MORROW COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER

A Forward Move.

AT PRESENT there is not much more to be said that han been stated in these columns regarding the proposed bond issue for the continuation of Morrow county's road program. At the meeting of the county court on Monday, when all members were present, the necessary preliminary steps were taken and a contract entered into with a bonding house of Portland to prepare the papers and other matters looking to the election, and contingent upon the proposal being adopted by the electorate. This will get the issue squarely before the people of the county for their decision.

As stated in last issue, we are ready to support this bond issue, as well as any other question of progress, and are glad to note that the court has taken this forward move.

It is not to be expected that the election will go over without some opposition, yet we are pretty well convinced at this time that the program as being outlined by the county court will be acceptable to the people and that the issue of bonds will be endorsed. Many questions concerning the matter will come up; it shall be our purpose to answer all these as fairly as possible, with whatever aid we are able to get from those who are better posted than ourselves. There shall be no attempt to get the support of any voter in the county for the bonding measure by any other than fair and wide open means. We take it that the great majority of our people will favor the road program and the bond issue if it is fairly presented, and so far as we are concerned, it will be so presented.

We are glad of the splendid spirit in which the matter is being received so far. The pushing on to completion just as fast as possible, the program of market roads for this county, is a great forward move, and should be so recognized by all. However, while it is understood that we shall support the bond issue to the fullest extent of our ability, the columns of this paper shall be open to all, and to that end we invite the free expression of those who may have reasons for not supporting the program. Give the public the benefit of your views in a concise manner and they shall have publicity through out columns.

What Dawes Opposes.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES, in his campaign against filibustering in the Senate, makes it clear that what he objects to is not legitimate debate, but interruption of the business of Congress by insignificant minorities, in palpably obstructive tactics.

The Senate has been from the beginning of the government a forum of debate in which great service to the American people has been performed by thorough discussion of great national issues and problems. With its smaller membership the Senate, rather than the House, is the body in which public questions are debated most exhaustively. When an important public question is at stake, it is essential that all the light possible should be thrown upon it. The service rendered to the nation by the senators who participated in the great Senate debate on the league of nations was historic.

There is no appreciable public sentiment in favor of curtailing legitimate debate in the Senate. The feeling against the harangues about nothing in particular is strong. The abuse, not the legitimate use, of the greater freedom of debate essential to an effective Senate, accounts for the demand that the one man or the five-man filibuster in matters of minor moment should cease. In calling attention to the abuses of the Senate rules Vice President Dawes is doing the nation a service. The most dangerous foes of legitimate debate in the Senate are the selfish demagogues who, from unworthy motives, pervert the Senate rules to purely obstructive uses.
