

Local Happenings

Judge Wm. T. Campbell went to Pendleton on Monday afternoon, having in charge Jose A. Ruiz, a Mexican, who he delivered over to the authorities at the Eastern Oregon asylum. He was accompanied by Rev. C. F. Trimble, at whose home the Mexican remained for a few days. Ruiz had been in the employ of Antone Cunha of Lena for the past year or so, and taking spells of wandering away, he was finally brought to town for examination and commitment. He seems to have the idea that someone is seeking to harm him, and while perfectly harmless in his demeanor, he would wander off and remain out in the hills and away from everybody. The Mexican appears to be quite well educated but has evidently had this hallucination for some time.

A wedding of interest to Morrow county folks, took place at the parsonage of the First Christian church in Hood River on Saturday, December 13, when Miss Irene Devin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Devin of Upper Hood River valley was united in marriage to Mr. George Hanel, Mrs. W. O. Livingstone officiating. The parents of Mrs. Hanel formerly resided in this county and engaged in wheat raising in the Ione country for many years. They have been residents of the Hood River country for the past two years or more. Mr. Hanel is engaged in running a service station in the Mount Hood district.

Leslie Matlock is in receipt of a letter this week announcing the death of John Skogland at a hospital in Inglewood, Calif., the home of his brother Charles O. Skogland, on Dec. 7th. Mr. Skogland was for many years a resident of this community, coming here when a young man. Of late years he lived in Condon and occasionally visited Heppner. He suffered a severe spell of sickness at Inglewood last February, according to the letter, but from this he recovered, taking ill again in October and going to the hospital. Mr. Skogland will be remembered by many of the older settlers here.

Word received the end of the week from Otis Patterson, stated that he was at that time in Baker, on his return to Canyon City. Mrs. Patterson was still in the hospital at Baker, recovering from her injuries received a few weeks ago in an auto accident, but he expected that they would be able to reach home in time for Christmas. Mr. Patterson is rapidly recovering from the severe operation he underwent at Portland a couple of months ago and is feeling quite well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thompson of Lewis Butte creek were called to Heppner on Saturday by the death of Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. Francis J. Gordon. They returned home on Sunday evening.

James Elder died following a short illness at his home in Monument on Wednesday of last week. He had been a sufferer for some time with heart disease and it was from this cause that he died. We were unable to gather any further particulars. Mr. Elder was about 50 years of age. He was a Heppner boy and grew up in this community where he lived for many years. He had been a resident of Grant county for the past twenty years or more, and was engaged in stock raising and ranching.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Haynie and daughter Dona arrived at Heppner late Thursday evening last from their home at Fairfield, Idaho. They were enroute for Portland, where Mrs. Haynie and Dona will spend the remainder of the winter. From Portland, Mr. Haynie went to Marshfield to look after some business before returning to Fairfield. They spent the most of Friday in Heppner, meeting their many old-time friends.

Charley Allinger was up from his home at Ione on Friday for a short visit with his daughter, Miss Lillian Allinger, bookkeeper at the Farmers & Stockgrowers National Bank, who has been ill for the past two weeks at the home of Mrs. E. F. Campbell. He reports that Miss Allinger is slowly improving and should be able to return to her work shortly.

T. W. Rippee of Big Butte creek was in the city on Saturday with his family. He brought to town 40 fine fat turkeys, all dressed, which he shipped to the Portland market. The demand for turkeys for the holidays is growing in Portland and the price is much better than at Thanksgiving time.

There was some bunch of Christmas shoppers in Heppner on Saturday, in fact one of the largest crowds that has been in town since the holidays, and the streets were quite lively. It was a beautiful day and the people of the surrounding country took advantage of it.

N. A. Clark and family of Eight Mile spent several hours in the city on Saturday, doing some Christmas shopping. The grain in his part of the county got a good start during the recent snow spell and he feels that it will come through the winter O. K. now.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams were in the city Saturday from their home at Hardman. They departed on Sunday for Portland where they will spend the next three months, enjoying the milder climate of the Willamette valley during the colder part of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bergstrom of Eight Mile were visitors here on Friday. The several days of warm weather prevailing in that section helped to bring the grain along in good shape, Mr. Bergstrom reports.

A. M. Zink was among the numerous visitors in Heppner on Saturday from the Ione section. He states that the warm spell of weather of the past two weeks started up the grain in good shape.

Miss Anna Vey of Pendleton, who was the guest of Miss Rose Kilkenny and Miss Zara Kilkenny at their home near Heppner during the past week, returned to her home Sunday.

R. W. Turner went to The Dalles on Monday to attend the annual meeting of the Oregon State Farmers Union in session there for three days this week, beginning Tuesday.

Leonard Carlson and family and C. E. Carlson and family were Gooseberry people in the city Saturday, doing Christmas shopping and looking after matters of business.

Gus McMillan, a prominent resident of Lexington and one of the extensive wheat raisers of that section, was a business visitor in this city on Friday last.

Judge E. S. Duran was a visitor here from his home in Lexington on Saturday.

CECIL NEWS ITEMS

Geo. Leach and W. Farrens have arrived from the mountains with several bands of sheep belonging to Krebs Bros., which will winter on their Cecil ranches. Several bands of sheep belonging to Hynd Bros. have arrived from their Freezout ranch, and also horses from their ranch at Ukiah. Emil Holm and John Miles brought the horses from Ukiah on Thursday and returned home on Saturday. It was the first trip out of the mountains for the boys and they were surprised but delighted that we had no snow here. They spent Friday hunting jack rabbits and trying to find a pine tree. They left Cecil trying to solve the problem, viz. why they couldn't hit a rabbit or find one pine tree in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Henriksen of Strawberry ranch, accompanied by Miss Annie C. Hynd and Elmer Schaefer of Butterby Flats and Wild Palms of Windybrook, Mr. and Mrs. W. Serton and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lowe and son T. W. Lowe of Cecil, attended the reception of Oddfellows in their hall at Morgan on Thursday.

Weather for the past week has been most beautiful, the hills looking more green than ever and our lovely sunsets and sunrises are truly "the ends of most perfect days." At time of writing, Dec. 13th, it is one grand and glorious day.
