CHINA MEAT TAKES PLACE OF VENISON

MANY of Heppner's sportsmen having returned from the timber with their quota of deer meat, they are today dragging out their shotguns, rubbing off the summer coating of preservative grease and hitting for the sage brush and wheat and alfalfa fields. And after a year's depredations, running around scot free in hordes, Mr. Chinese Pheasant today started for cover.

Yes, the season opened today, and once again the battle between pointer and setter is on. Mayhap, the one which outdoes the other will be decided on the corner bench after the chase is over. Anyway, China meat will be the leader on the menu at many local tables for a week.

Van Marter's Chief has been showing signs of restlessness nigh unto a month, and no doubt his joy will be supreme on again being permitted to point 'em out.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Members of Ruth Chapter No. 32, O. E. S., to the number of 16 motored to Ione on Tuesday evening, where they were the guests of honor at a meeting of Locust chapter of that city. After the regular lodge meeting, refreshments and a general good social time were the order, the guests returning home feeling that they had been right royally entertained by their neighbors of Locust chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner have completed their new residence on the farm on Swaggart Buttes and now have a very modern home. They expect, however, to make their home in Heppner for the winter, and the farm will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smethurst who recently arrived from Astoria and are now caring for the Turner farm.

Mr. and Mrs. George Curran of Estacada are visiting at Heppner, being on their return home from a trip into Idaho, where they enjoyed visiting with relatives at various places. Their son Hugh Curran brought them over from Pilot Rock and they have been spending several days at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Prewitt Cox.

Miss Charlotte Brown, who has been spending a number of weeks in Heppner in the interests of the religious educational program of the Episcopal church, is in Pendleton this week. Miss Brown expects to return here and continue with the work she has undertaken.

Mrs. Hanson Hughes and Mrs. Florence Paul departed on Friday last for The Dalles. Mrs. Hughes is spending the week in The Dalles, visiting with friends and relatives, while Mrs. Paul went on to Portland. The ladies expect to return home Sunday.

Dr. M. A. Lench came in from the mountain camp last evening, where with several others he has been spending the past ten days deer hunting. He departed for his home at Pendleton this morning.

After a day or two of hunting in the mountains, Thomas Beymer of Hinton creek returned home the first of the week with a fine five point buck. Dressed, the deer weighed three hundred pounds.

County Commissioner Davidson was in the city Tuesday from his home at Ione. He was called here to look after a little business in county court pertaining to road matters.

COUNTY COURT HAS REGULAR MEETING

County Court met in regular session at the Court House in Heppner, Oregon, on Wednesday, Octoberg 7, 1925, with all officers present, when were had the following:

Court approved and ordered paid, continued or denied claims as presented to the Court as per notations on the face thereof.

Court made a resolution in regard to the Market Road over the Milton R. Morgan lands and the necessity for the road over the same.

The freshmen were victorious in the annual pennant scrap held on the school grounds last Friday, since they were in possession of the coveted piece of green curtain when the final whistle was blown.

The fight, which was carried on before and after school and during the noon hour, was governed by a code drawn up by the student council. Any contestant caught slugging or hitting was immediately taken out of the fight.

Girls of the domestic science class served sandwiches, chocolate and cookies to the freshman scrappers at noon, and in the evening the sophomore girls provided their warrior classmates with vast quantities of food, while the exciting events of the day were retold and scratches and bruises compared.

There will be a football game Saturday afternoon at 2:30 between Condon and Heppner on Gentry field, the lineup to be as follows:

E. Doherty, center; K. Merritt, left guard, H. Evans, left tackle, O. Parker, left end; J. Thompson, right guard; E. Merritt, right tackle; R. Tash, right end; C. Sprouls, quarter; L. Schwarz, left half; J. Stout, right half; P. Aiken, full.

E. Bucknum, a substitute, will play part of the game in R. Tash's place.

B. Bucknum, also a substitute, will play part of the game in E. Merritt's place.

Duck Lee has been appointed business manager of athletics for the year. He ordered about one hundred posters which are 14 by 22 inches. They have different pictures on 'hem of football men in action. Duck will post about 24 of these at different places in town before each game.

The freshman class of '29 will be initiated Saturday night. The initiation will begin in the basement of the high school at 7 o'clock.

The committees appointed by the sophomore class to take charge of the initiation are: girls, Mildred Green, chairman, Zaida Tash, Margaret Smith and Florence Bergstrom; boys, Gerald Slocum, chairman, John Farley and Bobby Turner. The juniors are the clean-ups and the seniors have charge of the entertainment and refreshments.

Last Thursday the biology class went on a field trip for the purpose of collecting insects for study in the laboratory. Some of the insects that were found were: bees, beetles, yellow bugs, lady bugs, june bugs, skippers, flies of all sorts, grass hoppers, ants, wasps, moths, butterflies, millers and various others. They were examined in the laboratory and reports made on each one.

Last Sunday Jim Thomson, Bob Tash, Clifford Driscoll and John Turner drove to Pendleton to see Jack Hynd, a former Heppner high student who is now attending Pendleton high school and playing football on the Pendleton first team.

The first official initiation of the Arion literary society occurred Friday afternoon in the high school assembly. The ten new members performed various antics upon the stage. Velma Fell gave an impersonation in which she acted the parts of villian, heroine and hero. Orrin Bisbee and Ruth Furlong rendered a farce, depicting the troubles of a henpecked husband. Letha Hiatt gave an oration upon "Why Negroes are Black." Bobby Turner serenaded a picture. Ellis Thomson, Patricia Mahoney and Paul Hisler were supposed to impersonate Uncle Walt, Aunty Blossom and Skeezix, but Paul got stage fright and withdrew. His place was taken by another initiate. Lucile McDuffee gave a recitation. The other part of this initiation will be carried out next Friday night, under the direction of Zaida Tash and Marjorie Clark.

The sophomores held a candy making party at the home of Margaret Smith last Monday. The girls had several plates of candy made but while everybody was leaving one of the upper classmen rushed in and made off with a large platter of divinity. Despite this fact the class had enough candy to sell.

Several hundred windshield stickers have been ordered by the high school for sale later on. They will be disposed of to students and townspeople at a dollar for fifty.

Tryouts for the cast of the senior play "Hold that Line, Jimmy," were held Monday night. The full cast has not been named as yet.

The members of the freshman English class are now starting to read their first classic. It is Scott's "Lady of the Lake."

Little Daughter Dies Following Operation

Following an operation for appendicitis at the Heppner Surgical hospital, Mollie Carrol, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Brown, residing some six miles west of Heppner, died on Saturday afternoon. The operation was on Friday and for a time considered very successful. A turn for the worst came suddenly on Saturday afternoon, however, and the little girl soon passed away.

Mollie was aged 7 years, 2 months and 25 days. She had been a sufferer for some time and was very ill when taken to the hospital. Funeral services were held on Monday morning at 9:30 at the Christian church, and were largely attended by sympathetic friends and neighbors. Albyn Esson, pastor, delivered a short address and the remains were tenderly laid away in the cemetery on the hill.

Little Mollie was greatly beloved by all who knew her and the parents are left heartbroken. In their great sorrow they have the tender sympathy of their friends in this community.

REBEKAHS WILL HAVE SOCIAL.

Following the regular lodge meeting at I. O. O. F. hall on tomorrow, Friday, evening, the Rebekahs will have a social session. A suitable program will be rendered, and following a general social hour refreshments will be served. There should be a large attendance of the membership.

Lost—Bunch of keys in blue leather case. Return to this office. Reward.

Jones and Buschke Sponsor Beef Shoot

A rifle target shoot will be held at the Jeff Jones farm on Rhea creek Thursday, Oct. 22, with cuts of fresh beef as prizes, according to announcement made this week by Bill Buschke, who with Mr. Jones is sponsoring the shoot. Mr. Buschke stated that the field is open for all makes and sizes of rifles, and he extended an urgent invitation to all Heppner nimrods to participate.

"This will be a dandy opportunity for many Heppner sports who came back from their deer hunts empty handed to get some good fresh meat," Bill declared. Five first prizes will be offered, consisting of four quarters of beef and the hide. Targets will be chosen by participants at the shoot. Mr. Buschke said an excellent range would be provided, and promised a royal time to all who attend. Shooting will start at 10:30 a. m.

REV. ESSON ANSWERS CALL.

Albyn Esson of Albany, a minister for long years in the Christian church has been secured as pastor of the church at Heppner, and began his work here last Sunday. The arrangements between Mr. Esson and the church here are somewhat temporary but he expects to fill the pulpit at this place until the first of the year, at any rate, at which time more permanent plans will be completed. Regular services will be held on Sunday as usual, with Mr. Esson in charge and preaching both morning and evening. Bible school at 9:45.

D. H. Grabill, pioneer resident of Ione, was transacting business in the city this morning. We acknowledge a pleasant visit with Mr. Grabill.

Nimrods Return Laden With Trophies of Hunt

Seven men, brave and true, left Heppner ten days ago for the tall timber, their destination being somewhere in the Blue mountains out beyond Ukiah. On Monday evening these seven men returned to Heppner with seven buck deer—one each—as trophies of the hunt.

The company consisted of Dave Wilson, Bub Clark, Laverne Van Marter, Bernie Gaunt, Martin Reid, Pete Shively and Jack Terry. The fastnesses of the mountains out about Desolation creek was where they pitched their tents, and then the quest for the game began, with success crowning their efforts. The hunting was good, though it rained some, and Van Marter states that he was laid up in bed for two or three days, sick, and could not get into action as promptly as the others. Notwithstanding this handicap, he gathered in his quota and has two deer heads to his credit.

ROAD GROUP WILL MEET AT PINE CITY NEXT SUNDAY P. M.

Closing of Gaps in Butter Creek District Is Topic; Many Will Attend.

A meeting of the Butter Creek Highway association will be called promptly at 3 p. m. Sunday, October 18, at Pine City, according to a bulletin issued this week by J. Perry Conder, president. The object of the meeting will be a discussion of local road problems, with the immediate view of finishing the macadam from Pine City to Lena, and a discussion of good roads in general, says Mr. Conder, who states also that this meeting has the good will of the county courts of Morrow and Umatilla counties.

Following is the program to be carried out as nearly as possible. At the last meeting of the association nearly all of these organizations had delegations present and speakers represented each community.

Objects of the meeting, stated by the President.

"First Things First," Echo Commercial Club.
"Neighbors Together," Stanfield Commercial Club.
"In the Midst of Things," Hermiston Commercial Club.
"Where Land and Water Meet," Umatilla Commercial Club.
"Our Need, Your Opportunity," Irrigon.
"The Little Butter Creek End of the Road," Lena.
"The Big Butter Creek End of the Road," Vinson and Gurdane.
"Our Contribution," Alpine.
"The Lexington-Jarmon Road," Lexington.
"Closing of the Gaps," Heppner Commercial Club.
"Last But Not Least," Pendleton Commercial Association.

The county courts, forestry men, the state market road department, have all been invited to have representatives present and speak. The county roadmaster of Morrow county, W. L. McCaleb, has consented to lead this discussion. Perhaps no one knows more of the road situation than the fellow who tramps over the road and surrounding country with a surveying crew and outfit and then has the responsibility of directing the construction of these mountain trails and roads, says Mr. Conder.

If the time allows after these discussions, there will be a set of lantern slides and pictures showing by way of contrast, a few bad roads, but dealing mostly with good roads, their blessings to society and how to make them. The lantern slides are furnished by the extension division of the University of Oregon.

The reports of committees, resolutions and business session will be very short. These meetings, from the very first, have been educational and inspirational and this one should be no exception, Mr. Conder states.

F. M. Broady, formerly residing near Morgan in this county, is here this week from his home at Wallowa, Oregon, looking after business interests. Mr. Broady is still the owner of the farm on lower Willow creek where he lived many years before going to Wallowa county.

Joseph Eskelson is in town today. He has been spending some time at Lexington looking after his business affairs. Mr. Eskelson makes his home at Salem but is always glad to get back to Morrow county and visit the old-timers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helms of Echo were visitors in this city on Wednesday.

Dr. Haylor, Eye Specialist of Portland, in Heppner October 23 and 24.

WHAT IS A DANGEROUS COMMUNICABLE DISEASE? HEALTH BOARD GIVES FACTS

This is the accepted name of a contagious disease and is one that can be communicated by one person to another either by contact with diseased persons or through water, milk, air, clothes or any other intermediary agent whatsoever, and that may be the cause of death.

Should every citizen be able to recognize diseases?

Only in a general way. He should know the common signs, but he should never attempt to diagnose or treat. Diagnosis and treatment require expert knowledge.

What should one do when suspicious symptoms appear?

Call in an expert on diseases. Prompt treatment may prevent a long illness.

What are the main dangerous communicable diseases in the State of Oregon?

Diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever, smallpox, typhoid fever, tuberculosis and whooping cough.

Which of these diseases are entirely preventable?

Smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever. Smallpox can be prevented by vaccination repeated every 5 to 7 years. Diphtheria can be prevented by immunization with toxin-antitoxin. Typhoid fever can be prevented by sanitation and inoculation with anti-typhoid vaccine repeated every three years.

How can we attempt to prevent the others?

By prompt isolation of the individual showing suspicious symptoms and by taking every precaution against exposure.

What should a physician or householder do when a case of dangerous communicable disease occurs under his charge?

Report it to the health officer immediately.

What is the duty of the health officer?

Investigate the case if necessary, placard the premises, enforce quarantine and report to the Oregon State Board of Health.

What is the function of the Oregon State Board of Health in the control of dangerous communicable diseases?

The State Board of Health receives and records all disease reports sent by health officers throughout the state in such a way that there is immediately available an accurate rating of conditions in the state. All epidemics are investigated and local authorities are assisted and advised in regard to control measures.

What is quarantine?

By quarantine is meant the absolute closing of the house and not permitting anyone to enter or leave it except medical attendants.

What is isolation?

By isolation it is meant that the patient and attendants shall be isolated in a part of house away from other members of the family. No one except attendants shall be permitted to enter or leave this part of the house. Other members of the household shall be permitted to go about their regular business.

What should teachers do when pupils show symptoms of dangerous communicable disease?

Send them home at once and promptly notify the health officer. All exposed children should continue school unless otherwise ordered by the health officer. All chidren should be carefully watched by the teacher or nurse for symptoms.

Who issues the cretificate of health allowing children to return to school after a dangerous communicable disease?

The health officer.

What is a disease carrier?

A well person who harbors in his body and gives off the virulent organism of disease, thereby acting as a carrier of infection. He may or may not have had the disease.

What is the value of the Oregon State Board of Health in regard to carriers?

The rules and regulations provide for their quarantine or isolation. A carrier should be treated until he is non-infectious.

$2,000,000 For Fish. Wool For Silk. The Dog Believes. Discouraging Pilots.

In Chicago, where this is written, John G. Shedd yesterday signed his name to an agreement under which he will supply $2,000,000 to build the world's largest aquarium, in Grant Park.

Thus, all over the United States, men that have worked hard all their lives, and built up fortunes with the help of the people, give back the money to the people among whom they earned it.

Mr. Shedd's gift of a great aquarium is money well spent. It will increase the supply of public information.

If to the exhibition of strange creatures of the oceans and lakes the John G. Shedd gift could include some plan for economical distribution among the people of the food that comes from the ocean, that would add to the value of the gift.

A plan to get rid of sharks that destroy billions of valuable fish every year, and the small, savage whales that prey upon the great schools of salmon in the Northwest would be werth millions in increased food value.

Farmers are encouraged by news that makers of artificial silk will require great quantities of medium grade wool, to mix with wool fibre.

The trade in artificial silk is destined to be enormous. If the farmer raising and shearing sheep can compete with Asiatics, raising silk worms, he may enjoy a new kind of prosperity.

This nation needs an air force controlled by men that understand flying, men that are interested in the difference between an all metal monoplane and a weak cloth made biplane, more than in neat uniforms, or servile saluting.

Providence taking care of the birds, put in charge of them the brains of birds, not the brains of rabbits or turtles.

Why should this nation, depending for its safety in war, upon flying machines and flying men, put the nation's flying department under the control of human rabbits from the navy or turtles from the army?

Not far from the train on which this is written is Arkansas City, Kan., there lives a dog, name unknown, and all the rest of his life that dog will believe in miracles.

His owner, probably dead by this time, was Warren Hardy, man of quick temper. Seizing his shotgun by the end of the barrel, Hardy hit the dog with the butt. Neither he nor the dog knew the gun was loaded. Hardy is in the hospital, and probably won't recover.

All in one second the dog felt the blow, heard the explosion, saw his cruel master stretched on the ground. Knowing nothing about gunpowder, that dog will always believe in miracles, and also in a special providence that avenges dogs, when they are hit with the butt end of a gun.

It is foolish, however, to say the less you understand the more readily you believe in miracles.

The radio is a genuine miracle of science, and it takes intelligence to understand it. A savage wouldn't understand it or believe in it. He would simply say "witchcraft" and go his way.

In old days, when the City of Paris, compared to modern Paris, was a small town, theusands died of smallpox in a year.

In the year just passed, there was no death from smallpox, and only three very mild cases.

Paris enforces vaccination most strictly. Children in the primary schools, infants, 50,000 hospital patients, are some of those vaccinated.

And in Paris smallpox doesn't exist. To what do gentlemen that oppose vaccination attribute that fact? Is it just accident?

Archdeacon Creasey to Locate at Pendleton

Archdeacon Sidney W. Creasey, of the Eastern Oregon diocese of the Episcopal church, has arrived in Pendleton from La Grande to take up his residence, states the East Oregonian. He will act as assistant to Bishop W. P. Remington, who is head of this diocese. The appointment of Archdeacon Creasey was made to fill a vacancy left when Archdeacon McLean Goldie went to Seattle to be rector of a parish there.

Mrs. Creasey, who is now at the general convention of the church in New Orleans, will join her husband in December or January. Archdeacon Creasey was at Heppner over Sunday and held services in the Episcopal church here. This field will come under his regular work.

Percy Garrigues drove up from Portland on Tuesday and is spending a few days in the old home town. This morning, in company with Orve Rasmus, he went out to have a shoot among the Chinese pheasants on Butter creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson are Heppner visitors today from their Eight Mile home.

Antone Cunha of Lena was doing business in Heppner on Tuesday.
