

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwiniski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grand-children, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

Knew Not What He Ate

A Mexican and an American who worked on the night shift of a Kansas salt plant ate their midnight lunch together. On several occasions the Mexican had rabbit meat in his pail, and he shared his supply with his comrade. "Where do you get rabbits, Jose?" the American asked one night. "I can't find any."

"My wife she get 'em," Jose replied. "She said ever' night they come round house and make noise. She shoot 'em."

"Noise? Rabbits don't make noise." "Sure," Jose asserted positively. "Go meow, meow."—Exchange.

"In-Laws"

Husband (driving his car past a farmer's span of mules which happened to bray at that moment)—Relatives of yours, I suppose.

Wife (smiling sweetly)—Yes, by marriage.

Estopped

"Well, if the fish was as big as all that, why didn't you weigh it?" "I could find no hay scales."

Aching, Swollen Feet

Money Back If Emerald Oil Doesn't Do Away With All Soreness, Swelling and Distress in 24 Hours. One Bottle Proves It.

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense agonizing throbbing foot pains when every well stocked drug store has Moore's Emerald Oil and sells it with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And best of all any offensive odor is gone for good—it's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Never "Talk Back" to This Texas Policeman

Cities everywhere have their silent policemen, but they are made of stone or marble or granite. Coleman, Texas, has a silent policeman in human flesh—Itush Johnigan, fifty-year-old deaf-mute, who weighs 180 pounds, stands erect, dresses well and wears a Texas ten-gallon hat.

For seven years Johnigan has served Coleman efficiently, says the American Magazine, equipped with a '45 automatic, which he has never yet had occasion to use. Generally a tap on the back is enough to cause a law-breaker to yield to this officer, who never argues the case out of court.

Johnigan is on motor vehicle duty and has had dealings with tourists from every state in the Union. Sometimes the transgressor attempts to argue the question with him, but when he discovers he is in custody of one who can neither hear nor speak he stops talking and goes to the judge to tell it.

A New Way to Make Jellies

Without Staining Fingers—Without Long Hours of Boiling—Without Depending Upon Berries or Fruit Being in Season.

One of the most interesting and yet one of the simplest new products in the food field is called minute jelly. It is pure fruit or berry juice already boiled down and concentrated. To this concentrated juice, fruit pectin in the right amount has been added. The pectin is that part of fruit which makes jelly "jell." It is as pure and wholesome as the fruit juice.

To make the jelly take the little bottle of concentrated juice, pour in a sauce pan, add water and sugar according to directions on the bottle and boil a few minutes. Then pour into jelly glasses and when it has become cold you have the most delicious pure fruit jelly you ever tasted.

A few bottles kept on hand, selected according to your taste for jellies, and you can make up a few glasses just as you want it. One small bottle makes two glasses of jelly. If you wish to try two bottles send us twenty-five cents and we will give you your choice of grape, mint, pineapple, orange, raspberry, strawberry or blackberry. Or four bottles—all different—for fifty cents. Address Department WU, General Packing Corp., Cranford, New Jersey.—Adv.

Comedy Captions

A prize competition in the London Saturday Review, set by Princess Bibesco, called for humorous lines such as appear on the funny films. We select a few of those elicited:

"The only man who was not spoiled by being lionized was Daniel."

"He suffered severely from cold feet, but they were not his own."

"I left her in the Grand Canyon trying to get the last word with an echo."

"It was a town so full of lawyers that they changed the hotel's name to 'Writs.'"

"It was the sort of street in which Cupid shot only with Pierce Arrows."—Boston Transcript.

Rich Man Seeks Dole

Although he had a private income of $1,250 a year and owned nearly $30,000 in gilt-edged securities, John Boomer, a cabinet-maker of Belfast, thought that as he was not working he should receive a government dole for the unemployed. The judge questioned his theory and fined him $125 for attempting to defraud the government.

Ancient Hebrew Pottery

The Mishap expedition of the Pacific school of religion, has discovered a rich store of israelite pottery. Prof. William Bode, leader of the expedition, has decided to continue the work of excavation. Near the ancient Semitic temple at Tel-en-anshen two closed cisterns, hewn out of the bed rock, were found by the scientists. The governor of Jerusalem, recognizing the importance of the discovery, accepted an invitation to open the cisterns immediately. They were found to contain many fine specimens of pottery. Several forms of the pottery are entirely new to ceramics in the Near East.
