Tree's Elms and Vines

Largest pine in a particularly valuable tree for farm plantations in many parts of the north because of its capacity to grow in the poorest and driest sandy types of land. It will grow on the driest hills as well as on wet lands, and with that product of timber and turpentine often may convert such lands from an economic liability into an asset.

Superior Drills. The name tells the story. P. G. Balsiger.

A GRAY MOOD

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

As we hurry away to the end, my friend,
Of this sad little farce called existence,
We are sure that the future will bring one thing,
And that is the grave in the distance.
And so when our lives run along all wrong,
And nothing seems real or certain,
We can comfort ourselves with the thought (or not)
Of that specter behind the curtain.
But we haven't much time to whine or repine,
Or to wound or jostle each other;
And the hour for us each is today I say,
If we mean to assist a brother.
And there is no pleasure that earth gives birth'
But the worry it brings is double;
And all that repays for the strife of life,
Is helping some soul in trouble.
This world is a vaporous jest at best,
Tossed off by the gods in laughter;
And a cruel attempt at wit were it,
If nothing better came after.

PACIFIC LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

WOOL AND MOHAIR GROWERS TO COMPETE FOR PRIZES

A new feature of the Pacific International Live Stock Exposition to be held at Portland, Ore., on October 29 to Nov. 5, is the Pacific International Wool Show. This exhibit will be held under the auspices of the Pacific Co-operative Wool Growers, with C. E. Grelle, member of that Association and director of the Pacific International, in direct charge.

This show is open to every wool and mohair grower, whether a member of the wool growers association or not. All growers will receive the same consideration, announces Mr. Grelle.

Rules and shipping tags may be secured by writing to the Pacific Co-operative Wool Growers, 461 Davis St., Portland, Ore. Fleeces may be sent to their warehouse at any time, where they will be taken care of and held for the show.

"This is a real opportunity for wool and mohair growers to have their clips judged by the leading experts of the West, and to carry home some prize money and valuable trophies."

Cash prizes, ribbons, and in some cases, silver trophies, will be awarded best fleeces in the various classifications. The cash prizes will vary from $3.00 to $15.00 for first place, depending on the number of entries.

From the large number of entries already received, the event promises to be the largest and most interesting wool show held in the West, according to those in charge.

See Bristow and Johnson for that new suit or overcoat. Nifty patterns, guaranteed fit and a price that's right. Samples now on display.

Nothing New

Fourth news item says society has gone in for a new hobby, sex collecting. The first was started some time ago by our doc.—Tampa Tribune.

Tools of Housekeeping

One of the surviving tools of an old-fashioned housewife is the scrub brush. It is still used by women to do all their housecleaning with a conscience.—Arkansas Gazette.

First Record of Falls

The Great Falls of the Missouri river, near the present town of Great Falls, were first made known by Lewis and Clark, who arrived there June 13, 1805. The falls possibly had been seen earlier by French trappers, but they made no record of them.

Done and Dough Untouched

We don't believe one rolling pin in a million is ever used by a wife to punish her husband—cartoons to the contrary notwithstanding—but the trouble is they are not used for any thing else, either.—Chickadee Magazine.

Flag Formally Adopted

The flag of the thirteen United States was adopted on June 14, 1777. John Adams introduced the adoption resolution in the Continental congress at Philadelphia and it was unanimously passed and given effect.

Character Disclosed

To be tempted to give and hold the rebellious tongue to give to him in the temptations of the world is the mark of a good breed. It is also the indication of a good character.—Exchange.

Many Crude Oil Products

The total number of oil products that are taken from a barrel is estimated at nearly 500. And there is a possibility that still more may be evolved by new "cracking" distilling and refining methods.
