A. D. McMurdo, returned home on Saturday, after spending the summer visiting with her father in Chicago, and with relatives in Ohio and Indiana. She enjoyed a very pleasant visit and is glad to be back in Heppner again.

Joe T. Knappenberg of Portland was a visitor in Heppner on Saturday while looking after business. He is now operating a real estate office in Portland, in which business he is associated with Roy Whiteside.

The meeting of the Heppner Chapter of the Red Cross will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the offices of Judge Campbell in the court house. Don't forget this, and be there.

Mrs. Fannie Rood came up from her home at Portland on Monday and is spending a few days with relatives here, and looking after business interests in the county.

Mrs. Sarah Rogers, mother of Mrs. C. W. McNamer, arrived here recently from her home at Bandon, and will remain for the winter at the home of her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mahon, who live on the Webb ranch on Thorn creek, are the proud parents of a 9-pound daughter, born to them on Sunday, October 6th.

Elmer Brown and wife of Roseburg are visitors at the home of Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McFerrin, and with other relatives in this city.

Marion Huston and wife of Dufar are visitors at the home of Mr. and Luther Huston this week, being called here by the very serious illness of Mr. Huston.

Mrs. Anna Spencer, who has been spending several weeks visiting with friends in Spokane, is now visiting at Echo where she expects to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wells visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wells in Pendleton a couple of days the past week returning home on Friday afternoon.

Fred Murray was in town Tuesday with a load of spuds from his farm near Lone, which he disposed of to the merchants here.

J. W. Becket, extensive Morrow county land owner, is here from Portland, looking after his interests in the Eight Mile section.

Sure and Certain Returns

THE matter of freight rates enters very largely into the overhead of most every business and in connection with agriculture, it has always been a large factor in determining its profit and loss. The way to insure sure and certain returns for the farmer is to ship his products in concentrated form.

That is why we, here at the First National Bank, have always advocated diversified farming, with dairy cows, chickens and hogs, fed and kept by the hay and grain raised on the farm. In this way, concentrates of alfalfa and wheat or oats, such as butter, milk, cream, eggs and pork, can be marketed instead of the bulkier crops. What do you think of this plan, Mr. Farmer? Come in and give us your views, and perhaps we can help you to put your farm on a more profitable basis.

We should like every farmer in this community to spend a few days at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland, Nov. 1st to 8th. Here will be assembled the greatest gathering of purebred beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, goats and chickens in the entire country. It will afford you an incomparable opportunity for observing and studying the methods and results of successful breeders.
