Just two things have made it possible for us to give you this 20% reduction on Tuxedo:

1. A reduction in the cost of Kentucky Burley tobacco and in package materials, as well.
2. The consolidation of three of our big plants into one. (Mr. Ford may not be in the tobacco business but he is right about consolidation.)

You know that it is the desire and policy of The American Tobacco Co. to extend to its customers the maximum of service.

Reducing the price of a great favorite like Tuxedo is our idea of delivering this service.

Tuxedo is always FRESH. Every package is—

In bidding for the Klan vote in his candidacy for U. S. senator, K. K. Kubli was present at the Lexington meeting Monday night mixing with the Wethers. He failed of endorsement at the state Klan meeting two weeks ago.

The three kidnapers of Frank Smith of Condon last summer will have to stand trial at Condon Feb. 11, as Judge Parker has overruled a demurrer to their indictment. Defendants want a change of place of trial, but the state will oppose same.

Governor Pierce Seeking Alibis

Perish the thought, but can it be that Governor Pierce is now crawling and engaged in an earnest search for alibis? It seems only a few weeks ago that his silver tongue was singing the siren song of how voting for the income tax would shift the burden from the downtrodden poor to the broad shoulders of the rich, and now after a scant majority of the voters gave him what he asked he tells the convention of county judges and commissioners that reform in taxation can only come when millage levies are modified. It's funny, but that is precisely what benighted heathen like the editor of the Independent have been insisting on right along, for with a singular denseness it appeared to us that the only way to reduce taxes was to reduce them. We admit it was an admission of boneheadedness, but we couldn't see how juggling taxes around and taking out of one pocket what was left in another would be a "saving." And now the governor himself joins the crowd. We welcome him, but admit regret that he did not join a year ago.—Hillsboro Independent.

Mrs. Shurte, county superintendent, was here Thursday.

Farmers Favor Amendment

The economists of the farm organization cannot be deceived by arguments in favor of tax-free bonds. They know who pays the taxes and who pays the extra freight on charges caused by tax-free bonds. The International Farm Congress, the National Farm Grange and the American Farm Bureau Federation at their annual national sessions within the last few weeks, emphatically declared in favor of the constitutional amendment and against tax-free bonds, without any qualifications.—The Manufacturer.

Morgan Life

Franklin Ely came home from Portland last Thursday morning to be with his father.
Hal Ely is still quite ill at his home.
Fred Ely of Hermiston, was here to see his brother Hal last Monday, and will remain for several days to care for him.
Ben Morgan is building a new chicken house. Hurrah!
Mrs. Harbison, Martin and Este Bauernfiend, called on Mrs. Ely Tuesday morning.
Very glad to learn that H. O. Ely is a little better at this writing and hope to see him about soon.
Mr. and Mrs. N. Pettyjohn was at Ione Saturday night.
Jim Warfield is working for Ben Morgan. Oh, joy!
Tibie Miles was calling on his sister, Mrs. Warfield, Tuesday.
Bob Harbison went with some of the Ione boys to Moro and Wasco last Friday and helped them win a basketball game.
Mes James John Gray and Jim Warfield called on Mrs. Hardesty Tuesday.
Bob Balcomb returned from Portland Monday night.
Mr. Harbison butchered a hog Monday.
Jim Hardesty and Mr. Medlock sowed rye last Thursday.
Willow Creek Poultry Farm are now starting their incubators to work.
Harry Huley of Heppner and Miss Emma Bergstrom of Eight-mile, were married in Portland last week.
J. C. Devin of Mt. Hood, was here this week.

Cecil News Items

Elmer Tyler of Rhea siding, was here visiting Noel Streeter last Saturday. No need to say that these boys had a good old time unearthing all the hidden treasures within 20 miles of Cecil.
L. L. Funk, wife and daughter, left Tuesday for Wasco.
John Gray of Shady Dell ranch, near Cecil, was calling on J. W. Osborn Monday.
Several pairs of lambs arrived at The Last Camp, on Tuesday, and sheep men are preparing for a busy time.
Mrs. Hazel Logan of Fourmile, spent the week end visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Buchanan, at Ione.
Jack Hynd and wife of Butterby Flats, attended the wool growers meeting held at Pendleton last week.
Fred Buchanan and Laxton McMurray, of Ione, visited here Monday.
Otto Lindstrom and sons from their ranch near Ione, were here on business Tuesday.
Mac Smith, Cecil's weather man, took a trip to the county seat to investigate matters there. Finding all well, he returned with his fine weather wand to Cecil where the sun still shines.
We notice that these fine days bring out the bench-warmers and whittlers.
We acknowledge with thanks, a supply of fine candy from the Ione Campfire Girls.
Mr. Amy, the Holt Mfg. Co., representative, has been here this week transacting business.
Alex Wilson of Boardman, has bought a Ford car of E. R. Lundell. Orders for three more have been placed.
Mr. Swanson is placing in new flooring and shelves in his chop mill, making his place more tidy and convenient.
Ed Holmquist probably has an attraction at The Dalles as he left Ione Tuesday for a return visit to that city.
The people of Eight Mile are now holding their annual winter debates, the first of which was "Resolved, that leap year is a blessing to all bachelors." The negative side won; probably the committee knew from experience that the so-called blessing was all bunk.

Notice For Publication

Department of the Interior, U. S. Land Office at The Dalles, Oregon, January 11, 1924.
Notice is hereby given that Otto E. S. G. LININGER,
Biddle garage, Ione.
As a certain visitor is coming to Ione soon for a lengthy stay, Perry Hopkins will not have to visit another community.
The Ione American Legion are to hold another one of their social dances here on Saturday night, February 9th. Arrange to go.

Becoming tired of Ione, Floyd Graybill and Edwin Bonner, two young school boys, left home on Tuesday. Probably they are still hiking.

An uncle of Mrs. Carl Bergstrom was killed in Portland Thursday. She and her husband left at once for that city. The uncle, Gust Ekstrom, age 48, was crushed between two cars he was repairing for the Portland Ry. Co. A wife and four children survive.

Notice To Show Goers

A picture show to run must have a certain amount of support to pay expenses and we are now falling short of that. If the people of this community want a show its up to them to help swell the receipts, and if the attendance is no better next Saturday night, we will be obliged to close indefinitely. All should boost and keep it going. —American Legion.
The elementary and secondary schools of Oregon cost $17,000,000 last year. Ten years ago the cost was $6,500,000.
