Lynx Killed at Wurtzboro.
 Bloomingburg, N. Y.—Hanging in a garage at Wurtzboro is the body of a 20-pound bay lynx, one of the last of the many that formerly prowled along the Shawangunk mountain range, making excursions into valley farms to get chickens and other poultry. The lynx was shot by a posse which hunted for several days for the strange animal that had been seen roaming at night near Wurtzboro and High View. The animal was killed in a cave on the Captain Krume property.

The harbor, which incloses 610 acres of water, housed the feet of destroyers and cruisers which convoyed troops and munitions across to France between 1914 and 1918.

Dog Had Rheumatism.
 Fined for keeping a dog shut up in one room for seven years without exercise, a London woman pleaded that she could not take it out because of its rheumatism.

The dirt floor in laying house is a carrier of disease, unless five or six inches of the soil are removed and replaced each year. Board floors are all right, but expensive. Concrete floors are the most economical in the end.

Enough roosts should be provided in a poultry house to allow eight inches per bird. The roosts should be nine inches from the front of the dropping boards and nine inches from the back and they should be fourteen inches apart.

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

By E. R. PEYSER

Has a man like this proposed to you?
 Symptoms: Short, trig, full of pep, good dresser. Sensitive, charming, never wants to sit home, always wants to "go somewhere" else. Leaves a play if he doesn't like first act, leaves a restaurant if he doesn't like his waiter, raises a row anywhere—always has some fuss wherever he goes. You sit in fear and trembling lest the steak is too rare or the egg is too soft.

IN FACT
 He, being short, has a horror of being thought soft.
 Prescription for the bride-to-be:
 Wear low heels—low hats.

Mother's Cook Book

Books! 'Tis a dull and endless strife; Come, hear the woodland linnet, How sweet his music! on my life, There's more of wisdom in it.
 And hark! How blithe the throats sing! He, too, is no mean preacher, Come forth into the light of things, Let nature be your teacher.
 One impulse from a vernal wood May teach you more of man, Of moral evil and of good, Than all the sages can."
 —Wordsworth.

HERE ARE SOME SOUPS

CUT up six white onions and fry in a tablespoonful of butter until light brown. Add a quart of water and a pint of milk, season with one teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper, a teaspoonful of sugar and a pinch of mace. Cook slowly for an hour and strain; beat four eggs until light, add a cupful of cream and a tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed with a little cold water; cook until the starch is well done before adding the eggs and cream. Just beat but do not boil or the eggs will be curdled.

Quick Soup.
 Take a can of pea soup and a can of condensed milk—that which is less sweet is more desirable. Mix well, heat hot and serve with crackers.

Curried Chicken.
 Take two cupfuls of cold cooked chicken cut into small pieces, one cupful of chicken gravy, one cupful of milk or cream, one-half of a small onion minced fine, one teaspoonful of curry powder, one tablespoonful of butter and salt to taste. Cook the onion in the butter, stir in the gravy and curry powder, then add the chicken and simmer ten minutes. Ice cold bananas with rice make a nice accompaniment to curry of any kind.

Cream of Barley Soup.
 Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, and cook three minutes, stirring steadily. Then add one cupful of pearl barley and cook two minutes. Add slowly one pint of boiling water and one of milk, stirring until well-blended and simmer gently for one hour. Rub through a sieve, return to the heat and add three pints of chicken stock, one tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed with a little cold water. Boil until the starch is well cooked and serve hot. Condensed milk added to a canned pea soup, heated hot and served with fingers of toast makes fine cup of soup for a chilly night.
 A cupful of mashed potatoes blended well with a little cream, added to a quart of hot milk, seasoned with butter, pepper and salt is another quick, nourishing and tasty soup to serve as a supper dish.

Salem.—Modification of the quarantine against California products probably will be modified in a proclamation to be issued here. This was announced by Governor Pierce Saturday following a conference with Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian and secretary of the state livestock sanitary board.

Pendleton.—The sale of wool at Pilot Rock, originally set for Saturday, May 31, has been postponed until Tuesday, June 3, according to a statement by Mac Hoke, secretary of the Oregon Wool Growers' association. Approximately 400,000 pounds of wool will be offered at auction at the sale.

This was set out in a letter prepared by C. E. Spence, state market agent, which was received at the executive department here recently.

Cottage Grove.—Mrs. George Kappau claims the honor for the first garden peas for the season. She served them upon the family table upon May 21, which is somewhat early even in this favored portion of the famous fertile, fruitful Willamette. Peas are going to be a good crop this year. So far weather conditions have been ideal and there have been no aphids to bother them.

Salem.—Dairymen of Marion county at a meeting held here Saturday night went on record opposed to the referendum of the so-called oleomargarine law enacted at the last session of the legislature. The law prohibits the sale of oleomargarine in the state and is being attacked by the associated industries of Oregon, with headquarters in Portland. Enactment of the oleomargarine law was one of the outstanding features of the 1923 legislature, and was preceded by numerous debates and public hearings.

Weak Women Can Find The Help They Need

Portland, Ore.—"In my early married life, after motherhood, I suffered a relapse and blood poisoning set in, which left me a nervous wreck. I was thin and weak and my nerves were in such a bad state that I could not sleep. I went down in weight from 140 to 90 pounds. I doctored and took medicine and had begun to think there was no help for me, when I learned of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. By using this medicine according to directions I was completely relieved of all my nervousness and restored to perfect health and since then whenever I have felt badly or in the need of a tonic, I take the "Favorite Prescription" and it builds me right up. I found it especially good during the critical time of life, it kept me in good health. I would advise all women who are weak and ailing to take the Prescription so they may enjoy good health."
