NUMBER 20

High School Notes

The Ione annual football rally was held on the football field last Thursday evening. The fire was lighted at 7:30 and immediately following was yell practice. At eight o'clock the high school students formed the serpentine and gave it in the business section of town. The daring students went through Engelman's pasture and pool hall, the hotel, garage, Cochran's pasture, Swanson's grain office and the halls of the apartment house. They stopped in the camping grounds and gave some high school yells and then returned to the bon fire. The two coaches, Mr. Tucker and Mr. Croissant, captain of the football team, Edmund Bristow, and others gave speeches following which every one returned to their respective homes.

A party was held at the high school last Friday night for the winners of the Country Gentleman contest. It was given in the form of an athletic fun fest which consisted of contests between the three divisions, the reds, oranges and greens. After the games refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and chocolate were served.

Dean Eckberry of North Powder, Oregon, enrolled in the junior class last week. The boys were especially glad to have him enter school here, as they are greatly in need of some more huskies on the football team.

Gertrude Pettyjohn of Morgan enrolled as a freshman, Monday.

Elmer Swanson Injured

Elmer Swanson, eight year old son of C. W. Swanson, was quite severely injured when he was thrown from a horse, Sunday afternoon. While playing at the M. R. Morgan farm he got on a horse belonging to Johnny Eubanks. The horse ran away with him, turning in at the Eubanks place, and when crossing the bridge it stumbled and fell throwing Elmer over its head. His leg caught on a nail sticking up in the planking of the bridge and a bad gash was cut just above the knee.

The wound was dressed by Dr. Walker, twenty-one stitches being necessary to close it. At this writing Elmer is reported to be getting along fine.

Windsor Castle News

Windsor Castle, Rock Creek Hills, Twentysix miles So. of Ione. October 15, 1924.

Dear Editor:

Everything is pretty much O. K. out here, only we need rain. The farmers have been rolling along seeding, rain or no rain; Drake, Lovgren, Beck, Davidson, Scrivner, Stewart, all the big ranches.

The old Idea schoolhouse has been torn down and a brand new one built. The old one was used to build a stable for the pupils' saddle horses. We now have the noblest schoolhouse in Gilliam county. The builder was Mr. Joe Lenger of Condon. School started last Monday with Miss Gladys M. Brown of Condon, as teacher. Miss Brown is a graduate of the Oregon State Normal School at Monmouth. She makes her home with Mrs. Henry Stewart during the term. Look out young fellers or you will get your hearts busted for she is some handsome lass!

A schoolma'm out here in the hills asked an old fellow if he was a grammarian. "No ma'm," said he, "no ma'm, I am a Missourian. I was born in the grand old state of Missouri." The schoolma'm had a big laugh about it and so did the old Missourian when he was alone. He was talking with the same lady a few days later and she asked him if he ever had the measles. He said, "oh yes, frequently madame, quite frequently." (The old son-of-a-gun). Some of these old foxy grandpas are a whole lot worse than they look, yes, a good deal worse than some of these people who talk about 'em.

Mr. Editor, I have often thought to ask you if you believe in phrenology. If not, I will hav to disagree with you and the disagreement will pain me very much. I think that every bump, hook and crook in a man's head and face means something, if we know how to read them. Not only that but the walk, talk laugh indicate character. I have studied phrenology a little, but enough to convince me beyond the shadow of a doubt that it is straight goods. I was examined by a first class phrenologist several years ago, and had my fortune told too by a long haired, be-whiskered individual who looked like he would be a first class hand to keep around to prevent moonshine from becoming too aged, but he might stagger onto the truth for all that. Both of them handed me several bunches of beautiful flowers. The phrenologist told me that if I was well educated I would be a writer and speaker second to none, and that I was a natural trail blazer and leader of men. Well I have never led any men yet, but I have blazed a few trails, and the education part, I know, is the one thing needful with me. I have grieved, fretted and lamented for years about being so poorly educated but after reading about the thousands of American soldiers in the World War who could neither read nor write, I feel pretty highly educated after all.

The fortune teller told me that I would live to be 104 years old and would be married four times, but I could not get him to tell me what disposition I would make of all those women. He said it was best not to know. I suppose I will talk the first two to death before I learn better, and the next on I imagine,

I will feed so well on spuds and meal That she'll run away with Pat O'Neal.
