NO HOPE HELD FOR RECOVERY OF JUDGE PHELPS

Little, if any, hope is held out for the recovery of Gilbert W. Phelps circuit judge of this district, who on July 1 suffered a stroke of paralysis at Portland, where he and Mrs. Phelps are making their temporary home.

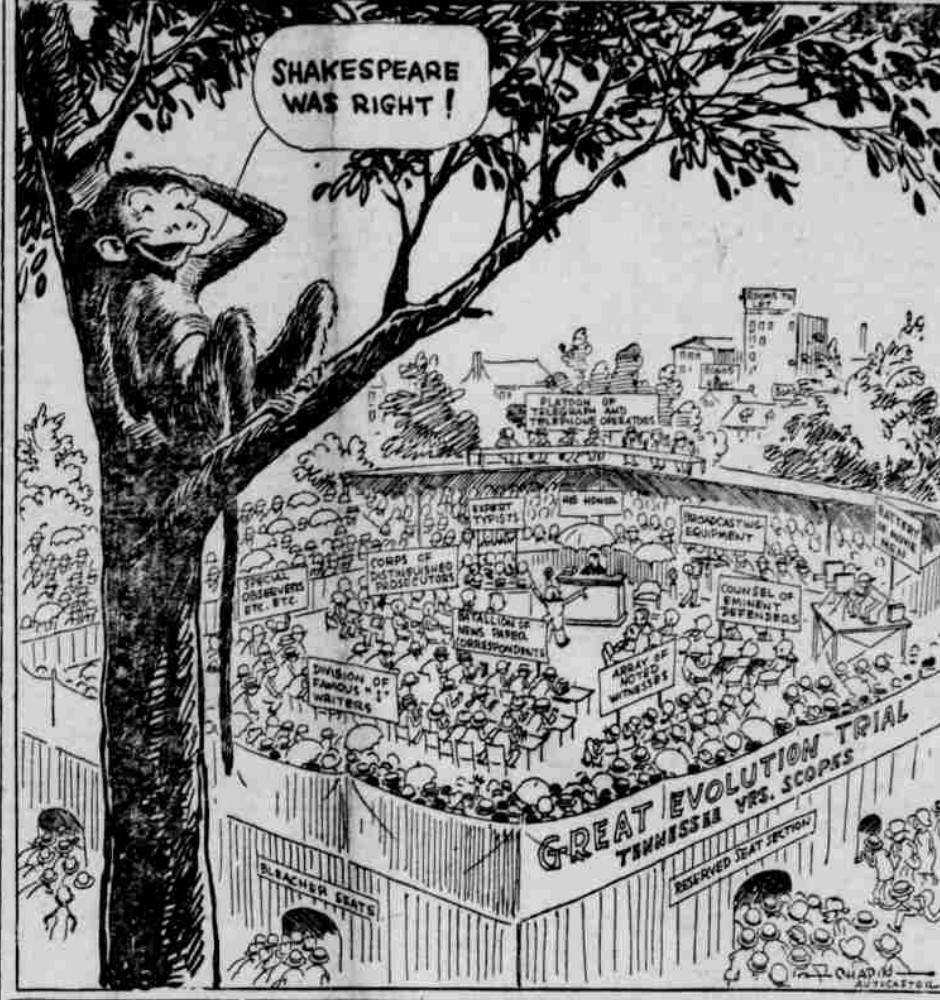

Four New Case Combines Taken to Fields

Four new case combines were taken out from the Peoples Hardware Co. this week, and Manager Van Marter informs this paper that a number more were spoken for, but his firm was unable to get the machines as the Case people have been sold out since the middle of May.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

W. B. Barratt and family have returned to the Barratt ranch here from their trip to the Palouse country, and will spend a few days at the old home before going on to Portland. Mr. Barratt states that the crops throughout the Palouse section are in very excellent condition right now and the promise is for a very abundant yield.

"WHAT FOOLS THESE MORTALS BE"

BOY IS THROWN FROM HORSE AND DIES AS RESULT

Charles Huston, in from Eight Mile today, states that he will be ready to start his harvest in about two weeks. While the hot weather did some damage out that way and cut the prospective yield short, there will be a good harvest and much wheat threshed.

Warning to the Public

In view of the recent exposure of "diploma mills" throughout the country, the State Board of Health and City Health Department take this opportunity to warn the public of the presence of certain persons designated as "doctors" in what they call giving treatments to their patients, which so-called "doctors" are not graduates of reputable colleges or medical schools.

LOCAL GIRL HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT SUNDAY MORNING

Ruth Furlong, student in Heppner high school the past winter, narrowly escaped death in an automobile accident that occurred about 6 o'clock on Sunday morning at John Day.

COUNTY AGENT LEADER WILL ATTEND PICNIC

As announced last week, a farmers' picnic will be held at the Wright Brothers' place at Rhea creek next Sunday, July 12. The date for this event was set before the hot winds hurried harvest and it was planned as a pre-harvest get-together for farmers of the county.

Former Heppner Man Drowned at Hermiston

A special dispatch to the East Oregonian from Hermiston under date of July 6, states: "The community picnic held at the Cold Springs reservoir on the day of the Fourth was marred by a tragic accident when Chauncey Woodward, 30 years old, met his death in the water of the reservoir by drowning.

This Week

Yes, We Are Very Rich. $5,000 For Guessing. Flying in the Arctic. One Lady Learns.

This is a frightfully rich nation. The countries of Europe owe us ten thousand millions and will pay us, including interest, THREE THOUSAND MILLIONS in the next 61 years.

Old Rome, with her consuls pouring in money and slaves from conquered territory, was not nearly as "well fixed" as Uncle Sam. No wonder some of our friends in Europe worry, and ask "Did we fight each other only to make Uncle Sam rich?"

Former Heppner Man Drowned at Hermiston

The American Society for the control of Cancer is cheerful. It reports excellent progress. Thousands of lives, now needlessly sacrificed, would be saved, if people were informed and would keep away from quacks. The society denies the statement recently made at a convention of doctors that "nobody really knows anything about cancer."

The Gorge and Mt. Hood Shown in Fine Booklet

The Union Pacific has just made another valuable contribution to the big library of Oregon literature by the publication of a folder on "The Columbia River Gorge and Mt. Hood." It is in effect a 32-page album of the most elaborate and striking pictorial exhibits of which the photographer's art is capable and carries just enough text to clothe comfortably the heroic and amazing panorama which unrolls itself to the admiring visitor.

Family Reunion Held By Lexington People

Combining a family reunion and fourth of July celebration, the home of Chase Gray at Lexington, the scene of a most enjoyable occasion on Saturday last, when it was arranged to gather together the members of the Gray family living in Oregon.

Farmers at Lexington Take Over Warehouse

A number of the farmers in the country tributary to Lexington have leased the Joseph Burgoyne warehouse and are completing arrangements to run the same during this season, so we have been reliably informed. The new arrangement guarantees that this warehouse will be in readiness to handle the grain of that section during the incoming harvest and take care of all warehouse business that may be offered.

Harvest Soon Under Way In This County

By the first of the coming week, harvest will be pretty generally under way in Morrow county. Some few machines have already started up and many other outfits are getting ready, and it will not be long until some idea can be formed as to how the yield will turn out.

Wool Prices Higher

Frank Clark, buyer for Hollowell, Jones & Donald of Boston, a big wool company, was in Pendleton last Friday, states the East Oregonian. He is understood to have made offers for several clips at a price of 38 cents but succeeded in making no purchases. The sentiment of owners of fine wool clips has strengthened materially during the past week or two with the result that growers have raised their valuations on their clips and are now demanding up to 45 cents for their wool.

Burglars Busy At Lone During the Past Week

According to Ione Independent, three burglaries were committed in that little city during the past week. Some heartless wretch entered Ione hotel and appropriated a quantity of linen and a few items of jewelry, including a watch and elk's tooth charm, and Sam Ganger estimates the loss at $120 or more. Another party evidently shooting had been about the premises at the time of the robbery. Then the store of Bert Mason was also entered and a couple of cases of lemons and some other things taken, in fact it is understood that Mr. Mason is still missing articles and the loss will run up into several hundreds of dollars, as a number of articles of wearing apparel are missing since the visit of the petty thief.

OLD TIMER CALLS AT HEPPNER

Charles Mallory, one of the old timers of Heppner, but who has lived away from the haunts of his youth for the past 28 years, was in the city over Tuesday night last, coming up from his home at Cascade Locks. This is the second time Charles has visited Heppner since leaving here and when he met those whom he had known in former years, he was kept guessing to place some of them, for time has wrought its changes. While not as young as he used to be, Mr. Mallory has held up well and is enjoying splendid health. For many years he has been following the railroad game, but is now on the retired list and taking life easy. He was on his way to Pendleton, Baker and points in Grant county for a little while with those of his acquaintances still residing at those places.

STAR THEATER, JULY 16 AND 17

(Thursday and Friday Next Week)

CHARLEY'S AUNT WITH SYD CHAPLIN

THE play made a millionaire of the author. The picture will make you richer by a thousand wholesome, hearty laughs. The screen has never before offered so full an evening of hilarious entertainment and care-free fun as Charley's Aunt brings to you.

SYNOPSIS

Charley and Jack were fiercely in love but they couldn't get the sweet young things alone long enough to propose. So when they learned that "Charley's Aunt from Brazil" where the nuts come from" was going to pay them a visit, they gave three rousing cheers and invited the girls to luncheon.

NEWSPAPER CRITICISMS

"The audience shook and shrieked with laughter. It is a splendid piece of work and the producers deserve great credit for having filmed this farce without the inclusion of a single coarse note. This film will make the whole country roar with laughter and renew the fame of the old farce. -New York Times.

HAS NOSE BROKEN

Walter Luckman of Leno is carrying his nose in a sling, as it were, the result of a runaway accident at his place on Tuesday evening. Driving a young team that became frightened during the past week, he was hanging on to them pretty successfully when the wagon tongue dropped down and struck the bank along the road, and he was pitched headlong for a distance of several feet, landing on his face with disastrous results to his nose. He came to town and had the member patched up and was able to return to his work at the ranch on Wednesday.

B. A. Amy, Holt Manufacturing Co. representative, is here this week from The Dalles, being interested in the starting up of a few combine harvesters about the county.
