OUR CONGRESSMAN HERE

Hon. N. J. Sinnot was in Ione Wednesday and paid the Independent office a call. Representative Sinnot is following his established custom of visiting every part of his district during the long recess.

This is no small job as will be seen here, we consider that single counties in Representative Sinnot's district embrace a greater area than some entire states of the Union.

BIG WHEAT TRAIN

Wheat shipping from branch points is going on at a lively rate these days, but so far the largest single train reported was made up last night. Thirty car loads of the golden grain were included in this train when it reached Heppner Junction. Even at this rate, however, it will be several months before all of the 1927 crop is moved to market. A little more active selling is reported this week, the Portland price quotations having gone up several cents with the market steady.

OBITUARY

Celestine Switzer was born in St. Gallen, Switzerland, in 1841 and died of heart failure caused by old age, at the home of her son, Paul Balsiger, in Ione, Oregon on Wednesday, October 5, 1927, after a two weeks illness, being 86 years and three months of age.

She crossed the Ocean to America when only eight years of age, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rietmann, who settled with their family on a farm near Highland, Ill. With them came also Ferdinand Balsiger, then a young man, whom later, when of mature age, she married in 1858.

In 1894 she emigrated with her husband to Oregon, where their

THE MUSIC LAND ENTERTAINERS

The Music Land Entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. William Beck, will present a program of bewitching artistry here on the evening of October 27th, at the Ione high school auditorium. Their entertainment is high class in every particular, featuring vocal and instrumental music that runs from popular balads of the day to the very best among the classics.

In William Beck we have one of the most versatile young artists of the platform. His major work is on cornet and trumpet. He is a gifted artist on three difficult instruments with a fine and splendid technique. He is a banjo artist of real talent, and a character impersonator of unusual gifts. The "slide trumpet" is a popular novelty which always appeals to his audiences.

Vocal duets from popular musical comedy successes will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Beck as incidental groups on their program.

Mrs. Beck is equally gifted in piano and voice, with a most captivating personality. Her costumed groups are always a delightful feature of the Music Land Entertainers' program, and her interpretation of Puccini's "One Fine Day" is a vocal masterpiece. She possesses a lyric soprano of brilliant timbre. Such numbers as McDowell's "Concert Etude" and his "Shadow Dance" will give an idea of her piano accomplishment.

Some of the oil used in lubricating watches, clocks and other delicate instruments is obtained from the head of the porpoise. The better grades of neat's-foot oil are also used similarly.

Spot cash will be paid for eggs at the Ione hotel.

MORROW COUNTY REBEKAH CONVENTION

Meeting Convenes in Heppner Friday, October 21st.

The Rebekahs of Morrow County will hold their annual convention on Friday, October 21st, and an urgent invitation is extended to every resident and visiting Rebekah in the county to be present and enjoy this meeting.

One of the attractive features of the meeting will be the work of the prize winning degree team from the Rebekah lodge at The Dalles, which will be in attendance and which will put on the work.

O. A. C. HOME COMING Coivalis, Oct. 19.—Nolan Page of Ione has been appointed chairman of the committee for decoration on the campus for homecoming. The football game between Washington State college of Pullman, Washington O. A. C. will be a feature of the annual homecoming of O. A. C. alumni and friends, October 29.

Homecoming is somewhat earlier this year than usual. Games later in the season, most of which are on the road, demanded the scheduling of an earlier date for the event.

Dr. Clarke, Eye Sight Specialist, will be in Ione, Monday, Oct. 17, at the Ione Hotel.
