AMERICAN LEGION TROPHY

Portland, Ore. July 2.

"To that Post of the American Legion that has accomplished the most outstanding achievement in community service during the year 1925", is the basis for the award of a handsome bronze statue which will be presented at the American Legion Convention at Coos Bay, August 7th.

This Annual trophy is offered as a perpetual award to be given for each year by the Legion Posts of the State. It is the gift to the American Legion of Philip L. Jackson, publisher of the Oregon Journal and is offered in memory of his father, founder of that newspaper, and will be known as the Sam Jackson Memorial trophy.

The award at Coos Bay will be made to the Post which has contributed most to the benefit of its local community during 1925. Such records of achievement must be attested to by the Mayor of the city, Post Commander and Post Adjutant in which the Post is located.

There is keen rivalry already exhibited for this splendid award, many Legion organizations have thrown their hats into the ring pointing to such accomplishments as the construction of a community swimming pool, donation of a public ambulance; improvement of play grounds etc.

LOCAL NEWS

Ione merchants have agreed to close shop on Monday, July 5, and many expect to leave Saturday evening and Sunday for Ukiah, Lehman Springs and other points in the mountains to spend the 4th.

The streets of Ione, designated for improvement are being watered this week in preparation for operation of a scarifier.

That redoubtable knight, Bill Windsor, has betaken himself to the harvest field. Before leaving he dropped in on the editor to say that if he were running a newspaper he would keep his eye on the old line mule and let the dust fly where it would.

Altho harvest has scarcely begun, wheat is already pouring into the warehouses and elevators and a number of carloads have been shipped to tide water.

The Independent Warehouse reports receipts of 2000 sacks and the shipment of 4 cars.

They do say that a number of our local base ball fans journeyed to Heppner last Sunday and witnessed a stirring exhibition. At any rate the boys were considerably stirred up when they got back. Bert Mason has been vainly seeking a way of escape from the wrath to come. He thinks now that he may be able to achieve a sufficient degree of restoration to grace to enable him to make a personal tender of his taxes in safety. The way of the transgressor is hard.

Safety Razor blades. We stock every standard make.

BULLARD'S PHARMACY

Jason Biddle got tangled up with some barbed wire and a wild horse with the result that Dr. Mc Murdo found it necessary to take nine stitches to close the gash made in the back of Mr Biddle's neck by the wire. While Mr. Biddle suffers considerable discomfort and inconvenience, no serious consequences are anticipated.

Painters and decorators have been at work on the Union Pacific Railway station for the last few days and it now sparkles like a jewel in the crown of the queen of Sheba.

Link Yocum, who dislocated his left hip in an accident on the Geo. White ranch at Lexington, was operated on Friday by Dr. Johnston at the Morrow General Hospital. The dislocation was reduced under a general anesthetic. Link will have to keep a weight tied to his leg for three or four weeks and will be laid up for six weeks.

Mrs. Perry Bartlemay is now at the Good Samaritan Hospital, in Portland.

Miss Rosetta Fletcher of Ione was operated on last Friday at the Morrow General Hospital by Dr. Johnston for an abscessed appendix.

New wheat is beginning to arrive at the Farmers' Elevator warehouse. Receipts so far total 1000 sacks.

Mrs. Sam Warfield, of Ione, was operated on Monday at the Morrow General Hospital by Dr. Johnston.

Mr. John Montgomery is registered at the Hotel Ione this week.

Elbert Cox of Heppner was operated on Wednesday at the Morrow General Hospital, by Dr. Johnston, for hernia. The operation was done under local anesthesia.

LEXINGTON NEWS

Mrs. E. J. Evans with her son Lewellyn and her daughter Guen dolyne, arrived last week from Spokane to be with Mr. Evans on Blackhorse, during the summer. The children have attended school in Spokane during the past season.

Sunday School members of the Congregational Church plan to spend next Sunday in the mountains above Heppner. They will enjoy a basket dinner and expect a large number to be able to make the drive.

Several ranchers in our vicinity are looking for men to assist in the harvest which is now in progress. Wheat is better than many expected.

Mr. Smith Towne drove in from Spokane recently. He is now busy at the Warner ranch but expects later to be at the Farmers' Warehouse.

Miss Velle Ward is at home from Salem for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Ola Ward.

Mrs. Eva Lane left last week for Salem where she expects to conduct a boarding house.

Campers at the local yard were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lake of Seattle. They were traveling for Mrs. Lake's health.

Wayne Schriver arrived by auto last Thursday from Kings Valley to stay for a time with Mrs. Schriver and the children who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Cox.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schriver who has been quite ill is now much better.

Lexington business houses are to be closed on Saturday which is to be observed as the Fourth.
