FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The Green Mountain Boys and "Old Ti"

Although an accident of geography placed Ticonderoga upon the soil of New York, Vermont, through the deeds of her "Green Mountain Boys" has an equal claim with her neighbor upon its stirring history. There, John Stark, a colonial captain fighting with the British against the French, showed the military qualities which later made him the hero of Bennington. There, too, Robert Rogers from "the New Hampshire Grants" (the land which later became Vermont) had many escape with his Rangers. But it was at the outbreak of the Revolution that Vermont came in with her strongest claim to Ticonderoga as a part of her history. There at the dawn of May 10, 1775, Ethan Allen and his "Green Mountain Boys" won their deathless fame when they took possession of the old French fort "in the name of Jehovah and the Continental Congress!" But if Ticonderoga was the scene of a Vermont triumph, it must also be recorded that it came very near being the scene of a great disgrace for her. For it was within the walls of the fort that the traitorous negotiations between the British and some of her leaders, disaffected because of unwarlike honors, were carried on and they, and through them, Vermont, narrowly escaped the shame which sullied the fame of Conway and Charles Lee, and engulfed Benedict Arnold.

The complete history of Ticonderoga would fill volumes. It begins away back in 1690 with Samuel Champlain, who fought the Iroquois on a narrow cape in Lake Champlain, called Cheondaraga or Ticonderoga, "between two lakes," and for the next 150 years this spot was the scene of battles. In 1755 the French began building a fort on this promontory, and named it Fort Vaudreuil, in honor of the governor of Canada. It was later called Fort Carillon, but it is best known as Fort Ticonderoga, or "Old Ti."

After the Revolution Ticonderoga fell into decay, but through the patriotic efforts of the Pell family, which, in 1818, obtained title to the land upon which the fort stood, it has been partly restored and today it is visited by thousands as one of our most interesting historic shrines. (See 1924 Western Newswoman Edition.)

Suspicious
 Russell (looking for work)—Where is the proprietor of this restaurant?
 Walter—He's gone out to lunch.

Welcome the Glad Day
 Ah! When shall all men's good be each man's rule, and universal peace be like a shaft of light across the land?—Tennyson.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

The Talk of the Town

WHAT?

That still in Bullard's window.

School opens the eighth of September, remember, and don't forget that all school books are cash. Read Mason's Ady. for the terms of exchange on old books.

Up to date 27 cars of wheat have been shipped out of Ione by the Inbepnant Warehouse Co.

Prof. Glenn Boroughs has accepted a position on the faculty of the State teachers college at Kirksville, Mo.

The school maintains a four year course and is conducted on a quarterly basis, 12 months in a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Boroughs will leave Ione next Tuesday.

Mrs. Boroughs will go on to St. Louis Mo. where she will visit her relatives whom she has not seen for 3 years.

Our best wishes go with them.

Mr. Jones, the watermelon man, of Irrigon, had the misfortune to be crowded off the highway last Monday and sustained a broken leg when the truckload of melons he was driving was overturned.

Mr. Thos. Grabbill has been elected Janitor of the school house for the coming year.

As we go to press the contract for the transportation of the school children from the Cool place to Ione has not been awarded yet.

W. E. Bullard has returned from Hood River and has mounted guard over his still.

Perry Hopkins, the fame of whose exploits in the domain of barnyard gulf, rings from one end of Willow Creek to the other, is still ready to meet all comers.

Parliament Lodgings

WHAT HE KNEW

The guide baited her hook and tossed it into the water. The fair angler rewarded him with a smile and inquired: "I suppose you understand all about fish?"

The guide considered this question in all its aspects before he replied slowly, "No, I wouldn't go so far as to say that. I know only 1,978 reasons why they don't bite."

Lady Jurors Show Mercy

"Ladies and gentlemen of the jury," began the attorney for the defense, "can you look upon the prisoner's tear-stained face and not take pity on her?"

And all six of the ladies on the jury did take pity on her and offered her their cosmetics.—Western Christian Advocate.

EXPLAINING

Little Bobby—What's the difference between matrimony and patrimony?

Professor Letterkink—The words are derived from the Latin. Mater, meaning mother and pater, father. Thus, patrimony is supplied by the father while matrimony is promoted by the mother.

She Loved Dogs

"How I love dogs!" the maiden cried. And when her suitor softly sighed: "I wish I were a dog, you know—"

"Oh, well," she said, "perhaps you'll grow."
