No one can be perfectly free till all are free, no one can be perfectly moral till all are moral, no one can be perfectly happy till all are happy.

—Herbert Spencer

TO A WATER FOWL

Whither, midst falling dew, While glow the heavens with the last steps of day, Far, through their rosy depths, dost thou pursue Thy solitary way.
Vainly the fowler's eye Might mark thy distant flight to do the wrong,
As, darkly limned upon the crimson sky,

Thy figure floats along.
Seek'st thou the plashy brink Of weedy lake, or marge of river wide?

Or where the rocking billows rise and sink
On the chafed ocean's side?

There is a power whose care Teaches thy way along that path-less coast,— The deser and illimitable air,— Lone wandering, but not lost.

All day thy wings have fanned At that far height, the cold, thin atmosphere!

Yet stoop not, weary to the welcome land Though the dark night is near.

And soon that toil shall end; Soon shalt thou find a summer home, and rest.

And scream among thy fellows; reeds shall bend,
Soon o'er thy sheltered nest.

He who, from zone to zone, Guides through the boundless sky thy certain flight, In the long way that I must tread alone,
Will lead my steps aright.

—William Cullen Bryant

A STEP TOWARD PEACE

One step and a long one toward permanent world peace or at any rate between civilized nations would be the prohibition of the private manufacture of traffic in war material, particular explosives and fire arms of every description and caliber.

Behind the struggle in the Riff the insurrection in Syria, civil war in China and perential revolution in Latin America may be seen the colossal figures of the private munition and arms facories of England, France, Germany and the United States. These peoples manufacture no modern arms and are unable to do so, but as matters stand now the whole world is their arsenal and munition factory as long as they have a dollar in hand or a chance of success.

Make the manufacture of War like material a governmental monopoly and prohibit all sale on any pretext whatever and we will not only render the unregenerate and uncivilized heathen, but will have eliminated from the council board and legislative halls of every civilized country a silent but insidious and powerful influence that stives to press every dispute between the nations to the point of armed conflict in order that the coffers of private makers of war material may be lined with the red gold of Carnage.

Russia is coming back to booze.
Thus far this seems to be the only come-back shes been able to stage. Manila Bulletin.

MEN'S DRESS
By
W. A. Churchill, Secretary
BORN TAILORS GUILD

The Effect of Good Dressing

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN appeared at the French court dressed like an ordinary farmer. The treaty of alliance between the united colonies and France was signed against a most sumptuous background of gorgeously dressed courtiers in satin breeches, gold-braided coats, buckled slippers and powdered wigs. The king was there in all his regal splendor. The assembly room was bedecked with the most lavish brilliance of the period.

And in the midst of all this splendor stood the American envoy in his faded old brown suit and holding a shabby, fur cap in his hands. This incongruous appearance was taken, both at home and abroad, as being representative of American simplicity and democracy, but nothing could be further from the facts.
Franklin had, it was afterward learned, ordered a suitable court costume from his tailor, one that would enable him to take his place with satisfaction among the diplomats and nobles of Europe.
But the costume was not finished in time.
The effect of proper dressing is just as great upon a man as it is with women. It gives him a self-confidence and self-esteem that is not gained in any other way. The very fact that some men tend to be careless and negligent about their clothes gives an added asset to the man who does know what to wear and when to wear it.

The American citizen of today demands a higher standard of tailoring and appearance than ever before. Each year has brought an increased fastidiousness among men. Starting with a well-tailored custom-made suit, the 1925 man selects shoes and socks a few shades darker, a hat that will tone with but not match the suit and a tie that affords a pleasing but not pronounced contrast. He looks well, he knows it and is in keeping with the slogan, "dressed to succeed."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
BEN MORGAN AND FAMILY LEAVING FOR CHENEY, WASHINGTON.

On Monday evening an informal reception was rendered Ben Morgan and family, the occasion being their departure from Morgan to a new home at Cheney Wash. Those present enjoyed a social evening in conversation and games.

Refreshments were served at the close and all joined in wishing the best of every thing for Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and children in their new home.

THE WAR CRY
We are in receipt of the War Cry, the organ of the Salvation Army, for Nov. 21. This particular member features the work of the Portland Advisory Board but is further more packed with information and inspiration.

The War Cry goes to 81 Counties and colonies of the world in the Salvation Army is administering relief and preaching the gospel. This message from Oregon will circle the globe.

Correction of last weeks Ione Independent regarding my leaving. I am leaving to be gone till about March and leaving Mr. M.
E. Cotter and Mr. L. L. Funk in charge of the Garage. All work will have the same care and accuracy of workmanship as though I were home. All trade will be greatly appreciated by myself and those in charge of the shop.
I. R. Robison

*Progress
"And how long have you been at this work?" the prison visitor asked.
"Oh, just long enough to get the hang of it," the new executioner replied.

Justice Hopkins of the Kansas supreme court in a recent speech said that the dry fight in Kansas dates back to 1885 when the territorial legislature prohibited the sale of liquor to the Indians. The judge pointed out in 1843 the provisonal legislature of Oregon passed a law preventing the bringin of alcohol beverages. The same session of the legislature also prohibited the bringing of slaves to Oregon. East Oregonian

Disappointing
The pumpkin is most fair in see.
For yellow luster you can't beat it; Perhaps that's why it seems to be A "gold brick" when you try to eat it.

Horrors
"No, I told you I don't care for any coffee. That was the cause of my father's death."
"Coffee killing anyone, how come?"
"Five hundred pounds fell on his head."—Colgate Banter.

Bible Thoughts for the Week

Sunday.
Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.—Prov. 14:34.

Monday.
Then Shall Ye Call Upon Me and ye shall go and pray unto Me, and I will hearken unto you.
Jer. 29:12.

Tuesday.
He That Passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.—Prov. 26:17.

Wednesday.
For the Lord God is a Sun and a shield: the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly.—Ps. 84:11.

Thursday.
Fear the Lord, and serve Him in truth with all your heart; for consider how great things He hath done for you.—1 Sam.
12:24.

Friday.
Thy Sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy noon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.—Isa. 60:20.

Saturday.
The Wolf Also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fattling together: and a little child shall lead them.—Isa. 11:6.

Too Much Catnip
Pussy—Why do you suppose Miss Mouser makes such catty remarks?
Tabby—She eats too much catnip.
