IONE, OREGON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1925

NUMBER 21

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Mrs. J. Lagarde of Belmont, California was in Ione this week, looking after her farm property. Before returning to her home in the Golden State she called at the Independent office and renewed her subscription.

Dr. Haylor, eye Eye Specialist of Portland will be in Heppner, October 23 and 24.

Anyone in need of the services of an expert landscape gardener will do well to consult John Louy. Mr. Louy has been expending his artistic skill and muscular energy on the grounds around the Chateau de Louy with the result that they now shine like the proverbial nigger's heel.

John not only has artistic sense and technical skill at his command but he has a sure death recipe for salt grass extermination. We understand that Mr. Louy is ready to communicate the formula of the great exterminator recipe to any who may be interested. The formula is free but demonstrations will be charged for at legal rates.

Registrar Spencer of the State University says that all indications point to the largest freshman class and the biggest total enrollment in the history of the University during the college year 1925-26.

Reports from Cravalls say that Earl Blake of Ione is one of the 35 veterans reporting for band practice. Fifty-two new men have tried out for the band. Capt. H. L. Beard, director of the cadet band says that it is the first time in his many years of directing the college band that he has had so large a number of good musicians at one time.

Boost the Bank that Boosts HOME INTERESTS

When it comes to a choice between home folks and outsiders home folks come first. Isn't that the way you feel about it?
This is a home institution. We are working for the good of our community, for the prosperity and development of this section, and for the individual welfare of our friends and neighbors. That has always been our policy and always will be our policy.

For that reason we like to see the money that is earned here, spent here and circulated here for the benefit of local interests.

The resources of this bank represent the deposits of those who transact business with us. And the more use they make of our facilities and the more they cooperate with us the greater service we are enabled to render them in return.
