SCHOOL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL PLANS BIG TIME.

LOTS OF FUN FOR EVERYONE!

On March 5th, the high school invites you and all your friends to the gym, to have some fun. The first part of the evening will be given to a "Hi Jinx" program by the grade school and the high school. Then comes a basket social! You know all about that! Heaps of pretty baskets and the excitement of bidding for your sweetie's basket! "Let's see. Did she say pink or purple?"

There'll be other amusements too! Remember this will be on Sat. night — the one evening of the week when everyone can jar loose from work and have a good time.

Don't forget the date — Mar. 5th. Admission to program 10 cents.

PRIMARY ROOM NOTES

By STUART RANKIN

There were nine boys and girls out of our room last Friday on account of flue.

Mrs. Bergvin was here last Friday to visit us.

Abraham Lincoln and George Washington have their birthdays in February. We are learning about their lives when they were little boys.

Mrs. Cochran says she might have some boys and girls as good as Washington and Lincoln.

Mrs. Bullard was here Tuesday with her little boy.

Spring is coming because we have been playing baseball.

We learned a health poem this week. Here it is:

Wee Willie Winkle
Ran through the town,
Upstairs dounstairs
In his night gown,
Tapping on the windows,
Oh how loud he cried—
"Children when you go to bed,
Open windows wide."

SENIOR JINGLES

The hills are of the darkest brown

And it is but a day
Since the were all of snowy white

With skies above so grey

The streets are of the slickest mud

If you but chance to look
The cause will soon be found to be

It is a good Chinook.

Katheryn Feldman

On winter days when it is cold
And it just snows and snows
My brother Bill and I pretend
That we are Eskimos.

Ruth Swansen.

I planted it in early spring
I hoped that it would grow
I worked with it as carefully
I even used a hoe.

The green first grew and grew
and grew

But withered in the fall

Now what it was I thought you knew

An Irish spud, thats all.

Katheryn Feldman.

A boy was standing near the curb

A car came roaring by

A piece of mud flew from the wheel

And hit him in the eye.

George Ritchie

One day the teacher drove the car,

It was a funny sight.

She made a lot of crooked tracks,

And gave herself a fright,

She ran into a chicken yard,
And hit an old red hen

And when Pat came along she said,

"I'll never drive again."

Mary Grabill.

5th. and 6th. Grade Notes

The sixth grade lost a member Feb. 7 when Beulah Agee moved to the country. The members of the 5th. and 6th. grades gave a farewell shower for her. Many nies gifts were given.

All of the sixth grade was absent from school last week except Inez Adamson.

The fifth and sixth grades had their tryout for declamatory contest on Thursday.

Claud Brashears was absent on Monday and had to wait until Tuesday for his Valentines.

There were many Valentines exchanged in the 5th. and 6th. grade room.

GET TOGETHER MEETING

Hall of Willow Lodge.
Wednesday eve., Feb. 23rd.

All Odd Fellows and Rebeccas of Morrow County cordially invited.
LUNCH. PROGRAM.

Seek Synthetic Rubber

The Amazon district of Brazil is the great rubber-producing country of the world, for more than half of the total supply comes from there. The federated Malay states, the Congo region, Portuguese West Africa, the east coast of tropical Africa, Hangoon, Penang, Borneo and Mexico, the West Indies and Central America are the other rubber-producing districts. About one-tenth of the total yield comes from the Congo.

The rapidly increasing cost of the article has aroused experimenters, who have produced substances that have some of the qualities of rubber. It is not improbable that they may ultimately succeed, as the chemists did in producing artificial indigo, in making real rubber by synthesis.

Columbus Promised Much

In a letter to Columbus on the discovery of America, facsimile edition, 1892, of the four Latin editions belonging to the Lenox library, is the following passage: "Finally, that I may compress in a few words the brief account of our departure and quick return, and the gain, I promise this that if I am supported by our most invincible sovereigns with a little of their help, as much gold can be supplied as they will need, indeed, a much of spices, of cotton, of chewing gum (which is only found in China) also as much of alwood, and as many slaves for the navy of their majesties will wish to demand." The date of this letter is March 14, 1493—more than 400 years ago.

Precocious Children

Dante wrote a sonnet to his Beatrice at nine years; Tasso wrote poetry at ten, and Pascal was a profound thinker at the age of thirteen. Jonathan Edwards was famous at twelve. Goethe wrote a story in seven languages when he was ten; Voltaire was busy as a writer at thirteen, and Calderon was writing poetry at the same age.

Victor Hugo composed "Istamene" at fifteen, and by the time he was twenty had published four of his volumes. Pope wrote his ode to "Solitude" at twelve, and his "Pastorals" four years later. Moore translated "Anacron" at thirteen, and Byron was already writing verses at twelve, and by the time he was eighteen years of age he had published his "Hours of Idleness."

Always Polite

The manager of the isolated factory had received a letter from a woman stating that her husband, who worked in the factory, had sent her no money for weeks and weeks.

So the manager, a kindly man, sent for the delinquent there and then.

"Jackson," he said, when the man made his appearance, "do you ever send your wife anything when you write?"

"Oh, yes, sir," answered the other, brightly, "always my kindest regards."

Listen in at Biz's

On Washington's birthday, Feb. 22nd., at 9:00 A. M. Biz, Engleman will place his power speaker on the street in front of his place of business so that all who feel inclined may listen to the president's speech. Biz has a power speaker which he uses in connection with his radio. This speaker is loud enough so every one will be able to hear.
