

MRS. J. J. WELLS' FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Wife of County Assessor Succumbs to Long Illness.

NATIVE OF COUNTY

Impressive Funeral Address Given By Rev. Livingston; Interment In Masonic Cemetery.

After a prolonged illness, lasting some two years, Mrs. Jesse J. Wells passed away at the family home in Heppner at about 8:30 Monday morning. While Mrs. Wells had been in feeble health and her death was not altogether unexpected, yet the announcement came as a shock to her many friends here, who mourn the departure of one highly esteemed in this community.

The funeral was held at the Christian church on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, and was very largely attended, the widowed husband of the deceased presiding at the funeral home out of respect to the family. Rev. W. O. Livingstone of Hood River delivered a short but impressive funeral address and the choir sang appropriate hymns. There were many and beautiful floral offerings banked about the casket and altar, and the very large attendance was an added testimony of the respect held by the people of this community for the deceased. Interment was in the family lot at Masonic cemetery.

Allys Leatherman was born at the David Leatherman home on E creek in this county, January 4, 1879, and at the time of her death was 46 years, 2 months and 8 days of age. She was married to Jesse J. Wells, who was born in the same home on Rhea creek four years earlier, at Hollister, California, November 23, 1883, and to them were born four children, Helen, Myra, Thomas and Harry, with the husband, survive. Her father, Thomas Leatherman, came to Morrow county in 1874 from Hot Springs, Arkansas, and joined his brother, David, who was then residing on Rhea creek on the place later owned by Louis Groshens. With his family he moved to California in 1885, where Mrs. Wells resided until her marriage and she and her husband a short time after came to Portland, then later to Heppner, where they have continued to live ever since.

Besides her own family, Mrs. Wells is survived by the following brothers and sisters: William Leatherman of Bridgeport, Ore.; Mrs. M. A. Whidden of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. W. E. Hurley of Ontario, Ore.; and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Grass Valley, Cal.

Farmers of County Get $50,000 Relief

According to estimates furnished this paper through the First National Bank of Heppner, cash to the amount of about $50,000 for the relief of the farmers of the county in seedling, has been received so far. It is estimated that this sum will be about all that will be required here, as most of the farmers needing relief have been supplied.

While in Salem during the past week, C. E. Woodard, attorney for the Morrow county committee, visited the office of Secretary of State Koser, and that official stated that it was his opinion that the total sum for relief would reach only about $50,000 out of the $150,000 that was appropriated for relief of the farmers in the frost stricken districts. It is found that there is not nearly so much aid required as was at first estimated. Reseeding in this county has gone along steadily, and the most of it is finished now. The fine rain of Monday and Tuesday night will greatly aid in bringing the grain along, and it will also be a big help to the range lands. It was a very general rain all over the county.

Lexington Student Wins Barometer Pin at O.A.C.

Lowell McMillan of Lexington has just been announced winner of a Barometer pin at Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis. This pin is given to members of the Barometer, daily campus service staff, only after they have served three terms on the paper.

Mr. McMillan is an assistant night editor on the staff, and is the only sophomore serving in such a position. He is also treasurer of the sophomore class, and a member of the Psi Chi fraternity.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ORGANIZED

The past ten days have been spent by Clark M. Smith, missionary of the American Sunday School Union, in the work around Heppner. Mr. Smith has visited several neighborhoods, and one Sunday school has been organized. The community about the Willow creek schoolhouse met last Sunday with Mr. Smith and perfected the organization of a school there with the following officers: John Kirk, superintendent; Harold Hill, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Rose Florence, secretary. Regular meetings will be held on each Sunday afternoon at 2:30, and it is hoped that all the people of the community will take an interest, encourage the new organization and help it along as best they can. It has been about ten years since this community had a Sunday school.

Mrs. Phil Brady and children arrived from their Portland home the first of the week and are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor.

BOARD SELECTS SUPERINTENDENT

James M. Burgess Will Succeed E. H. Hedrick as Head of the Heppner Schools.

The Heppner school board met last evening and went over a large number of applications for the office of superintendent. They were presented with the task of making a choice out of much material offered and found themselves up against a pretty big job. The result of their deliberations was the election of James M. Burgess, an Oregon man, graduate of the University in 1919, and now at Stanford University in California, where he is finishing his work and receiving his Master's degree.

Mr. Burgess will succeed E. H. Hedrick, who has been with the Heppner schools the past three years as superintendent, and given splendid service. Mr. Hedrick has been elected to the superintendency of the Medford schools, and is to be congratulated on stepping up to a higher field of usefulness in his profession. It was a disappointment to the Heppner school board, however, that he could not be retained here longer. Other places on the teaching force of the high school and grades will be filled later.

NOTES FROM STATE MARKET AGENT

The New Potato Law.

The recent legislature repealed the potato law enacted two years ago, and which has been in effect for about a year and a half, and enacted a new statute.

It is founded on and is largely a part of the former law, but there are several changes made by the new growers and buyers. The old law had no penalty for violation, and it could not be enforced. It was overruled at the time of its passage. So all that could be done was to urge observance and let it go at that. The new law makes violation a misdemeanor, and any person guilty of violation shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10, nor more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail of not less than 10 nor more than 30 days. It provides that it shall be the duty of the state inspection department to enforce the law.

The U. S. Standard grades are adopted for Oregon, as under the old law, but inspection is given by the inspection department. The other grades and rules not adequately provided for in the U. S. grades. These can only be made after thorough investigation and public hearings.

The new law provides that all potatoes in lots of 50 pounds or more sold or offered for sale in Oregon shall have the sack or container stenciled with the grade and name of the grower. This applies only to stock sold within the state. The old law applied to outgoing shipments, as well. Potatoes which do not meet the required grades shall be known as "no grades" instead of "culls" as in the old law. All potatoes shipped in 10 lbs. or more shall be state inspected.

In seed potatoes when certified by the Oregon Agricultural College, no further inspection is required.

In grades of No. 1, or better grade, the sacks shall be uniform, and stamped "No. 1" or "No. 2" in large characters. In lower grades than No. 1, poorer quality sacks may be used. This distinction will be in a measure designate first grade potatoes from the lower grades.

The new law carries the emergency clause and is now a law.

Alfalfa Hay Hearing at Hermiston.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Market Agent have arranged for a joint hearing on proposed grades for alfalfa hay to be held in the library building, Hermiston, April 1, at ten o'clock, and they invite constructive suggestions relative to the grades at this hearing, or by letter. Letters may be addressed either to the Hay, Feed and Seed Division, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D. C., or to the State Market Agent, 714 Court House, Portland, and they should be received prior to May 1 to receive consideration prior to the announcement of grades. After the hearing is held in different parts of the country.

Every alfalfa grower in Oregon should attend the hearing at Hermiston, if possible.

Huge Savings by Farmers.

The Central Co-operative Commission of Minnesota handled 20,000 carloads of products last year, representing a gross value of more than $24,000,000. It made a saving of $80,000 on commission charges and between $95,000 and $100,000 net earnings to be refunded to its 90,000 shipping organizations.

The missionary society of the Methodist Community church enjoyed a splendid meeting on Tuesday afternoon. About 50 ladies were present to enjoy the program and listen to a talk by Rev. Tiffany, evangelist, following which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames E. F. Campbell, F. R. Brown and F. E. Parker.

In a card received the first of the week, Dr. Farrior informed that Mrs. Farrior is enjoying a visit at the present with her brothers residing at Fort Worth and Texas. Doc states that the novelty of being his own boss has about worn off, and he has a hankering for the return of the wife and boy.

H. B. Lantley, automobile salesman of Pendleton, was in Heppner Monday, a guest at Hotel Heppner.

INCOME TAXES MAY BE LESS NEXT YEAR

Material Reductions Looked For Thru Savings In Operation.

(National Press Service)

Washington, D. C., March 17.—It is more than likely that the income taxes paid by the people of the nation will be cut next year. This result can be accomplished if the suggestions of President Coolidge to Congress at the hearing on the different departments of the federal government are carried out to the fullest extent. It would mean that the income tax rates now in force would be cut at least 25 per cent for next year, by a bill which will be introduced at the early part of the next session of Congress.

President Coolidge has had several conferences with Representative Martin Madden, chairman of the appropriations committee in the House, in regard to the matter and Madden is confident that if Congress will back up the President the cut in income taxes for next year can be accomplished.

An interesting side-light into the matter of appropriations this year is that by heeding the President's directions, appropriations $8,000,000 below the budget estimates, were passed at the last session of the 68th Congress; but in plain language, this means that even with the figures of the budget taken as a basis, Congress at the direction of the president, has saved $8,000,000 more of the taxpayers' money than was hoped for at the beginning of the session.

It is of interest to note that during the past four years Congress has spent $250,000,000 less than was proposed. At the next session of Congress, Madden will call up his resolution which would result in making income taxes automatic. This plan would do away with continuous income tax legislation, although in an emergency Congress would have the power to repeal the act. The plan would mean that when the Treasury had a surplus of over $50,000,000 a proportionate automatic decrease would be made in everyone's income tax.

It is known here that President Coolidge has for some time been having an extensive survey of government financial conditions made, as he is determined not only to save the taxpayers' money but to cut off all needless expenditures; all of which means the carrying out of his promise to the people that whenever possible the federal taxes would be lowered.

The Action of the United States Senate by Decree of 64 to 11 in removing senators LaFollette, Brookhart, Ladd and Pradier from the Republican committee places must not be construed as a mere partisan demonstration, but deserves to be considered as a natural and logical step toward establishing responsibility in government and efficiency in administration.

It is not at all surprising to find that Walsh of Montana, Heflin of Alabama, and Ashurst of Arizona, voracious Democrats, made vehement protest against such a move because they appreciated that if the Republicans succeeded that it would make for a better service for all the people, and that the Republican party would be the gainer. This so-called "Insurgent Bloc" anti-Republican in thought, word and deed, yet occupying a position of importance by reason of the Republican affiliation which they bore but did not support, has been one of the most effective aids which the Democrats have found in continuing a state of confusion in congress. Their distress accordingly at the type of cure which the Republicans proposed is easy to understand. The people of the country as a whole are giving evidence of a very general understanding and approval of the Republican action.

The position taken by the republican senators was that the people of the country, having voted republican, had no right to have a move such as legislation enacted for them without their interference in committees by a group of men who were definitely repudiated at the polls in the election held in November, 1924. If the insurgents had been further crushed at the session of congress, the people of the country can have laws passed which will materially aid them. The Republicans in the senate are determined to stop the unwarranted interference of senators who, while elected as republicans, have on numerous and sundry occasions prevented the consideration of beneficial laws. President Coolidge, in his inaugural address, made it plain that he was not in favor of the move, and on one ticket joining with the opposition in preventing laws being passed that were promised by the party on whose ticket he ran. The President is determined to carry out the promises made to the people, and will use every effort to see that congress also carries out its part of these promises.

REBEKAHS HOLD MEETING HERE

County Convention Saturday Has Good Attendance; Program and Banquet Enjoyed.

The fourth annual Rebekah convention was held at the local I. O. O. F. hall on last Saturday afternoon and evening. The afternoon business session was opened by San Souci lodge of Heppner at 2:00 o'clock, after which the officers surrendered their chairs to the convention officers, with Mrs. Florence Hughes in the chair.

The regular business routine was carried out during which time past president, Mrs. Nettie Whetstone of Pendleton was introduced and welcomed. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Rosa Phelps. Mrs. Olive Frye gave a very instructive address on "Work of the Order."

Reports from the various lodges addressed a membership of 151 at 10:30 at Heppner. There was no report from Lexington.

It was decided that the convention should be held at Heppner next year with the following officers:

Oliver Frye, Heppner, support to chairman; Alice McDuffee, Heppner, marshal; Verda Ritchie, lone, conductor; Mrs. Witsel, Morgan, chaplain; Marie Carmichael, Lexington, inner guard; Opal Ayres, Hardman, outer guard; Mrs. McNabb, lone, r. s. v. chairman; Mrs. Palmer, Morgan, l. s. v. chairman.

A banquet was served by the members of San Souci at 5:30, after which the following program was given for the public:

Piano duo, Lucille McDuffee and Irene Lovgren.

Chorus—Members Hardman Lodge Whistling duet, Elizabeth Phelps and Mrs. Gene Ferguson.

Vocal solo—Mrs. Ray Taylor Reading—Lola Bengt Address of Fraternity, Rev. Head of lone.

Chorus—Members Hardman Lodge

Immediately after the program the public retired and the lone lodge put on the degree work in a very creditable manner. In fact lone Rebekahs do not have to take off their hats to any order when there is efficiency demonstrated.

Past President Nettie Whetstone gave the closing address and every-thing was over.

The next event to be given by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the county will be the celebration of the Odd Fellow anniversary on April 25th at Heppner, with a banquet lunch provided by the various lodges of the county.

COLE BURROUGHS, ALICE HAYLES, LILLIAN TURNER, Press Committee.

P.T. Association Holds Meeting and Election

The regular meeting of the Patron-temple association was held at the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 10th. The report was handed in just too late for last week's issue, because we were out a day early, but in justice to our reporter we give it this week.

The program consisted of a beautiful piano solo by Miss Denn and a pretty duet by Marjorie Clark and Edna Vaughn. Mrs. F. R. Brown delivered in a most pleasing manner an address on "Child Guidance." It is the desire of the officers to have many more parents enter into the discussion of these vital questions pertaining to the welfare of our boys and girls.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: L. A. Turner, president; Mrs. W. P. Mahoney, vice-president; Mrs. A. D. Murdoch, secretary, and Mrs. Jeff Beamer, treasurer. The association wishes to take this means of expressing a deep regret because of the departure of Mrs. C. L. Gillilan and Mrs. Harvie Young from our midst, who were both most efficient workers in the organization.

BABY BOY DIES SUDDENLY.

Lloyd Alonzo Leathers, Jr., the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Leathers, died suddenly at about 1:30 a. m., Wednesday morning at the home of his parents in this city. The little fellow had not been ill and when put to bed at night appeared in his usual good health. At about 1 o'clock, a mother was awakened by his talking and went to his side when he quieted down and she returned to bed. A few moments later she was aroused again by his talking and when she went to his side she found him dead. A doctor was called and found that the child had died of a heart attack. The funeral services will be held at the Christian church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Wallace Jones of Lexington officiating.

J. E. Calavan, who has charge of the boys' and girls' club work in the office of Supt. Churchill at Salem, has been spending the week in Morrow county, visiting the various schools with Mrs. Walker, county superintendent, and presenting the club work to the pupils.

J. W. Kellogg, expert piano tuning and repairing, Call Harwood's Jewelry Store this week.

CROQUET SEASON TO BE HERE SOON

Exact Date Not Set, But It Will Arrive Ere Long; Hot Times Are In Prospect.

Just when the open season for the croquet fans will arrive at Heppner has not yet been determined; but according to Thomas Jefferson Humphreys and William Oliver Dix and Edna Richard Hutton, if the mellow days of spring arrive on time, the auspicious occasion will not be long delayed. The fever is rising, and A. M. Phelps has enlarged his grounds and had them put in the very best shape in anticipation of some very exciting games. Hot times are in prospect.

The above gentlemen engaged in many battles last year, and there seems to be some dispute as to the champions, but it is evidently agreed that Tom was the leading light and in recognition of this fact he has been presented with a mallet and ball, the handwork of Bill and Ed. Phelps and Humphreys were pitted against Dix and Hutton in most of the matches, and the former claiming the championship last year have expected the latter to "come across" with a new croquet set. Humphreys picked this out (price $15)—the best in the book, but the defeated brothers have been short on finance and could not measure up to the requirements, so they presented the mallet and ball instead. These will be used by Tom in "doing them up" again this season. He thinks the gift is highly appreciated and has placed it in his best show window. Accompanying the gift was the following "pome" from the pen of Barnyard Ripling:

(This pome dedicated to the "would-be champions" by the champions.)

Well, there, Tom do you like this knocker? If you hit this ball it sure will drive her. As for the book, which we have handy it will surely prove to be a handy.

If you would win some games and shoot the curve, Practice, my friend Tom, and use your nerve.

And if you care what your lots be to, And if this mallet hold you come through the time, We like you, Tom, but this reminder: Your kids will hang before September On a tree that's known both far and wide As the tree on which we hung Tom's kids.

We have always been glad of the chance, my friend, To play with you at the long days end; And if this mallet hold you come through the time, Unless you stay behind that cherry tree.

We want it a pleasure and 'twill always be To keep you behind that cherry tree; We were reported, bringing the total to nineteen, A constitution was formally adopted after having lain on the table since the previous meeting.

A decision was reached to buy poppies made by ex-service men in hospital 77 at Portland for sale on Memorial Day. The proceeds from the sale of poppies are used entirely for relief work among needy ex-service men and women and their families.

One of the duties of the Auxiliary at a meeting place for the Auxiliary at a restaurant was assured and the proposition left for later decision.

The question of catering for the Legion banquet March 30 was discussed and left open, pending further developments.

It was unanimously decided to conclude future meetings with a social time, simple refreshments to be served, two ladies, selected alphabetically, to act as hostesses for each meeting. It was agreed that a silver offering each time would be both appropriate and acceptable, considering the small part of the membership fee retained by the local organization and the present impoverished condition of the treasury.

After the conclusion of business the meeting adjourned and refreshments, consisting of several varieties of sandwiches, pickles and coffee, were served for the officers and a real-estate chairman acting as hostesses. A very enjoyable social hour ensued in which all present felt that bonds of acquaintance had been greatly strengthened. A large attendance is hoped for at all future meetings, and any persons eligible are cordially invited to join. Mrs. J. D. and Mrs. H. O. Bauman will be social hostesses for the next meeting, April 6.

D. E. Gillman departed the first of the week for Salem, where he went to get some seed wheat applications put in shape to the "reapers" in the office of the secretary of state. Mr. Gillman has been a pretty busy man getting hold of seed wheat for tenants on the lands of the McElroy estate, and failure is not a word in his vocabulary when he starts after something.

FOR SALE—Good used Columbia phonograph; 50 used records, Harwood's Jewelry Store.

The Gillilans had been residents of Heppner for a period of some two years, and during their stay in the city had made many friends who regret their departure.

Jas. Simpson's Prediction. Man's Greatest War. Get Your Monoplane. The Queen Bobs Her Hair.

Manufacturers that produce, merchants that distribute and workers that depend for employment on generally prosperous conditions will be interested in one paragraph of a letter just received from Mr. James Simpson, president of Marshall Field & Company.

Mr. Simpson, whose business far exceeds one hundred millions a year, writes:

"Business for the year starts off well with an air of general feeling of confidence is developing with just enough conservatism to make me feel certain that we are entering upon a period of sound business development and activity."

Mr. Simpson's opinion does not merely reflect the enormous retail business done by Marshall Field & Company in Chicago.

The wholesale department of Marshall Field, biggest in the United States, reaches into every corner of the country, doing business with thousands of merchants.

There is no better test of national conditions than the story told on the books of that gigantic firm.

The duty of each citizen is to believe and say that prosperity is here, that it will remain and grow, and that this nation will realize to the full its extraordinary position and opportunities among the nations of the world.

We have everything that any nation could ask for. The only thing that could injure us is lack of confidence.

Secretary Weeks tells the Congressional committee that he holds no grudge against Brigadier-General Mitchell for telling the truth, and that he has no thought of disciplining General Mitchell. That is welcome. The people would like to think that the truth is not kept from them by official threats.

Science says the greatest battle of the human race is to be against insects and microscopic germs.

Those tiny enemies do infinitely more harm than ever was done by all the wild beasts and poisonous reptiles that men have gradually conquered. Insects and plant insects destroy billions every year in crops and forests. And germs destroy millions of lives.

Young men with courage and ambition TURN YOUR MINDS TOWARD FLYING. Ex-service men that flew in the war, cheer up.

Henry Ford and his son are building all-metal cars, small and big, with all-metal gas containers. That means opportunity.

Be among the first to get one of the monoplane that will fly 140 miles an hour and carry a useful load of 2000 pounds.

Such a machine, once he knows how to run it, should enable a young man of the right sort to earn $100 a day. And that sum, $100 a week, would be a "useful load" to carry home each Saturday.

For information write to Henry Ford, or better still, to Edsel Ford, Dearborn, Michigan.

Mark this note: Within 20 years a million Americans that now ride in automobiles, labeled "Ford," will fly in airplanes also labeled "Ford" and go 100 miles on a gallon of gasoline and no tire wear.

The Queen of Belgium bobbed her hair, and there is much excitement. Kings and Queens take up new ideas cautiously. The King of England still drives to the opening of Parliament in a glided coach drawn by eight cream-colored horses. And he wears a crown on State occasions, although everybody knows that the crown has long been the property of the House of Commons. If Carlyle, creator of "Kaiser Resarts," were here he would find deep meaning in the Queen's bobbed hair.

LECTURE WELL ATTENDED.

The illustrated lecture, "Breaking China's Wall," given by the Epworth League of the Methodist Community church was both interesting and instructive to the large number who heard it last Friday night. Entertaining as well, was the social following, when refreshments were served by dainty "Chiney" maidens who insisted upon their guests learning the intricate, and it would seem, difficult art of the chop-stick. Miss Carlton will lead the devotional meeting next Sunday night. The topic will be "Our Friends and Neighbors." All our young people are urged to attend the preaching services by Rev. J. A. Tiffany, and sing in the chorus led by Rev. Clark Smith.

SHOULD KEEP THE SKIN HEALTHY

Care of Skin Is Simple; Cleanliness Important; Irritations Should Be Avoided.

State Board of Health.

The care of the skin is simple if the facts are realized and attention is paid to cleanliness and general health. The general health rules are those of common sense. Avoid constipation through a proper diet. Beware of too much tea, coffee, alcohol, rich, fatty and sweet foods as they are bad for the complexion.

Pimples, known as acne, is a curable condition but the cure rests with skillful treatment and is rarely cured by patent
