STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Salem.—There were two fatalities due to industrial accidents in Oregon during the week ending August 25, according to a report prepared here by the state industrial accident commission.

Salem.—Jefferson Myers, state treasurer, has forwarded $104,000 to New York city to redeem state highway bonds in the amount of $100,000 and to cover interest due on the securities.

Salem.—O. H. Edwards, driver of a Pickwick stage, was fined $10 here for failure to obtain a license from the public service commission. The stage was held in Salem until the required permit was procured.

Klamath Falls.—The Sprague River White Pine sawmill, located in the Sprague River valley, north terminus of the Strahorn railroad, was sold Friday to J. M. Edgerton of Grants Pass for approximately $40,000.

Salem.—The Twin Oaks Lumber company, with headquarters at Eugene and capital stock of $10,000, has been incorporated by T. J. Seufert, Mary A. Seufert and W. C. Anderson.

Hood River.—Mark Weygandt, veteran Mount Hood guide here, says that more than 1700 climbers had registered at the top of the snow peak for the season up to the latter part of last week. Mr. Weygandt said that all but 300 had climbed from the south side.

Salem.—Reports received here last week indicated that the proposed new political party in Oregon, if organized, will drop the designation "independent" from its title and will be launched under the name of the progressive instead of the independent-progressive party.

Cottage Grove.—The Mountain States Power company is planning to start at once the work of rebuilding its distribution system through the main section of the city. Its wires will be removed from Main street and the alleys north and south of Main street used instead.

Roseburg.—Watermelon thieves apprehended in the county will receive jail sentences, it is announced by Justice of the Peace Jones, when he ordered Walter Paulson, Edgar Emery and Arthur McAdams, three Coquille high school boys, to be confined in the county jail for 30 days.

Salem.—The Hayesville school building, five miles north of Salem, burned late Friday night with a loss estimated at more than $4000. The fire was discovered by T. A. Raffety, state traffic officer, and Sam A. Kozor, secretary of state, who were returning from Portland.

Salem.—It became known here Friday that Governor Pierce intends to introduce at the next session of the legislature a measure providing for a luxury tax. A Portland attorney has been engaged to draft the bill, which will include the important features of luxury tax laws in other states.

Salem.—Establishment of a number of new granges and building up the membership of other granges which have not functioned in a manner satisfactory to the officers, was the chief topic of discussion at a meeting of the executive committee of the Oregon State Grange here recently.

La Grande.—The city recorder will call for bids September 10 on the re-dressing of West Adams street, the west entrance to La Grande on the Old Oregon Trail, as the result of affirmative action by the city commissioners. Work is already beginning on paving the east entrance.

Hood River.—The cost of the harvest of the mid-Columbia apple crop will be materially reduced this season. The Apple Growers' association Friday announced a scale of four cents per box for picking and packing, as against 5 cents last year. On a crop of 2,300,000 boxes this will mean a saving of $46,000.

Salem.—Letters received by Governor Pierce from practically every section of the state indicate that Oregon mayors are behind the defense test programme September 12. So far, only one mayor in the state has voiced any objection to a patriotic celebration on the anniversary of St. Mihiel, and he furnished a committee list.

Klamath Falls.—T. H. Ward, 30, an employe of the Pelican Bay Lumber company, was found dead in his room at a local lodging house Saturday, and according to the Klamath county coroner his death resulted from acute alcoholism. Nothing was learned of Ward's family, although he was said formerly to have lived near Chicago.

Feeding Rye to Pigs

The evil effects which some people have experienced from feeding rye to pigs is not due to the grain itself, but to a parasitic fungus known as ergot, which is commonly found growing in the heads of rye. Rye that is badly infested with this poisonous product would be dangerous to feed in large quantities, otherwise rye is an excellent food for hogs. It will give best results, however, if mixed with other grains, such as corn, barley or oats, and ground fine.

Use of "X" as Signature

The use of the X as signature of persons unable to write began when kings and nobles used it, whether able to write or not, as a symbol that they pledged themselves by the Christian faith to the truth of the matter to which they affixed it.

Although Bustles and Boot Jacks Are No Longer in Vogue, SICKNESS IS Still as Frequent and Unpopular a Visitor to Us as Ever

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

OUR UNWORTHY SELVES

TO BE constantly discussing the deficiencies of others without considering our own, is a common human failing.

It requires no special perception to see the faults in those around us, but to discern our own, is quite a different matter.

Indeed it is not strange that we talk at the effort. It is a job that we do not like to contemplate, even when we are in a good humor.

But if we would achieve, attain and be highly respected, the obvious thing to do is to stand up and face the music, though the notes be disquieting.

Whoever is not doing his utmost to overcome his own defects, is cheating himself.

The first sane step we take toward self-improvement is the one taken arm-in-arm with self-disatisfaction.

We tread then on ground in a new world, where we discover to our amazement sins within us equal in every respect to those we so loudly condemn in others.

Humans who are living in one sphere cannot understand those in another position. They have been trained in a different camp.

Yet each person has his or her own problem to solve, its correct solution being dependent upon individual discernment and ability.

If by being considerate of others we should pull the weeds from our own gardens and patch up the open fences, we might become more charitable.

We would be so busy overcoming our own imperfections, so pleasantly and profitably occupied, there would be no time at our disposal to search for flaws in our neighbors.

The whole world would be brighter. The brotherhood of man would be knit closer together.

Men and women everywhere would be better, more hopeful and happy. There would be less heartaches and fewer tears.

Let us pack our hearts full of love and sympathy. Let us look first for defects in ourselves. Let us not be satisfied until we have found them and stung them away.

Then we shall know how to live—how to bring heaven's sunshine into the lives of our kin.

COOLING DISHES

THIS is the season of the year when aspic and gelatin dishes appeal to the taste as they supply food easy of digestion.

Aspic jelly is made from clarified meat broth solidified with gelatin. One two-ounce package of gelatin softened in one cupful of water is used for each five cupfuls of broth. Meat broths are flavored with vegetables freed from fat and clarified with crushed egg shells and white of egg. Aspic made of chicken or veal is a very delicate color. Consomme gives a darker color as it is prepared from beef, veal and fowl with spices and herbs. Beef broth is darkest of all.

The amount of gelatin used is sufficient to hold slices of tongue, or similar solid substances as well as whole eggs in an upright position after molding. It is also firm enough for croutons, but a jelly that will not hold its shape, as far as taste is concerned, is much more desirable. As flavors are lessened by chilling, all broths used for aspic should be strongly flavored with the particular vegetable or herb that is desired in the particular dish.

The qualities of a good aspic are strength of flavor, transparency and delicacy of texture, that is, as soft as possible, though able to stand up.

Aspic Jelly From Consomme.
Take five cupfuls of cleared consomme, one to two ounces of gelatin, one-half to one cupful of cold water. The quantity of gelatin depends upon the solidity desired. Let the gelatin stand in the cold water until completely absorbed, then pour over the consomme heated to the boiling point.

Delicate Aspic Jelly.
Clean a chicken about a year old, cut up as for frying, cover with cold water, heat quickly to the boiling point, then let simmer until tender. Strain off the broth through a double cloth. Season with salt and pepper and set aside to chill and use. Two stalks of celery and one onion may be added to the fowl while cooking.

Molded Custard.
Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold milk. Make a custard with three egg yolks, one-third of a cupful of sugar, a pint of milk and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add the softened gelatin; stir until dissolved and let cool; add a teaspoonful of vanilla and strain into a mold.

A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so-called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the illa peculiar to women.
