Boy Scouts.

AN INVENTORY of America's assets would list very near the top its 697,000 Boy Scouts.

February marked the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the Scout Movement in this country. For fourteen years the cheerful, smiling Scout, pledged "to help other people at all times," has been quietly following his code of service.

There is a stupendous contribution to human happiness and well-being in the Scout's "daily good turn." For 365 days during the past year alone, more than a half-million boys have been performing at least one act of service!

Every one of us, directly or indirectly, has been the fortunate recipient of a Scout good turn. If a Boy Scout hasn't saved our life, or found our lost baby, or helped rescue our property from flames, he has in less spectacular ways, helped us, through the numerous community good turns with which he has been associated.

His help has counted in clean-up drives, fire-hazard inspections, safety-first campaigns. He has given service at community gatherings, as messenger, patroller, guide. He has rendered first aid in large public gatherings. He has helped the Red Cross and the Anti-tuberculosis League.

These are but several of the ways members of the Boy Scouts of America are lending aid. May the coming year have much of success in store for this estimable organization. May its influence for the welfare of boyhood and our nation increase in power and usefulness.

GEORGE H. CURREY is still branching out in the newspaper game. Besides being the publisher of the Arlington Bulletin and Boardman Mirror, he has during the past week purchased the Eastern Oregon Scout, a Union county weekly newspaper, published at La Grande by L. C. Binford.

Divided Sessions. A DIVIDED session of the legislature is being widely discussed throughout the state and the proposal is worthy of more than ordinary consideration.

Forty straight days does not allow sufficient time for action on important measures. It would be sufficient, however, if our representatives did nothing else but consider measures introduced. But that is really a small part of most sessions of the legislature.

The great array of "new business" carried on about the state capitol takes up more time than anything else. Legislators are handicapped to a great degree by the efforts of lobbyists who take up much valuable time that detracts from concrete and speedy action on many bills presented.

EVERY scheme, seeking to inveigle the state into the water-power business, that the recent legislature was forced to consider, was buried deep under adverse opinion, says the Oregon Voter.

MARCH is here. Weather typical of the month, prevails, and it is somewhat disagreeable after two months of mild nights and pleasant days.

PENDLETON East Oregonian is much distressed over the cigarette tax, which it brands as a "nuisance tax." But it celebrates the enactment of an additional tax on public utilities.

A CHINESE newspaper contains this letter from an applicant for work: "Sir: I am Wong. I can drive a typewriter with good noise and my English is great.

Good morals is good government and good citizenship. It is money in the bank and food on the table and one's roof over one's head. There is no better business than to make men better.
