91ST DIVISION MEMORIAL BEGUN

Tacoma, Wash.—The 91st division returned to its old training grounds at Camp Lewis near here Sunday to break ground for a fitting memorial to those who didn't come back from over seas.

On the same field where the 25,000 members of the division assembled nine years ago as raw recruits and where they were whipped into shape to form a mighty fighting unit there will rise a great memorial stadium and arch.

Former members of the division from all parts of the west and notables in civil life attended the ceremonies.

E. K. Murray of Tacoma, new president of the 91st Division association, gave one year as the time limit in which it is hoped to complete the memorial. Each state which contributed men to the division will construct a section of the stadium, the memorial arch at the entrance will be taken care of in part by the $35,000 donation of Major Frank McDermott of Seattle.

The ground for the memorial was broken by three wounded veterans of the division, Louis Burns, William Read and James B. Reese, the former totally blind.

SCHOOL NOTES

By the Sophomores.

The pictures that were taken have been received. They are good though they show the effects of a strong Eastern Oregon wind.

Books have been ordered for a school play to be given Nov. 19th. This a farcical three act comedy entitled, "A Full House." The play cast of fourteen characters is to be selected from the entire high school.

The Sophomore English Class has been studying verbs this past week. We have written verbs, thought verbs and dreamed about verbs until we have even believed that we were verbs ourselves.

The following rhyme exactly expresses the sentiment of the class.

I'd like to be a could-be
If I could not be an are.
For a could be is a may-be
With a chance of touching par
I'd rather be a has-been
Than a might have-been by far,
For a might- have been has never been,
But a has been was an are.

SEED RYE FOR SALE
Also hot water tank and sink.
ALL A L.

"Lexington Hi News"

The first Student Body meeting of the year was called to order last Monday by Vice President Elmo Nolan. The purpose was to elect officers for the following year. The following named officers were chosen:

Elmo Nolan, president; Mable Wrightt, vice president; Edward Keller, secretary; Leonard Mc Millan, treasurer; James Leach, sergeant at arms; Eulah Mc Millan, reporter; Vestea Lane and Eva Padberg, yell leaders.

A reception was held in the gym for the purpose of getting acquainted with the teachers and new scholars. They were entertained with a short programme, after which light refreshments were served.

A general assembly is held every Monday morning in the High School Auditorium. Each grade takes its turn furnishing the entertainment.

The upper classmen are preparing a reception for the freshmen next Friday evening. The Freshies are requested to come in their old clothes and leave their high airs and haughty ways at home.
