Coolidge Holds Lead As Straw Vote Ends

APPROXIMATELY ONE MILLION BALLOTS CAST IN NATION-WIDE POLL CONDUCTED BY THIS NEWSPAPER.

If This Voting Indicates November Results, Election May Go to House For Settlement; Surprise of Straw Vote Is Ohio For LaFollette and Oklahoma For Coolidge.

Herewith is published the final vote in The Gazette-Times' nation-wide presidential poll. It furnishes some very interesting figures for political dopsters. With approximately one million votes cast in 45 states, the popular vote shows Coolidge leading with 375,940 to La Follette's 283,703 and Davis' 280,582.

In electoral votes—Coolidge leads with 18 states for a total of 245 electoral votes. Davis is second with 17 states, or 180 electoral votes, and La Follette third with 10 states or 90 electoral votes.

There are 531 votes in the electoral college. 266 are necessary for election. If this poll correctly indicates the way the election will go, then Coolidge will be shy some 21 votes of election and the choice will be made in Congress.

WHO HANDLES YOUR FOOD SUPPLY?

State Board of Health. There is today a growing distrust of uncooked foods and it must be admitted that the more the subject of raw food is investigated, the more cause there appears for uneasiness. Ninety per cent of all infections are taken into the body through the mouth. At least five epidemics of typhoid fever occurring in Oregon have been due to carriers of this disease infusing raw milk. Indiscriminate use of raw milk is naturally followed frequently under suspicion as a vehicle for contagious diseases. This demonstrates the fact that it is not only necessary to insist on cleanliness, but steps must be taken to provide for the examination of every food handler.

THE MELANCHOLY DAZE

V. GENTRY TRIAL CREATES INTEREST

A well filled court room heard the trial of L. V. Gentry at the court house yesterday and this forenoon. During the Rodeo the premises of Mr. Gentry on Hinton creek were searched by Sheriff McDuffe and state prohibition officers, and a charge of maintaining a nuisance was lodged against him in the court of Justice Cornett. The trial came on for hearing at 10 o'clock Wednesday and much time was consumed in getting a jury. The following were finally chosen, and were sent to the jury room to deliberate on their verdict at 11 o'clock this morning: Henry Stender, Harve Young, Albert Adams, C. V. Hopper, C. M. Scrivner and Jeff French. District Attorney Notsen appeared for the state and Cal Sweek represented Gentry. Sheriff McDuffe and W. F. Hoskins appeared as witnesses for the prosecution, and the defense had a long list to testify in his behalf. The finding of liquor on the premises of Gentry by the officers when they searched the place was the main point in the prosecution. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Notes From Heppner Hi.

Suits have been issued all second string football men. Everyone now turning out for football has a suit. A rally was held last Friday night. There was more pep shown at this one than at the preceding ones. On Saturday, October 18, one of the biggest crowds in years turned out to see Wasco High and Heppner High on the home gridiron. From the crack of the pistol to the end of the game, the Heppner team, although greatly outnumbered by their opponents, made a wonderful showing. People from both towns remained, that it was the best high school game they had ever seen. The first touchdown was made in the last part of the first quarter by the Wasco quarterback. The second was made on the last down and just barely made, as the ball was right on the line. The quarterback failed to kick goal either time. When the whistle blew the score stood 12-0 in Wasco's favor. Heppner High was entertained last Saturday evening at a party given in their honor by the Christian Endeavor at the Christian church. Everyone reports an enjoyable evening. Junior loud sex day was held Tuesday. The stockings which were worn by the members of the class were almost lost enough to speak for themselves. Every color had a representative there. The next football game will be played with Ione at Ione next Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blahm of Walla Walla are here on a short visit with relatives.

LEGION BOYS WILL HOLD BIG CARNIVAL

Armistice Day Chosen For Big Merchandise Event. OFFER MANY PRIZES. Big Cake Baking Contest Features of Nov. 11 Entertainment; Heppner Merchants Are Cooperating. The members of Heppner Post No. 87, American Legion, are rapidly bringing into shape their plans for a big merchandise carnival to be held at the fair pavilion in this city on the evening of Armistice Day, Tuesday, Nov. 11. In this event they are receiving the hearty cooperation of the Heppner merchants, and a large list of merchandise is to be disposed of in prizes and otherwise. The boys are quite busy just now completing all arrangements, and they are ready to make the following announcement concerning the affair: There will be four principal raffles, the first being a barrel of White River flour, donated by Wasco Warehouse & Milling Co. of the Dalles; 2nd, genuine Pendleton Indian robe, furnished by Thomson Bros; 3rd, $10 pair of shoes, furnished by E. N. Gentry; 4th, Swift Premium ham, furnished by M. D. Clark. A novel feature is to be the big cake baking contest by the ladies of the city. In this contest a $10 prize is offered. The number of entries is limited to fifteen and the contestants will be the first fifteen ladies who leave their names at The Gazette-Times office. Names of each contestant to be placed on bottom of plate; the cakes will be sold at auction and the award goes to the lady whose cake sells for the highest price in the bidding. It is expected this contest will be the means of exciting a lot of interest and the Legion boys should have no difficulty in securing the requested number of entrants. Four big games of chance will offer prizes consisting of coffee, pineapple, cereals, condensed milk, Crisco, pickles, mayonnaise, baking powder, and many other standard food products. Twenty-five cases of these prizes are to be given away at the carnival, all of which has been furnished by the Heppner merchants. The boys announce that the big show will begin promptly at 7:30 and will be followed by a dance. Further announcements will be made concerning the carnival in subsequent issues of this paper, and it promises to be one of the big events of the fall season.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKER TALKS ON CAMPAIGN

U. S. Crowder of Salem Delivers Political Address Here Tuesday. A fair sized crowd was present at the I. O. O. F. hall on Tuesday evening to listen to the address of Rev. U. S. Crowder of Salem on the political issues of the present campaign from the republican standpoint. Mr. Crowder coming to Heppner on short notice, gave but little time for the county central committee to get out its advertising for the meeting, and this accounted for the small hearing that the speaker received. He was entitled to a much larger crowd as he is a speaker of much ability, and the address was absolutely free of the banalities usually heard from the stump and delivered by the average political spellbinder. Mr. Crowder made no attempt to enter into a lengthy discussion of campaign issues. He made no reference to the principal opponents of Mr. Coolidge, except to speak of them in a kindly and considerate way, and the speech was entirely free of mud-slinging—a pleasing contrast to much of the bunk that we are compelled to read as emanating from some of the political camps. The speaker's experience during the past several months, gained from traveling about the country, fitted him to talk intelligently on different phases of the campaign. He made no political prophecies, but believed that the good judgment of the American people would lead them to the support of the republican nominees at the November election. Mr. Crowder spoke very highly of President Coolidge, his knowledge of the man having been gained from his personal acquaintance with the president. In all, the speech was well received and made a good impression upon the hearers. S. E. Notsen followed Mr. Crowder, and he urged all to get out and vote. The necessity of every good citizen getting to the polls on election day was made plain by him, and he desired to see more interest taken by the citizenship in exercising this duty. Mr. Notsen offered no advice as to who the people should vote for, the great thing was for them not to be classed as slackers. He boasted of our democratic form of government, the speaker said, yet we are allowing one election to be decided by the minority whereas the majority should rule. He pleaded for a full vote at the coming election; that voters should study the men and issues and measures on the ballot and go prepared to vote intelligently; no man or woman should vote for a candidate with the hope that the repeal of the income tax would prevail not failing to set forth several good reasons therefor. The principal of the income tax might be all right, but for Oregon to have this tax without the repeal of the income tax and Idaho did not, placed the state in the position of being discriminated against; industries needed were being driven away and the state was a large loser in taxes that would be voted for as a consequence. His remarks were well received.

PLAYING GAME OF DIRTY POLITICS

Governor Would Gain Control Over State Institutions. DEFEAT OF KAY AIM. Another Stuffed Club Being Waved Over Heads of Oregon Voters; State School Fund Issues. By HARRY N. CRAIN. Salem, Ore., Oct. 21.—Governor Walter M. Pierce and the Oregon Journal, in a frantic effort to secure complete sway over all state institutions and affairs thru the appointment of Mr. Myers as state treasurer and third member of the board of control, are waving another stuffed club over the heads of the voters of Oregon. On the strength of a political investigation and report on the condition of the state's common school and other funds administered by the state land board, which by the election of Mr. Myers they would also control, they are endeavoring to create the impression that the school state of the state have been robbed of something like a million dollars by the farmers of Oregon who have benefited by loans from these funds, and by former state officials, whom they charge have willfully squandered these funds in the authorization of loans. Particularly is this attack being directed at Thos. B. Kay, Republican candidate for state treasurer, who was a former occupant of that office and member of the land board, and Sam Koser, incumbent and candidate for reelection to the office of secretary of state, to discredit whom the report was prepared and is being used. Neither the report nor those who are interpreting it to their own ends, however, makes mention of the fact that Governor Pierce, State Treasurer Myers, and all of the ex-governors, preceding state secretaries and former state treasurers since the creation of the land board are equally guilty with the two singled out by the Governor and the Oregon Journal for denunciation as violators of a public trust reposed in them. If the investigation be true, the blame is carefully concealed is the fact that by their own admissions and the direct admission of Mr. Myers in a personal interview the alleged waste in the result of a faulty system prescribed by law and the general condition of agricultural depression which the entire country has experienced since the close of the war, and for which the acts of individual members of the land board and its employees are in no manner responsible. Without going into detail at this time regarding the misrepresentations contained in the report and the biased conclusions that are being drawn from it by Governor Pierce, the Oregon Journal and the general public employees who are being used to scatter the manufactured poison over the state, the unscrupulous politics of the whole affair is evident upon its face. The report, which has been misbranded as an alleged audit of the land board and is nothing more than a compilation of the records on file in the land board office that could have been obtained by any stenographer or clerk in the land board office, was made by Arch T. Tourtelotte, public accountant of Portland, employed by the board at the instigation of Governor Pierce. For his work Mr. Tourtelotte was paid $1500 in round figures. The report was real feature of the general election campaign early in September it was discreetly covered up. Strangely enough, the Oregon Journal made the discovery of its existence. There was in the scheme as a plan of campaign action one discrepancy which neither the Governor, the Oregon Journal, nor any auditor hired for the task could remedy so as to make the actual disbursement of the funds as of June 30, 1924, yet until the opening of the general election campaign early in September it was discreetly covered up. Red Cross Meeting Is Held at Boardman

There was a good attendance at the Red Cross meeting held at Boardman on the 14th. Mrs. Emmet Cochran, Morrow county chairman, presided, and an intensive program was planned. Officers chosen were Mrs. McCumber, chairman; Mrs. Davis, secretary; and Mrs. Gorman, treasurer; Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Gorman, executive committee. Mrs. Cochran is encouraged with the prospects of success for the roll call in the towns of the north end of the county, and both Boardman and Irrigon expect to put their communities over practically 100 per cent. APPRAISERS COMPLETE WORK. The appraisers for the soldiers' bonus loans for this county, Frank Gilliam, Judge Wm. E. Campbell and S. E. Notsen, have completed their work. They have made forty-eight appraisals in this county. On making these appraisals, they have traveled 1140 miles and devoted 14 days to the work. They have charged the ex-service men only their actual expenses instead of the fee allowed by law. In only one or two instances did the expenses equal the fee, and in those cases it was necessary to travel long distances. So far as is known, no other board of appraisers has adopted this policy. Spencer Akers writes this paper from Centralia that he and Mrs. Akers motored to Camp Lewis Sunday and saw the Shenandoah as it was moored at the big 200-ft. high snubbing post, and also witnessed its departure. Mr. Akers states that it was a grand sight, and the big dirigible floated away and out of sight over the horizon amid the cheers of the gathered multitude. He never expects to witness a grand sight again. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barlow were at Camp Lewis on Saturday and saw the big ship make its several unsuccessful, and its final successful attempt to reach the big snubbing post. Charley states that it is surely some big air ship and is a grand sight as she floats around so majestically. Mrs. W. P. Dutton of Portland has been spending the week in Heppner, visiting friends and a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beymer. Yes, Yes. Lover: "She is as pure as snow." Cynic: "And like snow—she may drift."

Curfew Law of City Now Being Enforced

The blowing of the whistle at the power house promptly at eight o'clock each evening is warning to the miners of the city that it is time for them to retire from the streets and seek refuge at the humble fireside. The city authorities will strictly enforce the ordinance, and they will appreciate the cooperation of the parents, who, above all others, should be interested in having the youngsters at home in the evenings, where they can be looked after. From reports reaching this office, we might suggest that there are a goodly number of older "youngsters" who should by rights come under the provisions of the curfew ordinance, there being complaint that they are habitual night prowlers, and congregate on the streets in different parts of town at unearthly late hours of the night, and to no particularly good purpose. Some of these also might be taken under the wings of their parents and guardians.

Moonshiner and Still Taken at Boardman

Deputy Sheriff Jack Gorman of Boardman captured a moonshiner and still near that place one day last week, and the man, Miguel Asedo, a Mexican, now rests within the confines of the county jail at Heppner where he is sitting out a jail sentence of 90 days, along with a fine of $250 assessed to him by Justice Goodwin of Boardman. Being on a lookout for a missing watch, which was thought to be at the camp of Asedo and Joe Bentonson, another Mexican on the river near Boardman, Mr. Gorman went there to investigate. In place of finding the missing watch he found a still in full operation, turning out moonshine with prunes for the raw product, using a five-gallon can for the main part of the apparatus. Asedo was presiding over the contraption, and offered the deputy a drink. Mr. Gorman arrested him, holding Bentonson for a witness, took charge of the evidence, and proceeded to the office of the justice where Asedo plead guilty and received the sentence of the court as stated above. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Huston will spend the week-end at Portland, going home with Mrs. A. J. Wolf, sister of Mrs. Huston. Riding with them will be Miss Josephine Kirtly, high school teacher, who will make a short visit at the home of her parents in Eugene.
