

Local Happenings

Miss L. Stanton of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland, was here on Friday to investigate the case of Calvin Hudson, a lad now making his home at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Art Parker. The lad is an orphan, 13 years of age and has had a pretty hard time of it, but after going over the matter with Judge Henge and Mr. and Mrs. Parker, it was decided to leave him at the Parker home for the summer season, at least, and it may be that the society will not have to take him in charge. While here Miss Stanton also investigated the case of Opal Englet, another orphan, making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton, and found the child to be in good hands.

A. J. Chaffee and wife returned the end of the week from a visit of a couple of weeks with relatives at Pomeroy and Pasco, Wash. Mr. Chaffee states that the Pomeroy country did not suffer from the winter killing of wheat, and the crops in that section are looking very fine, and there has been plenty of moisture. In all the towns he visited on the trip he found business very dull and could not say that in this respect other parts of the country were any better off than we are here. Mr. Chaffee has taken charge of the county machine sheds and the auto park in Heppner, having resigned his position with the Farmers Elevator Co.

The little adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McDavid of Juniper canyon, was brought to Heppner the first of the week suffering an attack of appendicitis. He was taken to Heppner Surgical hospital and operated on, and while for a day or so it was feared that he would not recover, he is now reported to be getting along fine. The boy is five years of age.

Grape fruit from Florida, potatoes and cabbage from Texas, beets and other fresh vegetables from California, and cucumbers from Washington are to be found in the grocery stores of Heppner. Some real good Oregon stuff, grown right here in Morrow county, would far excel the most of the imported vegetables, but is not on the market yet.

Johnny McDevitt and Bert Johnson were here on Saturday, attending to business matters. Their particular section of the county was overlooked by the showers of the past week, but they live in hopes that rain will reach them shortly. Grain is coming along well, just the same as growing conditions have been good.

Mrs. O. T. Ferguson and Mrs. Anna Williams came to the city Saturday from Sand Hollow. Mrs. Williams celebrated her birthday at the home of her son, Henry Crump, while in the city. Mrs. Ferguson furnishing the birthday cake.

A new Star sedan was disposed of the last of the week by Vaughn & Goodman of Heppner Garage, to Clyde Wright of Hardman. This little car seems to be making a hit with the folks hereabouts.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Parker and Miss Dona Barnett were Lexington people in the city for a short while on Tuesday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Lucas.

Walter LaDusire now drives a new Chrysler phaeton which he brought in from Pendleton during the week. He disposed of his other machine to Art Keene of Rhea creek.

Billy and Dave Hynd, Sand Hollow sheepmen, were visitors here on Tuesday from the Rose Lawn ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allstott of Rhea creek were visitors in the city on Tuesday.

SEALED BIDS WANTED.
Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Morrow County, Oregon, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of 75 or more cords of wood, delivered at the Court House in Heppner; any kind of wood in four-foot lengths. All bids to be in the hands of the Court by June 3, 1925. The court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

This Week's Cross Word Puzzle

By MARGARET HEYLMAN

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

The first letter of each word is indicated by a number placed in the blank white spaces, and by referring to the list of words given below, you will find the definition. For instance, number one horizontal gives the definition of a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space at the right. Number one vertical gives the definition for a word which will fill in all the white spaces to the first black space below. The black spaces indicate the end of a word, and no letter is placed in them. When completed, the puzzle must read both horizontally and vertically or across and down.

This cross-word puzzle contains, according to Margaret Heylman, only very simple words, used in ordinary everyday conversation. Miss Heylman ought to know, because she is the originator of this interesting device. But in fairness to you, we believe we ought to warn you before hand that it is not going to be as easy as you would expect from her statement. We are sure that after working this one, you will have added to your vocabulary several words formerly not included in your everyday conversation. We did, anyway.

Pauline Forbes is furious—and I certainly can't blame her
EVERYONE knows that it will take all the spare cash that Joe Forbes can scrape together to swing the deal for the big Hawkins farm. And then to have people talk about her extravagance and say that she made Joe buy her a new car, especially when he did the whole job himself. She says she thinks she'll put a can of Acme Quality Motor Car Finish on the radiator cap and a big sign above it, "Paint work by Joe Forbes."
