Idleness and pride tax with a heavier land than kings and parliaments. If we can get rid of the former, we may easily bear the latter. —Ben Franklin.

Aged One Thousand Years
The durability of hardwood is excellently illustrated by a redwood log which has recently been cut up into timber in California. This log, which had lain on the ground for a thousand years, as proved by the annual rings in a tree that had grown up astraddle of the log, was cut up into sound and useful lumber within the past few months.

When Lazy Man Is Busy
"A lazy man," said Uncle Eben, "is always industrious once in a while, an 'at's when it comes to fault findin'."
—Washington Star.

Reflection After Rain
At twenty we are willing to do it on the football field, but at sixty we prefer to take our mud baths at Carlsbad. —Boston Transcript.

Lined With Famous Cedar
The Jerusalem chamber of Westminster abbey takes its name from the re-dar wood with which the walls are lined, and which is said to have been brought from Lebanon.

More to the Point
"Will the women dominate the world?" is the question that of late is being asked everywhere. The question is silly. A more sensible question is, "How long have the women been running things?" —Atchison Globe.

Wax Made From Fruit
Japanese wax is a fat, resembling beeswax from the fruit of certain species of Rhus which grow in Japan, especially Rhus succedanea. It consists chiefly of glycerol palmitin.

EASTER
By Alfred E. Randall

The pyramids are built of rock,
The pyramids are high;
In trowning terrace, block on block, Eternally they stand and mock
The years as they go by.

The brooding sphinx is made of stone;
The brooding sphinx old,
The swirling sandstorms that have blown Sink down and whisper by her throne
Their secrets to unfad.

The sphynx and pyramids are doomed;
Time crumbles both to dust.
But stone and rock have ne'er entombed
Those human spirits which have bloomed
In Love's triumphant trust.

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charite, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling combal. —St. Paul

Fatal Defects
Many a man gets "cold feet" before he has gone very far with his undertaking and, strange though it may seem, he finds himself in "hot water." Usually he has failed to "count the cost." —Grit.

Speed It Up
Haste makes waste is an old motto, but it is a lazy one. You've got to hurry these days to keep up. —Atchison Globe.

Jefferson Made Change
The first written Presidential message was read to congress December 8, 1801. It was sent by President Jefferson to the Seventh congress. Prior to this the President had appeared before congress.
