

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HEREIM, Correspondent.

J. P. Hadley and wife of Boardman came last week and will remain there the winter with their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Macomber spent the week end with relatives in Boardman. They have a fine new Chevrolet touring car with a glassable top.

Mr. Fortier was a guest at the J. C. Ballenger home for a most delightful dinner on Thursday evening.

Jay Cox took one of the state highway trucks to Salem recently.

Mrs. H. H. Weston has taken over the milk route from W. A. Price. Mr. Price has delivered milk from his fine herd of Jerseys to the townpeople for the past year or so.

Jess Allen was taken quite ill last week with a severe attack of appendicitis. He was taken to The Dalles hospital but the doctor decided not to operate unless he had another attack.

R. S. Smith took Mr. and Mrs. Allen down in his car, Mrs. Allen returning the same day and Mr. Allen later. Friends are glad the attack was not more serious.

Leaven Cumins and Willard Ayres returned last week from the valley where they have been working.

C. H. Dillabaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dillabaugh and baby returned Monday evening from Salem where they visited relatives and attended the state fair. They also visited in Portland. Mr. Dillabaugh said that of all the vegetable exhibits he saw there none was better than the one we had at our North Morrow County fair.

Mr. Wm. Linsey and son Dan of Boise, Ida., stopped for a few days visit at the Dan Ransler home last week enroute to Glenwood, Wash. Mrs. Linsey is a sister of Mr. Ransler.

Boardman farmers are again being harassed by a band of wild horses, presumably from Willow creek. These horses are a source of annoyance each winter, breaking fences, tramping fields, and eating at the haystacks. If the owners do not want them they should kill them so they would not destroy property of others.

Mrs. Tate and the twins have returned from Condon where they have been most of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stoll and three girls of Pendleton were house guests at the Dan Ransler home last week. Mrs. Stoll and Mrs. Ransler are sisters.

Arthur Humphrey of Colfax, Wash., is a guest at the T. E. Broyles home, coming down on business.

Merle Mulkey and wife are moving into the Gibbons house back of the Boardman Trading company, in which the Warrens live. They have returned from Condon where they have been most of the summer.

Norma who are living in Portland this winter spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cramer. Donald Campbell and John Young of Portland were visitors at the Ballenger home the early part of the week. Grave Diggers, Ballets of Greece, Skipper's Home, Adam's Ale, Grandmother's Pride, Job's Tears were some of the things listed on the menu at the Bon Ton social Saturday evening, given by the Grandfield grange. They caused much amusement and curiosity. A splendid supper was served. Proceeding this an interesting program was given. After reading the editorial in last week's paper regarding the Roden, will say we acquiesce with the statements made. The statement about the clown was especially true and we didn't sit in the grandstand either, but the remarks made by him as he rode around the track were far from funny, were in fact disgusting. A very few attended the meeting at the school house Tuesday evening, but after discussing the question it was decided to go ahead and organize the P. T. A. in spite of the small attendance. Mr. Beardsley acted as temporary chairman and Mrs. Chas. Wicklander was elected president, Mrs. Leslie Packard vice-president, Mrs. Nate Macomber, treasurer, and Mrs. A. T. Hereim, secretary. All officers were elected unanimously. Mrs. Wicklander appointed Miss Malloy as chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Packard and Mr. Beardsley were the other members. It was voted to hold the meetings the first Tuesday of each month so all are asked to keep the date in mind and attend the meetings. It is an organization that can accomplish much good and patrons and teachers working together can have a better understanding of school problems.

Star Theater THURSDAY and FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8-9 JOHN GILBERT and GERTRUDE OLMSTEAD in "CAMEO KIRBY" From the stage success by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. The romance of Dixieland plantation life; the lure of River steamboat days, the race of the monarchs of the Mississippi and the thrills of the life of a Southern gentleman gambler are vividly portrayed in this story of the Southland of the past generation, by a cast of great actors. Its godd. Also "THE DIVING FOOL" Two reel comedy, depicting the adventures of a sleep-walking husband. And fourth episode of "WOLVES OF THE NORTH" SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10th: FRANK KEENAN and ANNA Q. NILSSON in "HEARTS AFLAME" from the novel Timber, by Harold Titus. A story of the timberlands. A vast forest fire, started by a mountain hermit (bribed by his heart's desire—a set of bicycle tires); nothing but blasting could dam the rush of flames. And the dynamite must be brought through it! Anna Q. Nilsson drove the locomotive through the burning forest, and there is much truth in the realism pictured, as she was badly burned. A real thriller. ALSO TWO REEL COMEDY, "WHAT AN EYE" SUNDAY AND MONDAY, OCT. 11 & 12: May McAvoy, Marie Prevost, Pauline Frederick and Lew Cody in "THREE WOMEN" Directed by Ernst Lubitsch, the wizard director of the screen. The story of a man involved in a love affair with three women—a triangle with an extra angle. A picture with a situation which for sheer drama, heart interest and thrills has never been equalled on stage or screen. One such as you have often wished for but seldom found. Also Comedy TUES. and WEDS., OCTOBER 13 and 14: IRENE RICH in "A LOST LADY" From the novel by Willa Cather. A story of a woman's futile fight against fate, with Matt Moore, June Marlowe, John Roche, George Fawcett and Victor Potel. A picture that attracted much attention during its first run all over the country. Also Reginald Denny in "THE LEATHER PUSHERS" NEXT WEEK: Dorothy Devore and Walter Heirs in Hold Your Breath Shirley Mason in THE ELEVENTH HOUR Richard Dix in TOO MANY KISSES Marion Davies in JANICE MEREDITH SHOW STARTS AT 7:30
